4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserve to themselves the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (ii) at any time without such previous notice :—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 3,200 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiii) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iii) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

(vi) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or, whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vi).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorising the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained ; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 3,200 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether ten lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said ten.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1.—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.

No. 2.—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,
Secretary.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

No. 2856.—The following despatch by His Excellency General Sir Charles Carmichael Monro, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., A.-D.C., General, Commander-in-Chief in India, on the work done in India including the Native States, during the first three years of the war, which appeared in the supplement to the London Gazette, dated the 26th November 1918, is published for general information :—

No. 17445-1.

ARMY HEADQUARTERS, INDIA.
Simla, the 20th August 1918.

FROM

HIS EXCELLENCY GENERAL SIR CHARLES CARMICHAEL MONRO, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., Commander-in-Chief in India,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, ARMY DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

Although the time has not yet arrived for publishing full details regarding the assistance rendered by India towards the prosecution of the war, and though this despatch does not purport to be a complete narrative of India's effort in this respect, I have the honour to submit in continuation of my despatches of the 9th March 1916 and 23rd July 1917 which dealt with minor operations, a brief account of the work done in India, including the Native States, during the first three years of the war.

2. The declaration of war, on the 4th August 1914, found the Army in India distributed to meet normal hot weather conditions. The bulk of the British troops were temporarily located in the hills, a large percentage of the Indian troops were on furlough and the usual proportion of civil and military officers were on leave out of India. Immediate steps were taken for the despatch of expeditionary forces overseas. The first convoy sailed for France on the 25th August 1914 and it was followed at a few days' interval by others, conveying troops not only to Europe but also to East Africa, Egypt and Mesopotamia.

3. In order to meet the urgent demand for trained soldiers which arose during the winter of 1914-15, the British forces in India were further depleted by the despatch to England of a number of Regular units, so that, by the beginning of 1915, the British garrison was largely composed of Territorial troops sent to replace the Regulars withdrawn. Besides providing guns and rifles for the equipping of the New Armies, India lent the services of a large number of officers who were on leave in the United Kingdom when war broke out and were retained there for the training of the newly raised troops and for staff and other duties under the War Office.

4. During 1915, attempts were made by the enemy through various sources to create disaffection in the Indian Army, and provoke internal disorder. These efforts were successfully checked owing to the loyalty of the troops and the prompt assistance rendered by the Indian Police, who displayed great courage and efficiency in the performance of their difficult duties.

5. The necessity for the despatch of large drafts of officers and men overseas to replace wastage in the units fighting in France, Gallipoli, Egypt, Mesopotamia, East Africa, and the Cameroons, caused a very heavy strain on the Indian Army. The substantial assistance rendered at this juncture by the Nepal Durbar, in placing a contingent of their troops at the disposal of the Government of India, proved, therefore, most timely. The Prime Minister of Nepal also placed the services of his son, General Sir Baber Shum Shere Jang Bahadoor Rana, K.C.I.E., at the disposal of my predecessor. The untiring efforts of this officer have been of the greatest assistance, while the Nepalese troops have proved a valuable addition to our strength, and have materially assisted in the task of maintaining order on India's frontiers, notably in connection with the operations in Waziristan in 1917.

6. Meanwhile, the various expeditionary forces dependent on India continued to expand. The force in Mesopotamia, which had originally consisted of one division, had increased considerably. Moreover, owing to Turkish incursions into the Aden hinterland, it had become necessary to increase the Aden garrison so as to ensure the safety of that fortress. In addition, several minor operations had to be undertaken on the North-East and North-West frontiers as well as in Sistan and Waziristan.

7. The maintenance of these forces entailed a heavy drain on India, not only in men but also in munitions, medical equipment, and supplies. To meet these demands, every endeavour was made to develop all available resources. With the assistance of the Railway Board, steps were taken in 1915 to supplement the manufacturing capacity of the ordnance establishments by organizing munition factories in railway and other workshops. These efforts proved so successful that by the end of 1916 the monthly output of shell alone had increased 1,200 per cent. In addition to the manufacture of munitions, the Railway Board assisted in the provision of railway material, river craft and machinery, and in the recruitment of technical personnel.

8. The reorganization of the force in Mesopotamia preparatory to the advance on Baghdad, the development of the port of Basrah, and the provision of a large river flotilla for service on the Tigris, created fresh demands on India necessitating extensive changes in the organization of sources of supply. The Indian Munitions Board was accordingly constituted, and early in 1917 it assumed responsibility for the construction of river craft and the provision of railway material, engineering stores, machinery, tools, timber, textiles, hides and electrical plant, not only for the forces overseas, but also for those serving in India. It subsequently took over the control of the Ordnance, Clothing and Boot Factories and of various industries directly connected with the manufacture of army requirements. These activities were in nowise affected by the decision, arrived at early in 1916, to place the control of operations in Mesopotamia directly under the War Office, and they have continued to expand and develop ever since, entailing constantly increasing demands on the resources of India.

9. At the outbreak of war, several Volunteer units undertook to replace or supplement, for as long as might be necessary, the Regulars in certain garrisons, in which employment they rendered excellent service. The Volunteer Force, as formerly constituted, has since ceased to exist and has been reorganized as the Indian Defence Force. The passing of the Indian Defence Force Act in 1917 rendered military training compulsory for all European British subjects in India between the ages of 16 and 50; thus bringing their military obligations more into line with those required of their fellow citizens in other portions of the Empire. These increased obligations have been accepted in a soldierly and patriotic spirit and officers and men have spared no effort to improve their military training. The efforts made to develop and improve this force have been attended with success and, though only recently constituted, it has attained considerable efficiency.

10. The regimental and departmental recruiting agencies which before the war had sufficed to provide the small numbers required for the maintenance of peace cadres, were found incapable of meeting the increased demands arising from war wastage, the creation of many new units and the recruitment of labour on a considerable scale. The formation of a Central Recruiting Board was accordingly decided on in 1917 and its work has been conspicuously successful. Thanks to the willing assistance rendered by Local Governments, all sources of recruitment have been systematically exploited, with the result that, besides raising recruits for the combatant ranks on a greatly increased scale, large numbers have been enlisted for Indian Labour Corps overseas as well as for various technical services.

11. The sick and wounded despatched to India from oversea theatres of war, as well as those invalided from Waziristan and other theatres of frontier operations, have been adequately and sympathetically cared for. A number of war hospitals have been formed, other hospitals have been expanded and improved, and Ruling Chiefs and others have generously provided hospitals and convalescent homes in Bombay and elsewhere, in which everything possible has been done for the comfort of the sick and wounded. The satisfactory health of the troops, both in the field and in India, affords striking testimony as to the value and efficacy of these measures and the skill, forethought and administrative capacity of the Medical Services.

12. I desire to place on record my high appreciation of the services rendered to the Army in India by Local Governments, Civil Departments and various public bodies such as Railway Administrations, Port Trust and Municipalities, besides many shipping companies and private firms.

13. The help rendered by the Finance Department, and more especially its Military Finance Branch, has been of the highest value and I readily acknowledge the promptitude with which it has met all military demands. The Commerce and Industry Department, including the Railway Board, has rendered valuable aid in respect of railways, shipping and the working of the postal and telegraph services. The Home Department has been most helpful in measures affecting the maintenance of internal security, in encouraging recruitment for the army from the police, and in releasing medical officers in large numbers from civil employment for service with the troops. The Revenue and Agriculture and Public Works Departments have assisted in various ways, the former in the collection of supplies and the latter in the release of officers and subordinates for Army service.

14. My thanks are due to the Foreign and Political Department which has always maintained most cordial relations with the Staff at Army Headquarters ; to the Army Department which has been called upon to deal with a great increase of business and has worked with the Headquarters Staff in the closest co-operation; and lastly to the Marine Department which has been responsible for the fitting out, repair and coaling of numerous transports and hospital ships, and the embarkation and transportation of large numbers of troops who have been conveyed to their destinations overseas with promptitude, comfort and safety.

15. This despatch would not be complete without a special acknowledgment of the spontaneous and generous assistance afforded by Ruling Princes and Chiefs, as well as by the British and Indian communities throughout India, in the contribution of men, money and material towards the prosecution of the war. A similar acknowledgment is due in respect of the services rendered by the Indian Branch of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, the British Red Cross Society, the Imperial Indian Relief Funds, the Provincial War and Relief Funds, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Soldiers and Sailors Families Association, and the various organizations formed in every province to supplement the equipment of hospitals and provide comforts for the troops, in the work of which ladies and gentlemen, both official and non-official, have laboured with conspicuous devotion.

16. A list of those whose services have been of particular value and whose assistance and work I desire to bring specially to notice, forms the subject of Appendix I of this despatch.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

C. C. MONRO, General,
Commander-in-Chief in India.

Head-quarters station on the proposed Dhanbari sub-division.

(a) Have the Government received a representation from the people of North Tangail objecting to the election of Dhanbari as the head-quarters station of the new sub-division proposed for that area? If so, are the facts stated therein as regards the comparative advantages and disadvantages of Pingna and Dhanbari substantially correct?.

(b) Have the Government finally decided to make Dhanbari the head-quarters station of the proposed sub-division? If so, upon what grounds?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The representation, which takes no account of the relative positions of the two places within the sub-division, has been received and considered, and Government still adhere to the view that Dhanbari is better suited to be the head-quarters than any other site which has been proposed, including Pingna.

(b) Yes. The Hon'ble Member is referred to paragraph 9 of the memorandum published on the 16th August, 1917, and to the answer given on the 19th August last to a question asked in this Council by the Hon'ble Babu Brojendra Kishor Ray Chaudhuri."

Timber merchants of Jalpaiguri district.

(a) How many timber merchants are there at Rajabhatkhawa and other places in the district of Jalpaiguri carrying on timber business with the Forest Department; and how long have they been carrying on such business?

(b) Is the timber annually sold direct by the Department by public auction to the higest bidder? If so, how long has this practice been in force?

(c) Is it proposed to supersede this system by farming out the forests either annually or for a term of years to middlemen who will thus stand between the Department and the merchants, who are the actual buyers and dealers in timber?

(d) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of inquiring whether such a change in the system is, or is not, likely to result in loss both to the Government as well as to the merchants who have so far invested large sums of money in this business?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) The exact number cannot be ascertained, but a very considerable number of timber merchants living at Rajabhatkhawa and other places in the district of Jalpaiguri attend auction sales held by the Forest Department for the sale of timber.

(b) Yes. The practice has been in force for 6 or 7 years.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

(Answers to which were laid on the table).

I.

The Manikganj High English School.

(a) Is it a fact that, by certain conditions laid down by Government for the continuance of the grant-in-aid, the public of Manikganj have been deprived of the privilege of having a few elected representatives of their own on the managing committee of the Manikganj High English School?

(b) If so, what are the circumstances that led to the imposition of the said conditions?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table all correspondence between the District Magistrate of Dacca and the Director of Public Instruction on the question of the grant-in-aid to the Manikganj High English School and the new constitution of its managing committee?

(d) How long has the said school enjoyed the grant-in-aid, and at what rates?

(e) How many high English schools at present enjoy the grant-in-aid and in how many of them does the constitution of the managing committee not admit any elected representatives of the public as members thereof, as in the case of the Manikganj school; and for what reasons in each such case?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) The previous managing committee consisted of the Sub-divisional Officer, the Deputy Superintendent of Police, the senior Munsif, the Headmaster, a teachers' representative and five elected non-officials. There was a vacancy in 1917 owing to the resignation of one of the non-official members. On the expiry of the term of office of this committee, the Director of Public Instruction approved of its being re-constituted so as to include the Sub-divisional Officer, the Deputy Superintendent of Police, the senior Munsif, the Deputy Inspector of Schools, the Headmaster, a representative of the teachers, and four non-officials to be chosen by the District Magistrate. It was at the same time laid down that the continuance of the grant-in-aid would be conditional on the acceptance by the school authorities of a committee so reconstituted. The reconstitution was accepted by a majority of the old managing committee in April 1918.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply to clause (a) of unstarred question No. XII.

(c) Government are not prepared to lay the correspondence on the table

(d) It is understood that the school has drawn a grant-in-aid since it became a high school in 1884, but figures for the last century are not available. The school has drawn a grant-in-aid at the following rates during the present century :—

	Per mensem. Rs.
1906-08*	... ...
1908-10	... 110
1911	... 130
1912-14	... 120
1915-17	... 150+15 for medical supervision.

* Figures are not available.

(e) The number is 244. There are two schools of which the managing committees do not contain elected representatives of the public. In one case there is a committee drawn from the family of the founders, proprietors and managers of the school; it is considered to be in the interest of the school to have a committee so constituted. In the other case there was a dispute between two sections of the managers of the schools, and representatives of all parties requested the District Magistrate to appoint the members of the managing committee."

Managing committees of aided schools.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) the reasons for promulgating a new set of grant-in-aid rules and introducing certain provisions therein laying down a rigid constitution for the managing committees of aided schools and generally making for an increased amount of control by the District Magistrates over the management of schools;

(b) whether recognized public bodies, or any non-official educationist or the school committees themselves were consulted in the matter before the promulgation of the said rules;

(c) how many managing committees have been reconstituted in accordance therewith, in what particular school, and in what manner, since the promulgation of the said rules;

(d) whether the said rules permit the Director of Public Instruction or the District Magistrate to dispense wholly with the election of representatives of the public as members of the managing committee of any school, and substitute nominated members therefor? If so, what are the circumstances in which such a step may be taken;

(e) whether the constitution of any managing committee has been altered in the manner indicated above, and the right of the public or subscribers to the school or guardians of the boys to elect their representatives on the managing committee taken away? If so, where and for what reasons; and

(f) whether any representation has been made against such a step in regard to any such school? If so, what is the purport of each such representation and by whom has it been submitted, and what, if any, action has been taken thereon?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) There were formerly different sets of grant-in-aid rules for West Bengal and Eastern Bengal, and, as it was necessary to co-ordinate them and establish uniformity, a new set of rules was approved by Government in February, 1918. The rules regarding the constitution of managing committees, to which the Hon'ble Member refers, were intended to secure the association of the District Officer with the management of secondary aided schools in his district, as well as to ensure the representation of the teaching staff, of parents and guardians of pupils and of founders and benefactors.

(b) The draft rules were circulated for opinion to Commissioners of Divisions and Inspectors of Schools. Full information as to the bodies and persons consulted by them is not available, but it appears that some District Boards, municipalities, secretaries to managing committees and non-official educationists were consulted

(c) The rules in question were revised in September 1918. Up to date of revision, the managing committees of the following 29 schools are reported to have been constituted in accordance with their provisions, viz:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Divisional offices of the Public Works Department and the District Boards and Municipalities generally confine their call for tenders to a limited number of contractors? Mode of calling for tenders by certain offices

(b) Is there any practice for them anywhere to call for tenders in every matter by advertising in the newspapers or otherwise?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) and (b) So far as the Public Works Department is concerned tenders for all large and important works are invited by advertisement in the press and by notices posted in suitable public places Several Divisions maintain lists of known and tried capable contractors who are invited to submit tenders for less important works which are not expected to attract contractors living at a distance. In the case of petty works and repairs the contractors usually employed in the Division are either invited to compete by tender or the works are distributed amongst them, as the majority of the contractors willing to take up petty works and repairs are not sufficiently educated to frame tenders, but are capable of satisfactorily carrying out works at the rates prevalent in the locality.

As regards local bodies the practice is not uniform. As a rule the call for tenders is not confined to a limited number of contractors but is open to all, but in a few District Boards and a number of municipalities the call for tenders is confined to registered contractors : it is also not uncommon for local bodies to offer contracts for petty works to local contractors only.

Tenders are advertised in the newspapers only in the case of large and costly works and the general practice is for notices to be posted in public offices and conspicuous places and sent to contractors and to have announcements made by beat of drum."

(c) Is it the usual practice to keep a Judicial or Executive officer in charge of any particular district for such a long time? If not, why has a deviation been made in the case of Mr. Cargill?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) Six years, approximately, is the longest that any other Judge has been at his present station.

(c) The general policy of Government is to make transfers only when they are necessary in the interests of the public service. "(a), (f) and (g)—The material necessary to answer these questions is not immediately available, and, as its collection would involve the expenditure of an entirely disproportionate amount of time and labour, Government are not prepared to undertake it.

(b) and (c)—The general principles on which the assessment should be based are contained in sections 13 to 15 of the Village-chaukidari Act. The application of these principles rests with the panchayet of each union, and they are to this extent susceptible of variation

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what, if any, departure has been made in policy in this matter, and for what reasons?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) No such complaint has reached the Director of Public Instruction.

(b) Headmasters of secondary schools and local bodies in charge of primary education are authorised to select and prescribe text-books from the approved list.

(c) Formerly the Director of Public Instruction prescribed definite text-books for all schools intending to compete for scholarships, but now the Director of Public Instruction recommends a large number of approved text-books from which such schools can make their choice The change of policy is due to the fact that the number of suitable text-books in each subject is nowadays not so limited as before and it was considered inadvisable to continue a system which conferred exceptional advantages on a small number of authors or publishers."

(c) when the grant-in-aid was first given to the said school, and what has been the constitution of the managing committee since then?

"(a) The school had had a bad record for some years past, and it was considered desirable that the committee should be reconstituted in order to secure better management.

(b) The school was formerly a middle school and was raised to the status of a high school in 1884 through the exertions of the then Sub-divisional Officer of Manikganj Since then it has been managed by the Sub-divisional Officer and a committee of officials and non-officials

(c) The school has enjoyed a grant-in-aid since its foundation. From 1886 to 1906 it was managed by a committee of 22 to 25 members consisting of officials and non-officials. In 1906 the number was limited to ten, of whom two were Government officers, two were Muhammadans, two were pleaders, two were mukhtars, one was a private medical practitioner and one was a merchant. In 1917 the committee consisted of the Sub-divisional Officer, the senior Munsif, the Deputy Superintendent of Police, the Headmaster, a teachers' representative, one pleader, two mukhtars and another private gentleman; there was one vacancy due to the resignation of a pleader. If so, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of the complaints made on each occasion, and whether any inquiries were made thereinto, and the result thereof?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) So far as Government are aware, the question of confirmation was not raised on the expiry of the period of probation and the Headmaster continued to hold his appointment with the concurrence of the Committee, by which he had been appointed.

(c) The Headmaster was appointed by a majority of the votes of the Committee, 5 voting for and 3 against his appointment. It is understood that the minority was of opinion that the Headmaster would be unpopular with the other teachers.

(d) 100, of whom 34 were M.A.'s and 14 had experience as Headmasters of other schools.

The Inspector of Schools made an inquiry, and in regard to the first allegation found that the Headmaster had probably been indiscreet in his remarks. As regards the second allegation, inquiry was made by the Sub-divisional Officer and a member of the Managing Committee, as well as by the Inspector, and 13 boys of the hostel were either rusticated or expelled, and two Superintendents were dismissed. Are the Government aware that Muhammadan religious feelings will be injured if the sacred Trust lands around the mosque dedicated as peerpal lands for the performance of religious rites, etc., be acquired for any other purpose?

Acquisition of certain Trust lands.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" The form of the question is ambiguous.

The acquisition of land which is held sacred injures religious feelings. But the land which is placed in trust with a view that the income derived therefrom shall be devoted to the maintenance of a mosque is not thereby made sacred, nor are Government aware that its acquisition offends any one's religious feelings."

(b)

(c) It is not a fact. There is a well-defined cleared boundary line six feet wide with boundary pillars in conspicuous places and at suitable intervals between the Government khas forests and the reserved forests.

(d) (i) There were prosecutions for infringing rules in the Government khas forests.

(ii) Three, all in Fatikchari thana.

(iii) It is natural that there should be more prosecutions with reference to reserved forests than with reference to Government khas forests. In the two thanas in question the area of khas forests is small, and they contain little valuable produce. In the reserved forests supervision is strict, and the presence of a large number of casual purchasers in the reserved forests is likely to result in forest offences."

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the income and expenditure of the Jalpesh fair for the last 10 years?

(c) Are the Government aware that the dome of the Jalpesh temple, which collapsed at the earthquake of 1897, has not yet been repaired?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of repairing the temple at an early date?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

(a) No. The income of the Jalpesh fair is credited to the Western Duars Market Fund which is a local fund and is not credited to Government. The fair is not held in the temple compound. The temple is situate in Taluk Gartoli, whereas the fair is held on a block of khas land in Taluk Bhuskadanga at a distance of about two furlongs from the temple from which it is separated by a river.

(b) In the circumstances no statement is required by the question.

(c) Yes.

(d) No. This is a matter for the Jalpesh Temple Trust Committee to deal with.

(a) Is it a fact that the Sadar Ferry Ghat of Jalpaiguri, known as the Up-Doar Ferry, has been made over to the railway free of rent? Sadar Ferry Ghat at Jalpaiguri.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for doing this?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) and (b). No. The facts are that by an agreement entered into in 1891, between the Secretary of State for India in Council and Messrs. Octavius Steel and Company, the promoters of the Bengal Duars Railway Company, the exclusive right to establish and work a ferry across the Teesta river between the terminus of the Bengal Duars Railway on the eastern bank opposite Jalpaiguri and the Eastern Bengal Railway on the west bank, was granted to the promoters. No charge was levied for that right as the ferry is intended as a link between the two Railways

On the establishment of the Railway ferry, the Sadar public ferry at Jalpaiguri ceased to be used by the public and was therefore closed.

The Railway ferry now goes by the name of the Abu Duar Ferry, which was the name by which the Sadar public ferry was known while it existed."

(a) When did the Land Acquisition Department of the Collectorate of Jessore get the requisition of the District Board of Jessore to acquire land in Bidyanandakati, thana Keshabpur, district Jessore, for the excavation of a tank for drinking water? Acquisition of land for a tank in Bidyanandakati.

(b) What steps are being taken for the acquisition of the land?

(c) What is the cause of the inaction of the Land Acquisition Department in this matter?

(d) Why has there been no statutory declaration for the acquisition as yet?

(e) Was not the Chairman of the District Board placed in possession of funds by an outsider for the proposed work as early as January, 1918, and could not the work have been done in the last dry season if the usual acquisition proceedings had been taken in hand by the Land Acquisition Department in time?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) The requisition of the District Board was received on the 4th March last

(b) Administrative approval to the acquisition of the land has recently been given by Government. The declaration will shortly be published in the Calcutta Gazette and action taken for acquisition of the land

(c) There was some delay owing to heavy land acquisition work. As it was not stated that the land was urgently required, pending projects were dealt with first

(d) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply to (b) and (c).

(e) A private gentleman placed the Chairman of the District Board in possession of Rs. 1,000, which is about one-third of the total cost of the project. The requisition for acquisition was received too late to enable the work to be executed in the last dry season."

Condition of the Kidderpore Bridge.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) how and when they became aware that the Kidderpore Bridge had become unsafe for vehicular traffic and tramcars;

(b) whether it is a fact that suggestions had been made, from time to time, for a number of years for improving the Kidderpore Bridge, or replacing it by a new one? If so, why no steps were taken for so long to carry out the suggestions?

(c) within what time a new bridge is going to be constructed; and (d) what steps have been taken for the purpose of constructing a new bridge?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) The President of the Committee appointed to examine the bridge structure under Bengal Government Resolution No. 78-86 T.—I. of the 2nd May, 1918, reported to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Irrigation Department, on the 4th September, 1918, that in the opinion of the Committee, immediate steps should be taken to stop all heavy vehicles, including tramcars, from using the bridge. It was closed to heavy vehicular traffic and to the tramcars from the morning of Saturday, the 7th September, 1918. The full report of the Committee was issued on the 14th September, 1918, and after a careful consideration of the report, all vehicular traffic over the bridge was stopped from midday of the 27th September, 1918.

(b) The Commissioner of Police in July, 1913, invited the attention of Government to the congestion of traffic on the Kidderpore Bridge and its approaches and suggested that either the bridge should be considerably widened or a subsidiary bridge constructed by the Hastings Bazar Since that time the question has been under discussion with the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Improvement Trust.

(c) It cannot be definitely stated within what time a new bridge will be constructed.

(d) As previous knowledge showed the existence of bad quicksand underneath the site of the bridge, borings have been made on the Kidderpore side of the bridge to ascertain definitely the nature of the subsoil in which the foundations for a new bridge will have to be laid. The results obtained from these borings are being examined."

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that in the reports on the land-revenue administration the percentage which the land-revenue is said to bear to the gross rental is calculated on the assumption that the gross rents received by the landlords and the total valuation of the raiyats' holdings are one and the same thing? Reports on the Land-revenue Administration.

(b) Is it a fact—

(i) that the valuation of a raiyat's holding on which cesses are based is not necessarily the gross rental of the holding;

(ii) that in the total valuation of the raiyats' holdings on which cesses are based are included a large number of rent-free holdings; and

(iii) that the statements made in the Annual Reports on the Land-revenue Administration, and also in some of the Government resolutions thereon, regarding the net income of the land-holders and the percentage which the land-revenue is said to bear to the gross rental, are incorrect and misleading?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) The answer is in the negative.

(b) (i) The valuation of a raiyat's holding for cess purposes is the annual value as defined in section 4 of the Cess Act.

(ii) The valuation of rent-free lands is shown separately in Part IV of the Valuation Statement. The gross rental in column 3 of Appendix XXXIII of the Land Revenue Administration Report includes the valuation of rent-free lands.

(iii) The answer is in the negative."

Will the Government be pleased to state why, in the matter of apportionment of Settlement costs, the superior landlords of permanent tenure-holders in certain districts of Bengal are exempted from paying any costs while in others they are made to pay a certain portion thereof? Apportionment of Settlement costs.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" The distinction is based on grounds of equity In districts where the cases in which the landlords of permanent mokarrari tenure-holders derive substantial advantage from a record of rights of such subordinate tenures are negligible, and where the record of such subinfeudation does not present any unusual difficulty affecting the cost of its preparation, the landlords of such tenure-holders are exempted from paying any share of the cost in respect of the tenures. (b) Is it a fact that under the rules now in force extensions are not granted to any officers unless the services of those officers are indispensable or are absolutely necessary in the interest of the public service?

(a) (i) and (ii)—

(1) Rai Sahib Tarapada Ghosh—Has extension of service for three years from the 3rd December, 1915.

(2) Khan Sahib Sattar Baksh—Has extension of service for one year from the 29th November, 1917.

The case of Mokbul Ahmad.

Will the Government be pleased to state the facts, in detail, of the case of Mokbul Ahmad, a respectable Muhammadan of the Kustia subdivision, who was convicted in the criminal court, and was engaged in clearing the jungle in the compound of the Sub-divisional Magistrate the same afternoon?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DUVAL :—

" Mokbul Ahmad was convicted on the 10th June, 1918, of theft by the Sub-Deputy Magistrate of Kushtia and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for 15 days. The conviction was upheld on appeal, and the High Court on a motion declined to interfere. He figured several times as an accused in criminal cases during the last two years and a case under section 211, I.P.C., is still pending against him.

It appears that the sentence was passed at about 1 P.M. on the 10th June. Mokbul Ahmad was taken to the court lock-up and thence at about 2 P.M. to the sub-jail which is close by. At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the Deputy Superintendent of the sub-jail sent him to work with other prisoners to clear jungle (as is frequently done) in the compound of the Sub-divisional Magistrate. He worked there for about an hour."

THE BENGAL PRIMARY EDUCATION BILL, 1917.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved that the Bengal Primary Education Bill, 1917, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood, the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq, the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, the Hon'ble Mr. Payne, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur, and the mover, with instructions to submit their report in time for its presentation at the December meeting of the Council.

He said :—

"My Lord, in December last when I had the honour to introduce the Primary Education Bill in Your Lordship's Council, nothing gave me greater pleasure than the welcome it received from the member in charge of the education portfolio, Sir S. P. Sinha. He considered that it was a necessary and long due measure and commended my Bill on behalf of Government for the earnest consideration of the Council and the country at large and trusted that there will be a burning desire on the part of every one to contribute to the best of his capacity for the purpose of providing education for the poor. The country has had an opportunity of giving its opinion on the Bill, and it is a matter of sincere satisfaction to me and to those who are interested in the spread of primary education in the province to know that the Bill has received almost the unanimous support of officials and non-officials, public bodies, municipalities and district boards and last but not least of the Calcutta University. There is one other fact which has struck me while going through the opinions which have been forwarded to us by the Legislative Department, and it is this. The Muhammadan Associations throughout the province have with one voice given the Bill a hearty. I may say an enthusiastic, support. While approving of the principle of the Bill very valuable suggestions have been received by Government as regards its detailed provisions. They will no doubt be duly considered by the members of the Select Committee. Some have suggested that the Bill should be so modified as to extend its provisions to girls. To them I can only say let us proceed step by step. I shall first quote the opinions of some of the municipalities because the Bill will principally affect them. In my own district, the district of the 24-Parganas, the Chairman of the Naihati municipality, an European gentleman, writes as follows to the Magistrate of the district :—

'The Commissioners concur with the general principles of the Bill, and do not think that the measure is likely to result in hardship, in view of the safeguards provided in clauses 17 and 18, under which it is contemplated that the payment of fees shall not be obligatory in all cases and that primary education shall be given free of charge in any municipality where Commissioners may in their judgment impose an "Education Cess" with the previous sanction of Government, the revenue derived from it being ear-marked exclusively for this purpose.'

The Magistrate of 24-Parganas writes to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division :—'The Commissioners of the Garden Reach, Baruipore, * Vide Appendix A.

Baranagore, Baduria and Kamarhati municipalities support the Bill as it stands.' The Chairmen of Navadwip, Santipore, Ranaghat and Kustea municipalities intimate that the Commissioners of these municipalities are entirely in favour of free and compulsory primary education being introduced within the municipalities as provided in the Bill. The Chairman of the Krishnagore municipality, Rai Biswambhor Roy Bahadur, and the Vice-Chairman of the Bhatpara municipality, Rai Syama Charan Bhattacharji Bahadur, both approve of the Bill. The municipalities of the Burdwan Division generally approve of the provisions of the Bill. The Howrah municipality, under its able and enlightened Chairman, not only approves of the Bill but has expressed its willingness to impose an education cess, if necessary. The Commissioners of Bally, Hooghly-Chinsura and Serampore, Kutrung, Bansbaria and Arambag municipalities all support the Bill. The opinion of the Chairman of the Champdani municipality approved of by the other Commissioners of the municipality is as follows :—'In my opinion the Bill, if passed, would undoubtedly in time be of the greatest advantage not only to the public but to the country itself.' The Chairman of the Uttarpara municipality, whom I am glad to see in this Council to-day, in supporting the Bill says : 'The importance of mass education as a necessary factor in the political life of a nation has long been recognised,' and he quotes the following passage from Mill's treatise on 'Liberty':—'Is it not almost a self-evident axiom that the State should require and compel the education up to a certain standard of every human being who is born its citizen ?' The Chairman of the Burdwan municipality suggests that when the Primary Education Act is found to be working successfully within the urban areas, it may be extended to rural areas. The Commissioners of the Raniganje municipality resolved at a special meeting that the provisions of the Bill should be adopted within the municipality. So also those of Kalna and Katwa.

The Commissioners of the Midnapore municipality passed the following Resolution :—'That this municipality accords its complete support of the principles involved in the Bill and holds that the primary education should be compulsory and free, and while assuring the Government of complete co-operation, desires to lay stress on the fact that the income hitherto received is completely ear-marked, and requests it may be apprised of the extent to which state-aid may be expected to enable the municipality to see how the balance, if any, is to be raised.' In the district of Midnapore the municipality of Ghatal thinks that there are no doubt many difficulties that might stand in the way of introducing compulsory primary education in the country. But there is no help for it. The masses should be raised at any cost from the depth of ignorance. Welfare of the people and the country demand that some beginning should be made in the direction. The Bill as framed will afford facility for paving gradually the way to the spread of primary education. Most of the other municipalities of the Midnapore district approve of the Bill. The municipalities of the districts of Birbhum and Bankura support the Bill. In the Dacca division, the Municipal Commissioners of the Dacca municipality approve of the Bill. It has been favourably received by the Municipal Commissioners of Narayanganj, who have passed a resolution that the municipality will be glad to take advantage of the Bill, if passed into an Act, provided the Government be pleased to contribute a reasonable share of the cost in that connection. The Commissioners of the Mymensingh municipality are unanimous in their opinion that primary education should be compulsory in the municipality, and in approving of the general principles of the Bill in the Rajshahi division, the Rampur-Boalia municipality accepts the principle and the main features of the Bill. The Commissioners of the Rangpur municipality are in full sympathy with the object of the Bill and they are of opinion that the Bill, after necessary amendments, should be passed by the Legislature into law. The Commissioners of the Bogra municipality think that there is no difference of opinion about the general principles of the Bill. The Chairman of the Pabna municipality says : 'In my opinion the extension of primary education in all the municipalities in Bengal is a necessity.' The Commissioners of Darjeeling municipality are in favour of compulsory primary education and support the provisions of the Bill. provided education is made free, while those of Kurseong approve, after careful consideration, of the general principle embodied in the Bill. There are other municipalities in the Rajshahi division which also approve of the Bill.

In the Chittagong division the Municipal Commissioners of Chittagong are of opinion that primary education may be made compulsory provided no education cess is imposed upon municipal rate-payers, whereas those of Cox's Bazar approve of its provisions. In the district of Tippera in the Chandpur municipality the Commissioners resolved that the introduction of compulsory primary education within their municipality be approved, whereas the principle of compulsion and the power of levying additional education cess are generally appreciated. As regards the Noakhali municipality, none of them raised any objection to legislation for the extension of primary education in all municipalities in Bengal.

Having quoted the opinion of many of the municipalities of the Presidency, I shall now quote the opinions of some of the Union Committees. Your Lordship knows that it is sought to extend the provisions of the Bill to municipalities as well as to Union Committees. The Chairman of the Kotalpur Union Committee in the district of Bankura says: 'The labouring classes are most likely to improve and prosper by the spread of primary education among them.' The Chairman of the Polashdanga Union Committee says: 'The Primary Education Bill has been very judiciously drawn up, and if steps be taken, according to the Bill, when it will be the law of the country to make primary education compulsory and free throughout Bengal, then a long-felt want will be satisfied and the aim of primary education will be fully attained.' The Chairman of the Bolepore Union Committee in the district of Birbhum says: 'I perfectly agree with the general principles underlying the Bill which, in my opinion, ought to be passed into law.'

I shall now quote only one paragraph from the opinion of the Corporation of Calcutta: 'That the Corporation approve the principle of the Bengal Primary Education Bill, 1917, in so far as it seeks to make primary education compulsory.' The Calcutta Corporation as well as the Indian Association suggest that there should be a Provincial Education Board to control the whole of the primary education of the Presidency in so far as it is governed by this Bill. My Lord, it was for the constitution of this Education Board that I moved a resolution in Your Lordship's Council on the 4th September, 1917, but it was opposed not only by the officials but also by a large number of non-official members, and at least two of them were also Commissioners of the Corporation of Calcutta, and I now find these members supporting the constitution of an Education Board, probably suggested by the official Chairman.

I shall now quote the opinions of some of the Commissioners of divisions and district Magistrates and subdivisional officers as well as district deputy inspectors of schools who have to do so much with the primary education of the province. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division says: 'So far as municipalities are concerned, I see no reason to oppose the Bill.' The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division writes: 'The municipalities of the division generally approve the provisions of the Bill. The municipalities are reluctant to impose taxation to meet the additional expenditure, and it seems clear that unless Government bears a considerable share of this expenditure very little will be done by the municipalities.' The Commissioner of the Dacca division writes: 'I have consulted the district officers and through them the municipalities and individual gentlemen and associations of local importance in the division. From the opinion received it appears that the Bill is welcomed by almost all classes.' The Commissioner of the Rajshahi division speaks in the following terms about the Bill: 'Non-official opinion is strongly in favour of the Bill. All District Officers support it except Mr. Lindsay, who thinks that the cost will be prohibitive. I do not share these fears. Mr. Ray has made a genuine attempt to solve a difficult problem, and his Bill deserves the most careful consideration. Its great merit is that it aims, not at improving the education of the literate classes, but at extending elementary education to the illiterate classes. Bengal's greatest need at the present time is to make a practical knowledge of the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic universal among the masses, and as quickly as possible. Without this, self-government will be government not by the people but by the demogogues of a bad type; the people will be undone and Bengal will not take any appreciable part in the history of the world. I unreservedly accept the principle of free elementary education. Free education should be suited to the requirements of the masses who cannot afford to pay and who will not ordinarily continue studies further.' The Commissioner of the Chittagong division writes: 'There is a general agreement to the provisions of the Bill. I am in entire agreement with the provisions of the Bill and recommend that it may be passed into law.'

I shall now quote the opinion of some of the District Magistrates. The District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas says that the general desire is not to oppose the Bill but to extend it so as to suit local conditions. My own view is that the Bill should not be opposed. The District Magistrate of Nadia writes: 'Personally I am in favour of the Bill being passed as it stands,' whereas that of Jessore says: 'In my opinion the provisions of the Bill appear to be good enough to begin with.' The Magistrate of Hooghly writes: 'On the whole I think the Bill might be accepted, and it is certainly a move in the right direction.' The District Magistrate of Dacca says: 'The Bill is welcome by all classes and if passed into law there is good reason to hope that it may soon be brought into effect in some parts of the district, and seeing the benefits derived from it, the residents of other areas will gradually become eager to participate.' He also says 'that opinion generally is in favour of the Bill being made applicable to Union Committees.' The Magistrate of Faridpur sees no objection to the introduction of the Act and observes that the safeguards appear to be sufficient and it is an experiment which is worth a trial. The District Magistrate of Rungpur says 'that there is a concensus of opinion both amongst official and non-official gentlemen and public and local bodies regarding the desirability of the passing of the proposed Bill into law. Personally, I am in full sympathy with the objects of the Bill and consider that the draft Bill is suited for the attainments of these objects.' The District Magistrate of Bogra considers that a Bill of this nature is now required and all those whom he consulted are agreed on the point. The District Magistrate of Pabna says that all whom he consulted supported the principle of the Bill. His own individual opinion was that on the existing state of public feeling an Act of the kind has become a necessity. The Deputy Commissioner of Darjeeling says: 'I am strongly in favour of the general principles of the Bill. The introduction of a measure of compulsory education in the more advanced areas of the Presidency is long overdue and it is right that local bodies should be responsible for it, but the cost of compulsory education should, in my opinion, be met by a rate and no fees should be charged.' The Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri thinks that from his own experience of the way in which municipal affairs in some municipalities are managed he considered that any measure calculated to raise the standard of education and intelligence amongst the inhabitants of the towns is a step in the right direction.

In the Chittagong Division, the Magistrate of Tippera says that on the whole he is in entire agreement with the provisions of the Bill, whereas the Magistrate of Noakhali says that the public are generally in favour of the measure.

I shall now quote the opinion of some of the district deputy inspectors of schools. It is they who are in charge of whatever primary education there is in the Presidency and their opinion is therefore valuable. The district deputy inspector of schools of Rungpore observes: 'It cannot be gainsaid that compulsory education is the only means to uplift the masses of the people steeped in ignorance, and, as such, it should be introduced not only in municipalities but district board areas also. In my opinion, the provisions of the Bill offer sufficient safeguards to any oppression on poor and indigent persons. It might have been argued that compulsion without exception would bring distress to those who cannot depend on the earnings of boys of school-going age, or who are not in a position to pay for books, papers, etc., but in the face of clause 16 such an argument will not hold. I for one would like to see compulsory primary education introduced in those areas also where Union Committees have been established, along with the municipalities in view of the fact that in those places greater funds are available to help the introduction of the system and that the surrounding people would then be able to realise its importance and necessity and thus like it.' The deputy inspector of schools of Bogra says: 'The clauses of the Bill which aims at the extension of primary education will serve the purpose for which they are intended and have no objectionable features in them.'

The district deputy inspector of schools of Burdwan is of opinion that the provisions of the Bill have generally been most carefully and cautiously prepared and as such they may be passed. As regards Inspectors of Schools, I find that the Inspectors of Schools of the Rajshahi and Chittagong Divisions approve of the Bill in its present form, whereas that of Burdwan approves of the Bill with certain modifications. The Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education observes: 'As general compulsion is not possible at present the choice of municipalities for the experiment is wise.'

Many of the subdivisional officers have generally approved of the provisions of the Bill.

The British Indian Association suggests that the scope of the Bill should be limited to the mufassal municipalities of the Presidency. The Bengal Landholders' Association give it their entire support. They consider that in a province like Bengal primary education is a vital necessity for the elevation both of the intellectual and social welfare of its people. The North Bengal Zamindars' Association fully sympathise with the object of the Bill and generally approved of the scheme as contained in the same. The Indian Association have given their whole-hearted sympathy with the objects and aims of the proposed Bill.

It is a matter of great satisfaction that the Muhammadan Associations of the province have with one voice expressed their approval of the Bill. One of the Associations suggests that the operation of the Act should be extended at once to Union Committees. The Muhammadan Association of Rangpur fully approve of the Bill and would like to see it passed as soon as possible. The Provincial Muhammadan Association of Dacca observes: 'There is no gainsaying the fact that illiteracy in this land is almost scandalous, and illiteracy among the Moslems is unfortunately more deplorable than among any other community in India. It being so, the principle embodied in the Bill has the whole-hearted support of the Association.'

The Calcutta University agrees with the principle of the Bill in so far as it aims at making primary education compulsory. Some gentlemen connected with Co-operative Credit Societies warmly welcome the Bill. A large number of non-official gentlemen were invited to give their opinion and they have done so. They are generally in favour of the Bill. I shall quote only two of them. Maharaja Kshounish Chandra Roy Bahadur of Nadia generally approves of the provisions of the Bill. Rev. Dr. Sutherland of Darjeeling observes: 'Such a modest measure seems an excellent introduction to some sort of compulsory primary education. The Bill, I hope, will soon be passed and action taken throughout Bengal. It will be a great thing to have a beginning made.'

If there have been in some instances—and they are few, very few—any note of dissent against the Bill it is on account of the poverty of the country. There are some who think that the country is too poor to afford to pay for primary education and they are against the imposition of an 'education cess.' To them I can only say that I am fully aware of the poverty of the country and difficulties in the way of promoting education, specially among the masses. Without substantial help from Government the work of education, specially primary education, cannot spread But we have got the example of the Bombay Government before us. As soon as the Bombay Primary Education Act came into operation the Governor in Council wisely announced in Council that substantial provision would be made in the Budget for carrying out the policy of introducing free and compulsory education in those municipalities proposing to take advantage of the new Act.

We all know that primary education is one of the subjects to be included in the transferred subjects under the Reforms Scheme. It will then be the duty of the members of Councils to find out ways and means to make primary education a success in the country. I have already quoted the opinion of the Commissioner of the Rajshahi division. He is probably in a position to speak with greater authority than many of us because he is no other official than Mr. Samman, who was only the other day the Secretary in charge of the Education Department of this Government. I cannot resist the temptation of quoting another portion from his letter to Government on the Bill, because, I think, he has clearly demonstrated and that within a few lines that the cost of introducing primary education in municipalities will not be prohibitive. This is what he says: 'All district officers support it (the Bill) except Mr. Lindsay, who thinks the cost will be prohibitive I do not share these fears. At the last census, boys between the ages of six and ten formed about 6·32 per cent. of the total population, and according to the last report of Public Instruction in Bengal, lower primary education cost Rs. 3 per head a year. The cost of teaching all boys between the ages of six and ten the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic should, therefore, not exceed Re. 1 for every five of the total population. This is about the cost of the village watch. Municipalities already spend more than a lakh of rupees a year on education of all sorts. With a population of less than two millions only four lakhs would be required for universal free education of boys between the ages noted. The difference of three lakhs represents an incidence of 2½ annas a head of the municipal population of Bengal, outside Calcutta.' My Lord, there is a class of critics in this country who consider that primary education cannot be made compulsory in the country and as such the Bill ought not to be supported because the money necessary for the proper accommodation, proper equipment and proper staff would not be forthcoming. There is an idea among some of the critics of the Bill that unless you have marble palaces for accommodation, mahogany chairs, tables and benches and a library with up-to-date standard books and Smith prizemen as teachers, primary education cannot and ought not to be introduced. They forget that the class of boys who will attend these schools live in huts and that if they read in a school which has a hut or couple of huts for accommodation they will not be worse off and they will not consider it infra dig. They lie and sit upon mats in their houses and it will not be beneath their position if they have to sit on mats in schools. The old Guru Mahasaya or the class of teachers who now form the teaching staff of the existing primary schools of the province will be sufficient. We do not want expensive board schools for boys for whom the Bill is intended. Theirs will be the short and simple accommodation and equipment for the poor. India has been a seat of learning from time immemorial. The Rishis of old never imparted their education in palaces. Naya, Sankhya and Patanjal were taught in huts, on naked floors and amidst blank walls. Poor school accommodation and poor school equipment never stood in the way of ourselves or our fathers from getting the benefits of education in our boyhood. There are primary schools at present in the whole of the province scattered over municipal as well as rural areas. There is an Education Committee attached to each district board. The result of passing of the Primary Education Bill will be practically to increase the number of such schools and to compel boys of school-going age residing within municipal areas and within Union Committees to attend schools.

These are, My Lord, the very critics who say in season and out of season that self-government cannot be given to the Indians because the masses are uneducated. But when an attempt is made for the spread of primary education in the country they try to lay down certain impossible conditions under which alone they say primary education can and ought to be given.

It is a matter of regret that primary education has not made that progress in British India which it has made in some of the Indian States. In answer to my question I received the following reply from the Commissioner of Education, Baroda State, only in August last :—

'(1) that primary education is free and compulsory in the Baroda State, (2) that the State bears all the expenses of such education, (3) that it is compulsory in respect to both boys and girls and (4) that the standard age of admission to schools under the compulsory Act is seven complete years in the case of boys and girls, but that the age for leaving schools is complete fourteen years for boys and twelve for girls.'

A similar reply has been received by me from the Mysore Government. The Secretary to the Education Department of the Mysore Government has written to me as follows :—

'(The introduction of the Compulsory Education scheme has been sanctioned in the case of 238 centres and the scheme is in full operation in 144 centres. Primary education is free in all the Government schools, but small contributions from the villagers are levied in the case of village aided schools.')

There are some who consider that primary education should first be on a voluntary basis, that there must be sufficient number of schools in the province before the compulsory system is sought to be introduced. I think if they carefully go through the provisions of clauses 3 and 4 of my Bill they will find that, whereas it is sought to invest Municipal Commissioners with power to declare primary education compulsory within the municipality or any part thereof under clause 3 of the Bill, clause 4 of the Bill expressly lays down that no such notification can be issued unless the Commissioners have made such provision as the Local Government consider necessary and sufficient for the primary education of all children within the area mentioned in the notification for whom such education would be compulsory on the issue of such notification. It will therefore be seen that not only the Municipal Commissioners will have to take necessary steps to provide schools and make other provisions for primary education of boys but that they should satisfy Government that this has been done, and it is only when Government are satisfied that the notification empowering Municipal Commissioners to declare primary education compulsory shall be issued. (If you leave the matter of primary education to the voluntary system it will never spread, it will never prosper. It has not done so in any country and it cannot be expected to do so in India.) I find that the number of those under elementary education in Baroda has risen greatly since compulsion was introduced and now stands at 12 per cent. of the population.

That the Government of India have been taking a sincere interest in the primary education of the country is well known to everybody. In February 1918, in opening the Imperial Legislative Council, His Excellency the Viceroy said :—'Of education at the other end of the scale—of primary education—I made some mention in addressing you last September. I said that we were agreed that a definite advance must be made in this sphere, and it was only the fact that there were other connected problems awaiting solution which prevented my giving an indication of the policy which we had in view on this most important question. (The support of primary education is a function of local bodies and its extension is, in the main, an operation of finance. While, therefore, the future powers of local bodies and the future relations of local, provincial and Imperial finance are still undetermined, it is, as you will readily understand, a matter of no small difficulty to set forth a definite policy of future development for our primary schools, and it will be necessary for us to wait a little longer before we can take definite steps for the realisation of such a policy. In the meantime, we have determined to place no obstacle in the way of such local legislatures as may decide on any reasonable measures to forward the same end, whether those are the precise measures which we would ourselves be prepared to initiate or not. The last few months have accordingly seen the first beginnings of legislation to allow of compulsory education in this country. A private Bill has been introduced and passed into Law to admit of the adoption of compulsion by district municipalities in Bombay. Arrangements have been made for the introduction of similar Bills in Bengal, and in Bihar and Orissa. The Punjab Government has drafted a Bill dealing with the same subject on comprehensive lines and has published it for criticism. I need hardly say that I shall watch with deep interest the use which local bodies make of the powers conferred upon them by measures of this description.'

The Industrial Commission have recommended universial primary education in India.

My Lord, we are now passing through a critical period in the history of our country. The dawn of a new era is breaking. Industrial development and popular education will bring about a state of things which it is the desire of the best well wishers of the country to effect and which they are striving to attain. There is a cry to elevate the depressed classes and I need hardly say that this can be done only by educating them. Lord Chelmsford and the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State have justly said in the Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms: 'There is an immense work of education to be done throughout the countryside. Everything that tends to waken the Indian raiyat's intelligence, that helps him to be an independent self-determining man, everything that breaks down the barriers between communities and makes men regard each other as neighbours, and not as the wearers of some caste or creed insignia, hastens on the day when self-government within the Empire will be attained. All this is work that the educated Indian can and ought to undertake.'

The reasons and arguments that I have had the honour to lay before Your Excellency and the Members of this Council, I believe, must have brought conviction to their minds as to the vast importance of educating the masses of the people, for in education alone lie the germs of the progress and advancement of a country in its political, economic and social spheres. It is this advancement that I have sought to bring about by the introduction of this Bill and it remains for Your Excellency to give life and animation to the scheme and to make the country you have the honour of governing a power in the world."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I rise to add my humble voice to the general chorus of approval that has been given to the Bill introduced in this Council by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray. The special reason why I wish to speak is, that this Bill interests the members of my community more than that of others, and that the general approval which Muhammadans of all shades of opinion—those who are politically minded and those who are not—have accorded to it shows that there is a great demand for the introduction of a measure like this among Muhammadans. Some time ago when my friend the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Huq tried to introduce a Bill in this Council for the levy of an Education Cess on muhammadans, and although it was received sympathetically by Your Excellency's government, the Bill could not be introduced owing to the opposition of the Government of India. I believe, my Lord, that the introduction of this Bill will, to some extent, satisfy the demand made and will do the work which was intended that we would be able to do by the imposition of an Education Cess. I only wish to submit to Your Excellency's government that so far as the Muhammadans in general are concerned, the extension of the provisions of the Bill to municipalities only—of course it will be of some advantage to have it extended to some municipalities—will not be of much use unless it can be extended to rural areas, and I hope that the Select Committee will take the matter into consideration and will see their way to extend it to rural areas in the near future. With these few words, I support the motion."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My Lord, I have only to say on behalf of Government that Government are agreeable to the reference of the Bill to Select Committee. In Committee certain suggestions will be put forward on behalf of Government and it will be necessary also to consider many suggestions made by the gentlemen and public bodies to whom the Bill had been circulated for opinion. Many of these suggestions are of so detailed a nature that they can best be considered across the table in Committee, at least in the first instance, and of such importance that their inclusion in the Bill would considerably modify the principle on which the Bill is based. For these reasons Government propose to offer no further observations now, and to reserve the definition of its attitude until a later stage."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT No. 2) BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming moved that the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment No. 2) Bill, 1918, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, the Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, the Hon'ble Mr. Duval, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Altaf Ali, the Hon'ble Khan Sahib Aman Ali, the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter, the Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur, and the mover, with instructions to submit their report in time for its presentation at the December meeting of the Council.

He said :—

"Your Excellency, opinions have been received on the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment No. 2) Bill, 1918, which was introduced in this Council in July last, and the next stage would naturally be that these opinions should be considered in Select Committee. I therefore beg to move this motion."

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray said :—

"My Lord, this is another patchwork amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act within the year. When the first one was brought before the House, I objected to this sort of patchwork legislation. The Bengal Tenancy Act requires a thorough overhauling to secure a harmonious co-operation and mutual understanding between the landlords and the tenants. Instead, I find, with grave concern, that only such amendments are being brought forward before the Council, which are only advantageous to the raiyats. I do not grudge them their good fortune, but I most respectfully submit that this kind of preferential treatment cannot but engender a feeling of bitterness and resentment in us, and in the long run must widen the gulf of misunderstanding and distrust between the two great communities vitally interested in land. But let me hope, My Lord, that before Your Excellency leaves Bengal something will be done to foster a more pleasant relationship between the zamindar and his raiyat.

I now turn to the proposed legislation before the House. It involves two important questions. First it imposes a further reduction on the right of contract of the people, a right which is an essential factor in the economic development of our lands. Secondly, it proposes to carry a retrospective effect along with it to the utter disregard of the interests of the people who based their land transactions on documents hitherto held valid by High Court rulings. It was on the grounds of public policy that in 1885, the freedom of contract as to rents and other incidents of tenancy, was taken away from the raiyats. It is on the same grounds again, that further restrictions on the right of contracts as to cesses, are being imposed. 'On grounds of public policy' is a very convenient phrase as it saves a good deal of explanation and furnishes an excellent cover against unpleasant criticisms. But I cannot help remarking that the restrictions imposed in 1885 are primarily responsible for our apathy towards the agricultural development of our lands. Who would care to invest capital on land improvements, when no agreement between him and his raiyat as to the returns on his outlay, could be valid in the eyes of the law? My Lord, after an experience of 35 years, we expected that the Government would realise the disastrous economic consequences of curtailing the freedom of contract, and that there would be a change in the angle of vision regarding the matter; but instead I find that Government is bent on perpetuating its policy by extending the restrictions to contracts regarding cesses.

The other matter involved in this legislation is rather serious. I mean the question of giving a retrospective effect to its operation. I wonder the unfairness of the whole thing was not apparent to the learned framers of the Bill. It is like punishing the people for the blunder of the official law-scribes of 1885. How can the Government set at naught, by the stroke of a pen, a claim which was hotly contested in the highest court of the land and allowed. My Lord, whatever the all-powerful Executive might think of a peoples' right, British Justice does not fail us. Let me read what the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court say on the subject, in their notes dated the 5th August 1918 :—'Retrospective operation of the section would also effect persons who have dealt with properties on the basis of contracts which have hitherto been declared valid by courts of law.'

After this, I think I may safely hope that the Select Committee would set the matter right.

Then, my Lord, there is another little matter to which a passing reference should be made. I refer to paragraph 3 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons, which says that this legislation will not affect permanent leases. But it is not so. Section 179 of the Bengal Tenancy Act on which this statement is based does not apply to permanent leases created before the said Act came into operation. There is also no saving clause regarding contracts by rent-free holders. I think that these defects should be removed by clear and unambiguous provisions in the law."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"My Lord, referring to the remarks of the Hon'ble Member regarding certain details of the Bill, I can give him every assurance that the points which he has mentioned will receive due attention. Possibly in some of them he will find that there is a misapprehension which I trust we shall be able to remove. As regards the main question, namely, that this is a piecemeal legislation, of course that cannot be denied. No one is more conscious than I am and the Bengal Government too, that before any large change in the Tenancy Act be affected, it will be necessary to have another Rent Law Commission. Until such a thing can be completed, we can only carry out changes, as we find it necessary to do so."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

THE CALCUTTA HACKNEY-CARRIAGE BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918, be taken into consideration.

He Said :—

"My Lord the most important question which arises out of the report of the Select Committee is whether control should be transferred to the Commissioner of Police or remain with the Corporation. This question is dealt with in the motion about to be moved by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur to which I shall reply on behalf of Government. I hope then to explain the attitude of Government towards the proposal for transfer."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 7.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved, by way of amendment, that the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, with the Report of the Select Committee, be republished.

He said :—

"My Lord, my object in moving this amendment is this : that the Bill as originally published and which was circulated to public bodies and local authorities concerned, for their opinion, did not contain, this most important provision, that the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department be transferred from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police. On this point, the public bodies who were invited to give their views on the original Bill had no opportunity to express their opinion nor had the municipalities concerned. Of course, Sir, I am aware that the two public bodies, namely, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and, I believe, the Calcutta Trades' Association, and also the Corporation by a bare majority—the suggestion in the case of the Corporation came from the Chairman first,—agreed to the transfer of the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department to the Commissioner of Police ; the Corporation making it a special condition that as a quid pro quo the Calcutta Fire Brigade should be transferred to them. On that condition they consented to the proposal. I think, my Lord, that this is a must fundamental change in the Bill and therefore this Bill should be republished, and that the opinions of the public bodies and municipalities concerned should be invited on this most important point.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

My Lord, in reply to this motion I may remind the Council of the long time this Bill has already been under consideration. The present Act was passed in 1891, and since then various proposals had been brought forward from time to time with the object of improving the hackney-carriage service in Calcutta. Eventually the Calcutta Corporation appointed a special Committee in 1910 to consider the whole question In 1911 their proposals were submitted to Government with a recommendation that the Act should be amended so as to ensure stricter control of the service and enable improvements to be made in it. The proposals of the Corporation were generally accepted by Government, and an amending Bill was prepared and sent to the Corporation for their views in 1912. They replied in February 1913, asking for the acceptance of certain recommendations and suggestions almost all of which were agreed to by Government. In the meantime, the Commissioner of Police proposed that the Hackney-carriage Department should be transferred to his control. The Corporation were consulted, but at that time they were opposed to the proposal and the idea was dropped. Further alterations and additions were made in the Bill, which was at last introduced in Council in July 1916 and referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee came to the conclusion that the Bill did not go far and that a more extensive measure was necessary. A new consolidating and amending Bill was then drawn up, in accordance with the suggestions of the Select Committee, embodying the provisions of the former Bill as well as other modifications which were found necessary. The Bill, which is now before Council, was eventually introduced in February 1918.

It is now eight years since the special Committee of the Corporation dealt with the question of improving the Hackney Carriage service and it cannot be said that there has been precipitate haste over this legislation. If the Bill was republished, there would be still further delay without any corresponding advantage. It cannot be said that the question of the transfer of the control to the Police is a new one; it has been under discussion from time to time for the last eight years. It has been more recently considered by the Corporation and the Commissioner of Police. It has been specially dealt with by different public bodies in giving their opinions on the Bill. If the Bill were to be republished, it would only enable any one who wished to do so to volunteer his views on its provisions. There would be no circulation of the Bill to the different local bodies or associations; and the practical effect would be to postpone still further the enactment of a measure which has been pending for eight years. I would therefore deprecate further delay and urge that the question be settled in Council without republishing the Bill.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said:—

"My Lord, I am fully aware of the history of this measure as described by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley; but my Lord, if the Bill as originally drafted and placed before the Council in 1916, and considered by the Select Committee, had been before us, and if the original Bill as introduced before it was committed to the Select Committee had been before us with other amendments without this fundamental change involving the transfer of the administration en bloc from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police there would have been no necessity for moving for the re-publication of the Bill. The Hon'ble Member is well aware that this most important proposal was not in the original Bill which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, and on which Government invited the opinion of the public bodies and the Municipalities concerned. The Hon'ble Member has stated that the Commissioner of Police had been asking for the transfer of the administration of the Hackney Carriage Department from the Corporation into his own hands. The Corporation was opposed to it; but, of course, the Corporation, constituted as it is, can easily change its views by a bare majority and I believe I shall not be far wrong if I say by the casting vote of the Chairman. As this is a radical amendment of the Bill, I think this Bill should be republished. My original motion as I sent it to the Legislative Secretary, suggested, that the Bill should be republished and circulated to the Public bodies and local authorities for an expression of their opinion on the proposal to transfer the administration of the Hackney Carriage Department from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police. I understand that there are some technical difficulties in moving the amendment in that way according to Rules. This amendment has been put in this shape under the advice of higher authorities; but my main object is to have public opinion on this subject. The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley says that even if the Bill is republished, it will not be circulated to public bodies—if I understood him aright. I do not think, my Lord, that Government should assume such an attitude. If the Council consents to the re-publication of the Bill, there will be no loss to Government if the attention of the public bodies and local authorities concerned is drawn to the important change and their opinion asked for. I do not think it will involve much clerical work in the office of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, it will take only half a minute to obtain the Secretary's or the Under-Secretary's signature to it. On these grounds, my Lord, I would press my motion. I reserve my remarks on the merits of the question in connection with further amendments.

The motion was then put to the vote, and a division was taken with the following result :—

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 8.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved, by way of amendment, that the Bill as amended by the Select Committee, be recommitted to the Select Committee for modification of the Bill so as to provide for the retention by the Corporation of Calcutta of their control over hackney-carriages, and for that purpose to amend clauses 6, 7, 17(2), 30(2), and other clauses of the Bill.

He said :—

"My Lord, in this connection I have to acquaint the Council with the history of this legislation : it is, indeed, well known to some of the members of this House. It was in 1864 that the first Act was passed called 'the Hackney-carriage Act' to restrain the extortion of native livery-stable-keepers, to provide a regulated scale of fares and otherwise to place the relations of the carriage-hiring community and the owners and drivers of gharries on a satisfactory footing. Then, in 1878, an amending Act was passed, authorising the local Government to place the administration of the Hackney-carriage Act under the control of the Corporation of Calcutta : that is to say, from 1864 to 1878, the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department was under the Commissioner of Police ; but in 1878 an amending measure which is ordinarily called Mr. Reynold's measure was introduced. It authorised the Local Government to transfer at its discretion the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department from the Commissioner of Police to the Corporation of Calcutta. My Lord, that was merely the power of delegation that was vested under that Act in the Local Government, and the Local Government, in exercise of their power, transferred the administration of that department to the Corporation in 1878, and from 1878 to 1891 the Corporation administered the department under the delegated authority of the Local Government. In 1891 a Bill was introduced, on the representation of the Corporation, asking for several modifications of the Act of 1878 with a view to more efficient administration of the Hackney-carriage Department.

In introducing this Bill, the Hon'ble Mr. Cotton observed :—

'The Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, responding to the public sentiment on the subject, took the matter into their consideration last autumn, and appointed a Committee to enquire into the working of the Act and to suggest amendments. In this Committee, the leading members were two representatives of the Trades' Association—Mr. Phelps and Mr. Remfry—and it is to those gentlemen in particular, as well as to the Committee in general, that the thanks of the Calcutta community are due for working out a scheme to improve the working of the hackney-carriage service of Calcutta. The Committee sat several times and their report was laid before this Government on the 30th of March last. Their recommendation was that legislation should be resorted to and that further powers should be given to the Corporation to carry out the objects of the Act. It was felt by the Government that it was very necessary to assist and encourage the Corporation in their praiseworthy endeavours to improve the administration of the hackney-carriage service, and no time was lost therefore in preparing a draft measure and in obtaining the permission of the Government of India to introduce it into this Council.'

Further in another part of his speech, he said :—

'That Act (i.e., Mr. Reynolds' Act) empowered the Local Goverment to make an order authorising the Corporation to exercise the powers exercised by the Commissioner of Police, and under that law the necessary order was passed; and since 1878 the registering office and the administration of the Hackney-carriage Act have been transferred from the Commissioner of Police to the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta.'

Then, My Lord, he said :—'The first of the changes effected under the new Bill is to lay down that the working of the Act is to be entirely under the control of the Corporation of Calcutta.'

My Lord, I need not tire the Council by quoting the opinions of Government and of the public bodies concerned on the labours and untiring efforts of the Corporation of Calcutta to improve the hackney-carriage service, but it will be seen from the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Cotton, who was the Member in charge of the Bill, that Government was so fully satisfied with the working of the Hackney-carriage Act by the Corporation, that they not only amended the Act of 1878 with a view to place the entire working under them, not by a mere delegation from the Local Government, but as a matter of right conferred upon them statutory authority to control the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department : that took place in 1891. In these days of constitutional reforms, the withdrawal of that authority is a striking example of retrogression. The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton observed that the most important thing was the framing of bye-laws. The bye-laws used to be framed by the Commissioner of Police and sanctioned by the Local Government ; but Mr. Cotton stated that the bye-laws would be framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta subject to the approval of the Local Government. Now, My Lord, these were the two important changes made in 1891. In 1891, these important changes were made to encourage a popular body to discharge the duties much more zealously ; and in 1918 it is proposed to go back to the old system—to take away the powers which they possessed and which they exercised so efficiently—with a view to restore the one-man rule, because the Commissioner of Police has for some years been trying to get that power ; and he has however succeeded now in getting it, although Government has not yet expressed any decided opinion on the subject. Look at that picture and this picture. I find on looking through the list of transferred and reserved subjects in the Chelmsford-Montagu scheme that the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department is included in the list of transferred subjects. Well, in the face of that and in the face of the improvements that have been made by the Municipal Commissioners, I do not think that this should be transferred back to the Commissioner of Police.

Then, My Lord, in 1914 the Corporation did not agree, in 1918, the Corporation as constituted at present is of such a chameleon character that it has changed its views. At the beginning of the year when the question was first raised at a Committee meeting, Mr. Phelps stated that the hackney-carriage service had attained a certain amount of efficiency after many years and the Police had a lot of important things to do, and he therefore failed to see what advantage would accrue from the transfer. Of course, My Lord, this opinion gradually metamorphosed and underwent a change. The Hon'ble Raja Hrishi Kesh Law, representing an important section of the community, thought that the public would not like the transfer, because they would not be able to approach the Police so easily as the Corporation. That is a fact, My Lord. It is not very difficult to approach the Chairman, because he sits in our midst and he can be heckled. If any one wants to see the Commissioner of Police, he will have to pass through a number of Barkandajes and policemen. My nerves shake within myself to go and see the Commissioner of Police and to acquaint him with our grievances. Therefore, My Lord, even if it is said that it should be in the hands of a very high officer, I do not think that the Chairman of the Corporation is in any way an officer who occupies a position lower than that of the Commissioner of Police or has less administrative capacity. My Lord, it may be said, and I anticipate it that as the Police regulate the traffic the Police should have the registering business in their own hands. My Lord, private carriages are registered by the Corporation and carts are also registered by them. To direct the traffic 'dyna jao' or 'bya jao' is quite different from the registration of carriages which requires looking into the condition of horses, carriages and other things. The Corporation have got an expert department with an expert officer—a European—with some European and Indian assistants as Inspectors. It is admitted on all hands that there have been some steady improvements, what have they done that this department should be snatched away from them and handed over to the Commissioner of Police ? It will be seen that since 1895 the Corporation have always been keeping an eye on this administration. In 1895 the Corporation appointed a Committee ; and in 1910 they appointed another Committee, they have always been thinking about this matter how to improve the hackney-carriage service—and they have done a lot in this matter. The outcome of the latest Committee of 1910 was the Bill that was introduced in 1916. If the Bill that was introduced in 1916 had been passed and if the Select Committee had not on the further suggestion of the Corporation made certain material alterations which in the opinion of the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda, the then Member in charge of the Bill, did require the sanction of the Government of India, this question of transference to the Commissioner of Police would not have arisen. But, unfortunately, the Bill had to be sent back to the Government of India for sanction. That sanction was obtained with reference to certain provisions of the Bill and there would have been no trouble about this Bill but in the intermediate stage when the redrafted Bill came, the attempt was again revived by the Commissioner of Police and supported by others to secure the transfer of the administration of the Hackney-carriage Act to the Police. My Lord, of course I admire the tenacity of the Commissioner of Police: the Commissioner of Police has won and his tenacity has been rewarded. I hope the Hon'ble Council will wait and pause before it gives its final seal to this proposal. My Lord, I do not want to cast any reflection on the Commissioner of Police. I should like to read to Your Excellency the observations of one or two members of the Calcutta Corporation who are members of the Trades' Association and who have taken a good deal of interest in the matter of the administration of the Hackney-carriage Department. Mr Shelton said 'that the control exercised over the taxi-cabs in Calcutta was not as it should be.' There was no classification of the taxi-cabs, no uniformity in the dress of the drivers, and no inspection of fittings or machinery. He, therefore, suggested that the taxi-cabs should be brought under the control of the Corporation.' Further, Mr. Shelton said: 'When this question of controlling the taxi-cabs in Calcutta was discussed previously, it was thought that under the Police they would be more efficiently managed; but it proved otherwise. As they had a well-organized department in the Corporation, namely, the Hackney-carriage Department, he thought they could very efficiently deal with the taxi-cabs. These vehicles were generally in a dirty condition, and therefore, stricter supervision was necessary.'

My Lord, it will, therefore, be seen that even some of the European Commissioners, representatives of the Trades' Association on the Corporation, were not quite satisfied with the administration of the Police in regard to taxi-cabs, and having regard to this fact and to the fact that the Corporation of Calcutta managed the Hackney-carriage Department for the last 40 years so satisfactorily, received encouragement and encomium from the public and Government, I do not see why in this progressive year—the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen—we shall go back to the period anterior to 1891. Your Excellency is presiding over our deliberations in this Council here as an impartial dispenser of justice, and I appeal to Your Excellency's sense of justice. If Your Lordship thinks that my submission has appealed to you, I hope you will kindly veto the proposal. The administration of the Hackney-carriage Department is a small matter, it will neither increase the prestige of the Commissioner of Police nor invest him with any higher authority than he already possesses. We, the children of the soil, are fighting for some little crumbs of power and Self-Government from the British Government and I hope, My Lord, that the little crumbs which we possess will not be taken away from us."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

My Lord, Government are unable to accept this motion, and I propose to give a full and frank explanation of their reasons for opposing it. The control of hackney-carriages, palanquins and rickshaws in Calcutta is a matter merely of local administration, and being a local matter Government thought it would be better not to come to any decision before it received the report of the Select Committee, on which there was a strong majority of members with local knowledge. There were only four official members on the Committee, and, they had no mandate from Government. With the exception of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, the official members were either past or present officers of the Corporation. On the other hand, there were seven non-official members fully representative of the interests of Calcutta and other municipalities, such as Howrah and Hooghly-Chinsurah. I mention these facts to show that Government gave practical expression to its belief that this was a measure which should be dealt with in Select Committee by those who have local knowledge, local experience and local interests to represent. The report of the Select Committee showed that, with only three dissentients, all the members, official and non-official, were in favour of transfer of control to the Commissioner of Police. All but two of the residents of Calcutta advocated it. The views of the Select Committee so constituted naturally carried weight with Government. Government were also impressed by the arguments in favour of making the Commissioner of Police the controlling officer as well as by the fact that the two authorities concerned, the Corporation and the Commissioner of Police, agreed to it, while important associations like the Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association had advocated it. Although therefore the Bill introduced by Government provided for the continued control of the Corporation, Government felt that they should agree to the recommendations of the Select Committee.

It is an acknowledged principle that the Police are responsible for the safety of the public streets. On this account, the control of vehicles plying for the hire of passengers in the streets, hackney-carriages as well as taxi-cabs, is vested in the Police in nearly all large cities. Not to multiply instances, this is the case in London and Rangoon. It scarcely needs demonstration that the existence of a single superior authority serves to secure efficient supervision and regulation of vehicular traffic, which cannot be so well secured under a system of dual control, under which also there are possibilities of friction. Calcutta has been in the anomalous position of having its taxi-cabs regulated by the Commissioner of Police and hackney-carriages by the Corporation. The Commissioner Police in his opinion on the Bill pointed out the practical inconvenience he is put to in effecting the arrest of drivers. He is ready to take over control not because he is anxious to increase his work, but because he considers that a distinct improvement would be affected thereby, which would be in the best interests of the public. The Corporation has also consented to the change. It is true that it also desired to have the transfer of the Fire Brigade made over to it and that Government cannot at present give any promise about that matter although it realises that there is much to be said in favour of the proposal. The amendment of the Licensed Warehouses and Fire Brigade Act would be necessary in order to enable the control of the Fire Brigade to be made over to the Corporation, and Government must ascertain the views of Howrah and suburban Municipalities, which contribute to the upkeep of the Brigade as well as Calcutta, before agreeing to an amendment of the Act. Their views have been asked for and after they are received Government will consider whether it should undertake legislation: the Howrah municipality has already replied and declared itself in favour of the proposal.

Apart from the question of the transfer of the Fire Brigade, Government is satisfied that the transfer of the control of hackney-carriages and the licensing of drivers to the Commissioner of Police would be a move in the right direction as securing unity of control over traffic plying for hire of passengers in the streets of Calcutta—bullock carts, which are intended for the transport of goods and not of passengers, are outside the scope of the Bill. The arguments in favour of vesting the control of public vehicles in the same authority have been forcibly and clearly presented in the letter of the Chamber of Commerce, from which I may quote: 'The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce believe that it will be only by the unification of control that a good service of cabs—whether horse or motor—is likely to be provided, and it is, they think, not unreasonable to expect that the difficult problem of traffic regulation might likewise be to some extent simplified if authority were centralised in that authority. Seeing also that the regulation of traffic in the city is in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, it follows that he should be the authority for registering, licensing and controlling all classes of public vehicles. The Committee urge, therefore, most strongly that Government should accept this proposal, and, further, that the registering officer, in view of the great responsibility attaching to his work, would be a Police officer of seniority and standing.' "

The Hon'ble MR. EDEN said :—

" My Lord, after what has fallen from Mr. O'Malley and after the arguments deduced by him, I do not propose to use any arguments against the amendment which the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur has proposed. I would, however, like to remove a little misconception regarding the attitude of two of the members of the Calcutta Trades' Association who were members of the Corporation. Mr. Phelps is reported as having given his opinion that the control of hackney-carriages should remain with the Corporation. So recently as March or April this year, the matter was very thoroughly discussed in the Calcutta Trades' Association and Mr. Phelps withdrew his objection and supported the proposal that the control of hackney-carriages should be transferred to the Police. As regards Mr. Shelton, he is now away in England. He has taken a very active part in looking after the Hackney-Carriage Department of the Corporation, but in 1916, before I spoke on this subject at the Dacca meeting, I consulted Mr. Shelton as to what his opinion was on the matter of transfer, and although he expressed himself as having strong feelings in favour of the control remaining with the Corporation, he said he was not unwilling that if the whole department could be transferred to the control of the Police, he would withdraw his objection."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

" My Lord, I deem it my duty to give to this Council my reasons for supporting the proposal which has been made or mooted in the report of the Select Committee regarding the transfer of the control of the hackney-carriages from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police in Calcutta. The first thing that I would ask this Council to remember is that this legislation affects Calcutta, and it does not directly affect the question of the control of hackney carriages which may be established regularly in any city or town in the district. I do not know whether every member of the Council is aware of the difference in the control which prevails in England as between the metropolis and the boroughs. In the boroughs the control of hackney and stage carriages is vested in the local authorities. In the metropolis, that is, in the city of London, the control of hackney carriages or rather hackney and stage carriages as they are called there, and of drivers and conductors, is in the hands of the Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, who acts as the deputy of the Home Secretary. This distinction is, it seems to me, based upon sound reason. Ordinarily, no doubt, one would sympathise with the feelings of my hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur that hackney-carriages should be controlled by local authorities, but in the metropolis where the traffic is excessively heavy, even the British people, to whom local self-government is so dear, do not object to the control of hackney and stage carriages being vested in the Commissioner of Police under the Home Secretary. Now the reason which induced me at any rate to support the proposal in the Select Committee was simply this. We all know that the heavy traffic of the streets is controlled by the Police. My hon'ble friend Mr. Pal has suggested that the argument that there is much efficiency in the unity of control is a hackneyed argument which does not appeal to him. It is not a hackneyed argument ; the principle of the efficiency of united control is one of the soundest arguments which should regulate the conduct of the executive. If I may compare very small things with great, if the efficiency of this principle was not realised in England soon the war would not have ended so early. I do not desire to detain the Council at any length upon this point, but it seems to me that to overlook the principle of efficiency and to try to raise the question of encroachments upon the sacred principle of local self-government in a side issue like this, is to miss the whole point. I am, I hope, as strong an advocate of responsible Government as my hon'ble friend Mr. Pal, but I do not lose sight of the fact that real responsible Government does not consist in controlling hackney carriages in the town of Calcutta. My hon'ble friend has referred to a matter, occurring in the Schedule, which was tentatively prepared, in the joint report of the Viceroy and the Secretary of State as to the subjects which should be treated as transferred subjects. Well, one may endorse the soundness of the principle without quarrelling with the recommendations of the Select Committee, because legislation may be deemed necessary in the near future for the control of hackney carriages in the districts. I do not suggest, and I do not think that Mr. O'Malley would suggest, that even in the districts in the mofussil, where legislation is deemed necessary for the purpose of controlling the service of hackney carriages, the police should necessarily there do the work which might better be done as it is done in the boroughs in England by the local authorities, so that keeping the subject of the control of the hackney carriages generally as an item in the list of transferred subjects, does not militate against the special provision that we may feel it necessary to make for a town like Calcutta, in view of the extremely heavy character of the traffic."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, in the first place I would reply briefly to the Hon'ble Mr. Eden. It is quite obvious I believe to the Hon'ble Member that the two representatives of the Trades' Association, until March last, were strongly of opinion that the continuance of the administration of the Hackney-Carriage Department should continue in the hands of the Corporation Mr. Phelps changed his views in March 1918, and Mr. Shelton although retaining still his strong feeling for the retention of the administration in the hands of the Corporation, found that he had no objection to the transfer after Mr. Eden had a talk with him. It will thus be seen that two of the members of the Trades' Association who had at one time very strong feelings against the transfer, and who had practically taken part in the administration of that department, subsequently changed their minds, and thought that that department should be transferred from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police. I must give them credit to say that whether they agreed whole-heartedly to the transfer or not, they have got the unity of action which we perhaps lack very much, and if that were not the case, the spectacle of European non-official members voting in favour of Government proposals in some of the contested divisions, would never have been seen, and we might have defeated the Government on many occasion. I cannot divest myself of the impression that Messrs. Phelps and Shelton, two of the most active members of the Corporation, who were against this transfer, afterwards changed their views only in deference to the views of their colleagues in the Trades Association. Further I may inform the Council that another European Commissioner, Mr. Jones of the Statesman—I do not think that he is very anxious that we should have an over-abundance of self-government—was also against the transfer.

I would not dwell on the speech of the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray. My Lord, much has been said about dual control. I repeat this is a hackneyed phrase which has been used with a view to effecting this transfer. What is this dual control? The control of traffic is one thing, and the examination of horses and carriages and the licensing of them is a different thing. All the latter has been carried on by the Corporation for the last 40 years. Past Commissioners of Police and past Governments have never raised that question, my Lord. Am I to understand that the present generation is infinitely wiser than the past generation so profoundly as to see the folly of leaving the control in the hands of the Corporation. On the contrary, I find from the proceedings of past Councils that with a view to encourage the Municipal Commissioners in their good work, the Government amended the law and placed the control entirely in the hands of the Corporation, they also amended the law in other directions in order to give them better control over horses, carriages, etc. The only argument that has been put forward against my proposal is that of dual control which has been in existence for the past 40 years. On the one side, there is the examination of horses, carriages, etc., including those of livery stables, such as Messrs. Hart's, Cook's and others ; they are not licensed by the Commissioner of Police. On the other side, there is the regulation of traffic which is under the control of the Police. Where then is the clashing of interests even under this dual control ? Therefore I do not see that any case has been made out for a transfer. As regards the question of self-government, it has been stated that in London, hackney carriages are under the Commissioner of Police. I do not know how far the Police there is under popular control. When it suits their purpose, people would compare London with Calcutta, and say that such and such a practice prevails in London and therefore it is good for Calcutta, but when we say that such and such a thing prevails in London or America, or in other self-governing dominions, they say, 'No, this cannot be applied to an Eastern people in India.' My Lord, 'the proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof.' I have ransacked the Police Administration Reports covering a period of 40 years, and I have not been able to find out that a single complaint has been made by the Police about the so-called dual control. In order, however, to help the Police in the matter of service of processes, etc., in the course of their duties in connection with the regulation of traffic that the Bill has provided that the name of every driver and his address, or change of address should be inserted in a register and a copy of that register forwarded to the Commissioner of Police. This was in the original Bill. All this has been transformed and the term Commissioner of Police has been substituted for the term Chairman of the Corporation. I do not think I should occupy more of the time of the Council, I will leave my motion to the Council.

The motion was then put to the vote and a division was taken with the following result :—

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 9.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved, by way of amendment, that the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, be recommitted to the Select Committee for modification of the Bill so as to provide for the transfer of the control over hackney-carriages to a Board consisting of the Commissioner of Police, two representatives of the Corporation, and one of Howrah and of each of the other municipalities concerned, and for that purpose to amend clauses 6, 7, 17(2), 30(2), and other clauses of the Bill.

He said :—

"My Lord, this a sort of compromise that I have suggested—a sort of half-way house—with a view to having the representatives of these municipalities associated with the Commissioner of Police: the Commissioner of Police instead of himself performing the functions of the Act will be associated with the representatives of the Municipalities concerned. The framing of by-laws is a most important part of the function and then there is the appointment of officers and all that. As regards the traffic, I may say that the proposed Board will have nothing to do with that matter because the traffic is regulated under the Calcutta Police Act, which has nothing to do with the Hackney Carriage Act. This Act extends to the outside Municipalities of Howrah, Cossipore-Chitpur, Maniktollah, Dum-Dum, Garden Reach and Tollygunj; the registration business is done in the office of the Calcutta Corporation. These are matters relating to the Calcutta Hackney Carriage Act. This Board will be composed of people's representatives and will be associated with the Commissioner of Police, and therefore I hope, my Lord, although it is a very distant hope, that this motion may be accepted. The members of the Board will not take any participation in executive work, they will be sitting round the Commissioner of Police and will make suggestions in the same way as the Board of Visitors of jails. In the jail administration there is some exchange of views regarding the treatment and diet of prisoners—we get some sort of chat round and across the table with the Commissioner of Police. This is a sort of benevolent despotism. The people will have the privilege of having some conversation with the Commissioner of Police."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, I oppose this motion for the reasons I have explained in reply to the previous motion; and I need not recapitulate the reasons I then adduced. It seems to me, however, that there are other objections also to this proposal. It does not appear to me that a Board of this kind will be likely to be very effective. Its members will be drawn not only from Calcutta but also from Howrah across the river and also from each of the other Municipalities concerned, e. g., Baranagore, Dum-Dum, Tollygunj. I should anticipate not only difficulties about holding meetings but also divided counsels, as there would be such different interests represented, and I cannot believe that a Board of this character would be likely to take prompt action in case there was any serious trouble with owners or drivers such as a strike. These are some of the difficulties which suggest themselves to me. The main objection to the proposal is that it is another expedient for perpetuating a system of dual control and preventing the unity of control which Government consider desirable."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley's original motion (item No. 6 in the List of Business) was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 10.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 1.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved that in clause 4 the following sub-clause be inserted, namely :—

(4) "The Corporation" means "The Corporation of Calcutta."

He said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to make a speech and I simply move this formally."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, Government would have no objection to accepting this amendment if it were necessary; but I fail to discover any reference to the Corporation in the Bill. The expression 'The Corporation' does not occur. The only object of this amendment would be to enable further amendments to be made, vesting the control of hackney carriages and other vehicles in the Corporation; and this is a subject on which the Council has already pronounced its opinion. I therefore oppose this amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 2.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved that in line 3 of clause 5 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, I oppose the amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 3.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved that in line 3 of clause 5 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the words "Chairman of the Corporation" be substituted.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, I oppose the motion."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENTS Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, it is useless for me to trouble Your Excellency and I would ask for permission to withdraw this amendment."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"How many of the Hon'ble Member's amendments does he propose to withdraw?"

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I withdraw all the amendments under clause 6."

The following motions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn:—

That for "clause 6" the following be substituted, namely :—

"(1) The Registering Officer shall be appointed by the Corporation, and shall keep a register in which he shall enter every hackney-carriage under the class prescribed therefor by by-law made under section 71.

Duties of Registering Officer.

(2) Every act, matter or thing done by the Registering Officer, under or by virtue of this Act, shall be subject to the control of the Chairman of the Corporation.

(3) The provisions of section 63 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, shall apply to the appointment of the Registering Officer."

If motion No. 4 be not carried, also to move that in lines 1 to 3 of sub-clause (1) of clause 6 for the words "a Deputy Commissioner of Police specially appointed by the Local Government for this purpose" the words "appointed by the Corporation" be substituted.

If motion No 4 be not carried, also to move that in lines 3 and 4 of sub-clause (2) of clause 6 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

If motion No. 4 be not carried, also to move that in clause 6 the following sub-clause be inserted, namely :—

"(3) The provisions of section 63 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, shall apply to the appointment of the Registering Officer."

AMENDMENTS Nos. 8, 9 and 10.

The following motions were also, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

That for clause 7 the following be substituted, namely :—

"The Registering Officer may, with the sanction of the Chairman of the Corporation, by general or special order in writing, delegate to any officer all or any of the powers and duties conferred or imposed upon the Registering Officer by this Act or any by-law made thereunder."

Power to Registering Officer to delegate his functions.

If motion No. 8 be not carried, also to move that in line 2 of clause 7 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

If motion No. 8 be not carried, also to move that in lines 3 and 4 of clause 7 for the words "police-officer not below the rank of sergeant" the word "officer" be substituted.

AMENDMENT No. 11.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that at the end of clause 11 the words "and a certified copy of such particulars shall be furnished to every person applying for the same on payment of a fee of eight annas" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this clause refers to the details specified in the license. I think that these particulars should be available to every person on payment of a certain fee; and this is provided in another place with reference to the particulars of drivers, horses, etc. Therefore, with regard to carriages, I submit that this provision may be inserted."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, Government are pleased to accept the amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 12.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that at the end of clause 13 the words "or the horse used therewith is not licensed for that class of carriage, or the harness used with such horse is unfit for public use" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this clause provided that the Registering Officer may cancel or suspend for such period as he thinks fit, the registration of any carriage and the license granted to the owner under this Act, whenever it appears to him that such carriage is unfit for public use. I think that some provision should be made for the contingency that if the horse or harness, is unfit for public use or if an inferior class of carriage is used, the registration of such carriage may be suspended. I hope this amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, Government agree to this amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 13.

The following motion, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

That in line 2 of sub-clause (2) of clause 17 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

AMENDMENT No. 14.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that at the end of sub-clause (1) of clause 27 the words "and a certified copy of such particulars shall be furnished to every person applying for the same on payment of a fee of eight annas" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this amendment is the same as the previous one (No. 11) which has been accepted by Government. Clause 27 relates to the particulars of the class of hackney-carriage, the name and residence of the owner and the number assigned to the horse. I think that these particulars may be supplied to any person requiring them on payment of a certain fee."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, Government agree to this amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 15.

The following motion, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, was, by leave of the President withdrawn :—

That in line 2 of sub-clause (2) of clause 30 for the words "Commissioner of Police" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

AMENDMENT No. 16.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in line 3 of sub-clause (2) of clause 49 for the words "five miles within one hour" the words "six miles an hour in the case of first and second class carriages, and five miles an hour in the case of any other class of carriage" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, the limit of 5 miles which is prescribed by this clause is not suitable for all classes of carriages. I therefore suggest that a limit of six miles an hour be prescribed for first and second class carriages and a limit of 5 miles an hour in the case of any other class of carriage.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY, said :—

"My Lord, this is a matter which Government are content to leave entirely to the discretion of Members of Council. The present law requires a minimum speed of four miles an hour. The Select Committee considered that this should be raised to five miles an hour ; and the Hon'ble Mover proposes to raise it to six miles an hour in the case of first and second class carriages and to five miles an hour in the case of other classes of carriages. It is an open question whether considering the class of ponies used, the food they get, the work they do and the risk of cruelty if they are made to do six miles an hour, that speed should be fixed as a minimum for first and second class carriages."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 17.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in line 5 of clause 50 after the word "shall" the words "on the complaint of the aggrieved party or of any public officer or servant" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this clause lays down that any owner, driver, or person in charge of any hackney-carriage registered under this Act, who, without sufficient excuse (the burden of proving which excuse shall lie upon him), refuses to let such carriage for hire, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days and shall also pay to the party complaining such compensation as the Magistrate thinks fit.

I think it will make the matter clear if the aggrieved party has the right to make a complaint. I hope my amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY, said :—

"My Lord, Government accept the amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 18.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that after sub-clause (m) of clause 51, the following sub-clause be inserted, namely :—

"(mm) refuses to let a carriage on hire by time or distance as the hirer may require."

He said :—

"My Lord, this clause imposes a penalty on a driver for certain offences which are enumerated in it. I want only to add after clause (m) that if a driver refuses to let a carriage on hire by hour or distance as the hirer may require. As frequently happens the drivers refuse to let the carriage on hire and for these things one has to run to the Police which no one ordinarily does. This is a clause which, I think, may be be inserted."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, the amendment is accepted by Government."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 19.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that in the penultimate line of clause 51 after the word "or" the word "to" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord this is a purely formal amendments which is intended to improve the phraseology."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 20.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in lines 4 and 5 of sub-clause (l) of clause 57, the words "the Court of" be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, the clause states that 'the hirer may require the driver to drive to the Court of the nearest Magistrate or to the Registering Officer.' My object in moving this amendment is that the occurrence may take place at night or after 5 o'clock in the evening when the Court of the Magistrate may be closed. It would afford great facilities to the public if it is stated that the hirer may drive to the nearest Magistrate, which expression I believe will include the Honorary Magistrates. There may be some Honorary Magistrate living close to the complainant's house. The Registering Officer will probably be in Lall Bazar."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, this amendment, if carried, will order a new terror to the life of Magistrates in Calcutta. The law at present provides that if there is a dispute between a hirer and a driver of a carriage and if any Magistrate is then sitting, the hirer may require the driver to drive to the Magistrate's Court, or, if no Magistrate is sitting at the time, to drive to the Registering officer. Clause 57 of the Bill, as now drafted, gives the hirer the option of requiring the driver to drive either to the Court of the nearest Magistrate or to the Registering officer. Naturally, if the dispute occurs at a time when the Magistrate's Court is not open, the hirer will elect for the Registering officer.

If this motion were accepted, the driver would be able to go to the Magistrate, wherever he chanced to be and whatever the hour. The Magistrate would be liable to be wakened out of his sleep or called out from his dinner to settle a dispute between an angry passenger and an obstreperous driver. This would be an unfair tax on the Magistrate, whether honorary or stipendiary. He ought to be called on to settle disputes only in Court hours and in his Court; and his private life ought to be free from interruptions of this kind. In the interests of the Magistrate, Government feel that this amendment should be opposed"

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, the Registering officer, who will probably be the Deputy Commissioner under this Bill, will be in Lall Bazar. I do not think that Magistrates, honorary or stipendiary, who are for administering justice, will ever grudge this task, as this work will be something like a Kazir Bichar. As we all know, the garrywallahs are not very reasonable and they have the upper hand of the bhadralog class, as the latter feel shy to go to the Magistrate's Court. I think that in the interests of the public this amendment may be accepted."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 21.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley to move that in line 1 of clause 58 after the words "disputes as to" the word "the" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is a purely verbal amendment, due to a clerical error."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 22.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in lines 1 and 2 of sub-clause (1), of clause 60 the words "in consultation with the Commissioner of Police" be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, in this case, as a matter of fact, the Corporation always consult the Commissioner of Police. As the Commissioner has been put on the top that is why I have sent this amendment, which however, I do not want to press."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

AMENDMENT No. 23.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that in line 3 of sub-clause (2) of clause 63 after the words "of the owners" the words "and drivers" be inserted; and in line 5 of the same sub-clause after the words "to the owners" the words "and bearers respectively", be inserted.

He said :—

"This is what is known as a consequential amendment. The Select Committee added to the Bill a new clause requiring that notice should be given of changes of driver's address or driver's residence, in order that the registering officer should know where the driver actually lives. It is obviously desirable that there should be a similar provision in the case of palanquin bearers."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 24.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in line 1 of sub-clause (1) of clause 71 for the words "Local Government" the word "Corporation" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord in clause 71, the term 'local Government' has been inserted in lieu of 'the Corporation.' I want to re-insert the term 'Corporation' here. It is a legislative power; it has nothing to do with the regulation of traffic or with the registration of hackney-carriages or with any other administrative work. It is simply legislation, and therefore without any way militating against the principle which has been adopted by the House that the administration should go over to the Commissioner of Police, the law-making function should be left to the Corporation, subject of course, to the approval of the Local Government. The Bill as amended by the Select Committee will not be affected in any way; this will not go against the principle of the Bill in any way; but will prevent the Commissioner of Police from framing whatever by-laws he chooses and submit them to Government. I do not mean to say that Government will accept everything he suggests, but it is better to have the by-laws framed by the Corporation subject of course to the approval of the Local Government."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, I am afraid that on behalf of Government, I must oppose this amendment. The Select Committee have stated in their Report their reasons for putting in the words "Local Government": they say that now that the control of hackney-carriages is to be transferred to the police it is advisable that by-laws under the Act should be made by the Local Government. It is realised that by-laws cannot be made by the Commissioner of Police and it is felt that if the Corporation had independent power to make by-laws, it would militate against the control of the Commissioner. It is therefore necessary that this power of making by-laws should be entrusted to the superior authority, namely, Government, and I have no doubt that, where necessary, before making by-laws, the Corporation of Calcutta will be consulted by the Government.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

My Lord, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has said that before making by-laws, Government would consult the Corporation, but if you consult the Corporation, their suggestions might also militate against the control by the Commissioner. What I suggest is this : let the legislative power be exercised by the Corporation, subject to the approval of the Local Government. I understand that Government will frame the by-laws. Why not let the Corporation do it ; they have been doing it for a long time and they know everything about hackney carriages and stands, etc., therefore I fail to understand why the legal power should not be vested in the Corporation subject to the approval of the Local Government. Nothing will be lost thereby. It is the law making power that I want to be left in the hands of the Corporation.

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENT No. 25.

The following motion, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

If motion No. 24 be not carried, also to move that in line 1 of sub-clause (1) of clause 71, before the words "The Local Government," the words "The Corporation with the sanction of" be inserted.

AMENDMENT No. 26.

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur moved that in sub clause (1) (d) of clause 71 the following words be added, namely :—

"and the manner in which the mark is to be used."

He said :—

This amendment relates to the marks of identification of horses to be used in hackney carriages, and so I wish to add these words. Unless this is done, there will be difficulty, my Lord, in having that particular by-law carried out. I therfore move this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, Government accept this amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 27.

Amendment No. 24 having been lost the following motion, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, was deemed to have been withdrawn :—

If motion No. 24 be carried, also to move that for sub-clause (2) of clause 71 the following be substituted, namely :—

"(2) By-laws made under this section shall be subject to the sanction of the Local Government and shall, if sanctioned, be published in such manner as the Local Government may direct."

The Council was then adjourned for lunch.

AMENDMENT No. 28.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that in line 2 of the proviso to clause 79 after the words "the Commissioner" the words "or such other officer" be inserted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is a formal amendment. The first Part of clause 79 provides that the Commissioner of Police or other police officer appointed by him shall return lost property to the owner, but the proviso omits the other officer. It is necessary for the sake of both uniformity and consistency that there should also be a reference to the other officer in the proviso.

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 29.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY moved that in line 6 of clause 79B for the word "rule" the word "by-law" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is a verbal amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 30.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that sub-clause (a) of clause 79B be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, clause 79B is a new clause added by the Select Committee. They considered it 'necessary to provide in the Bill that the driver of a hackney carriage or the bearer of a pulanquin should not be arrested nor the carriage or palanquin seized when it is actually used for the conveyance of a passenger until some arrangement is made for the passenger to proceed to his destination.' 'We have suggested,' they added 'two methods by which this may be affected."

"Government sympathise with the object the Select Committee had in view. Government quite realize the delicate situation pardanashin ladies may be put in if a driver is arrested and they are left stranded in the Street. Government feel, however, that there are practical difficulties in working the first of these two methods. As the clause runs, if a passenger tells a police officer that he must provide another ticca-garry, the police officer has no alternative but to provide another. If he is in an unfrequented part of the town, the policeman must either go off to get another, in which case the driver will probably whip up his horses and be off, or he must detain the carriage until another ticca-garry turns up, which he can engage. This would put him in an awkward predicament. It is unfair to the policemen to lay this statutory obligation on him. It should be quite enough to provide (as will be provided if this amendment is accepted) that the passengers shall be allowed to proceed to their destination before the arrest is made."

The motion was put and agreed to.

AMENDMENT No. 31.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved that in line 2 of sub-clause (1) of clause 80 for the word "Government" the words "a fund called the Hackney-Carriage Fund" be substituted.

He said :—

"This clause runs as follows :—

'(1) All fees and fines realized under this Act shall be credited to Government, and all charges incurred on the administration of this Act shall be met from such fees and fines. At the end of each year the balance of fees and fines realized during the year, after all such charges have been met, shall be paid to the Calcutta Municipal Fund.'

I think it will make the matter more clear if it is stated that all fines and fees realized under this Act shall be credited to a fund called the Hackney-Carriage Fund. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has any objection to accepting this amendment."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, I regret that Government are unable to accept this amendment. The clause, as it stands, has been copied from the Burma Act; and it is felt that it is a practical method of dealing with this matter."

The motion was then put and lost.

AMENDMENTS Nos. 32, 33 and 34.

The following motions, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

To move that in line 2 and in lines 4 and 5 of clause 81 for the words "Commissioner of Police" in the two places where they occur the words "Chairman of the Corporation" be substituted.

If motion No. 32 be not carried, also to move that in lines 1 and 2 of clause 81 the words "the Commissioner of Police or" and in lines 4 and 5 of the same clause the words "the Commissioner of Police or of" be omitted.

To move that in line 7 of sub-clause (1) of clause 82 after the words "Corporation of Calcutta" the words "the Chairman of the Corporation" be inserted.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 11.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that the Secretary be directed to renumber the clauses and sub-clauses of the Bill in consecutive order and to make corresponding alterations in all cross-references thereto.

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

He said :—

"My Lord, it only remains for me to expres the thanks of Government to the members of the Select Committee for their labours and to acknowledge the improvements which have been made in the Bill by the amendments moved by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur. I now formally move that the Bill as settled in Council, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT BILL, 1918.

13. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler moved that the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill, 1918, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, the Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, the Hon'ble Mr O'Malley, the Hon'ble Mr. Duval, the Hon'ble Mr. Hart, the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray, the Hon'ble Mr. Altaf Ali, the Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur, the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, the Hon'ble Mr. Aminur Rahman, the Hon'ble Mr. M. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri, and the mover, with instructions to submit their report in time for its presentation at the January meeting of the Council.

He said :—

"My Lord, the Bengal Self-Government Bill was introduced in this Council by Sir S. P. Sinha on the 4th April 1918, and I am sure that, while we much appreciate the reasons which have taken Sir S. P. Sinha elsewhere, yet we all regret that this Council will not have the advantage of his presence and advice in the later stages of this measure. Owing to that fact, and also to the unfortunate illness of the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, the task of moving this further motion has devolved upon me."

The Bill has now been before the province since its introduction, and a large number of valuable opinions have been received upon it, to which the Select Committee will have to give its most careful consideration and which will be of great value in arriving at possible improvements and amendments. As a general statement, I think it may be said that, just as the Bill was welcomed on its introduction, so it has received general approval on its further circulation for public opinion. The trend of the opinions received, whatever may be the views held on matters of detail, is favourable to the main principles of the Bill, welcoming it as a distinct advance in a much needed direction. There are naturally differences disclosed on matters of detail, and, in particular, as the Hon'ble Members who have read the opinions will have seen, a considerable number of recommendations have been made in connection with the respective powers of the union committees and the District Magistrate in the matter of the village chaukidar ; that, of course is a very ancient subject of discussion in Bengal. It will now come under the examination of the Select Committee, which will have to deal with the different points of view placed before them in the replies that have been received.

"Another matter, which has attracted attention, is the judicial powers which the Bill seeks to confer upon village courts and village benches. There is a certain amount of opinion expressed that the clauses dealing with these points give somewhat wider powers than is altogether wise ; but I think it has been overlooked in some of the criticisms which have been made that the conferment of these powers is at the discretion of Government, which in a matter of this kind will move slowly. Certainly Government would only select first those village committees which are clearly fit for the exercise of these powers ; also, under the Bill as it stands, resort to the village courts will be optional, the concurrent jurisdiction of the ordinary courts remaining. Therefore, people, who do not trust the village courts need not go to them.

"These are two main aspects of the bill towards which criticism has been directed, (though, of course, many other details have been touched upon), but there is also one large issue of principle that has been raised to which

I would like to invite the attention of the Council, and that is with regard to the whole proposed constitution of circle boards. As those who have read the District Administration Committee's Report will be aware, the proposal for the creation of circle boards emanated from that body, the idea being that district boards covered too large a unit for effective supervision over these village bodies; experience has shown that local boards have not been altogether a success in the general scheme of local self-government, and it was thought therefore, that it would be an improvement to substitute a body having jurisdiction over a smaller area and therefore able to take a more direct and personal interest in the village unions within its charge. The general purpose of the circle board, as explained in clause 49, is to superintend the working of the village unions, to exercise their powers in the event of supersession, and to distribute among them the grants made by the district board, since they should possess the local knowledge which will enable them to make an equitable division. In the replies received there is a fair body of opinion that the circle board is an unnecessary addition to the Bill, which will render superior supervision top-heavy, and will add another body between the union committee and the district board which may not altogether make for ease and smoothness of working. That is a view which the Select Committee will have carefully to examine. If we do away with the circle board the question will then arise: what is to be put in its place? There are various expedients conceivable, one of which is that it would be feasible to leave the local board as it is; that would involve, possibly, the minimum of dislocation of the existing system; but against that, you have the fact—to which I have already referred—that the local board has not altogether given satisfaction in the past in the matter of the value of the work which it has turned out. There may be reasons for this result. It may be said that local boards have not had enough funds to distribute, since the district boards do not trust them with responsibility, and that therefore they have not done as much as they could. However, the fact remains—and I think it is the general opinion—that the local board has not been a great success. Another solution of the matter which is mentioned in the replies is that we might constitute standing committees of the district boards for the supervision of smaller areas within the old jurisdictions of the local boards. That is a point, Sir, which will merit examination. It would eliminate an intermediate body, and possibly stimulate greater interest on the part of the district board in the working of these union committees if it had some of its members directly cognizant of the details regarding them.

Apart, however, from the issue whether the circle board is or is not a desirable part of the future machinery, there is another matter to be considered. The Bill, as framed, would be fairly simple and easy of working, provided it was introduced throughout a district or even throughout a subdivision. But in the opinions which have been received there is the view expressed that it will not be found feasible, as a matter of practical working, to make an extension covering as much even as a whole subdivision, as there are not many subdivisions throughout which these village bodies could be constituted with any very hopeful certainty of success. The view is also expressed that it would not be expedient to take a larger unit than the thana, and that even within the thana there is the risk of a certain amount of unsatisfactory working in the more backward portions of its jurisdiction. But if, retaining the system of circle boards, the Act is extended to an area smaller than a whole subdivision, we are likely to get into rather deep water; that is to say, there might be the circle board exercising its jurisdiction in one part of the subdivision and the old local board controlling the balance, and if either the transferred part or the residue were small, one of these bodies would obviously exercise its authority on an insignificant scale, while the existence of both simultaneously would be awkward; again, the existing system of election by local boards to membership of the district boards would be complicated. That is a point which will have to be carefully gone into If standing committees of the district boards were constituted it might be possible to get over part of the difficulty, though it might be objected that this entails needless interference with the areas over which the present local boards exercise jurisdiction, since areas within which village unions will not be created under the Bill would still pass under the jurisdiction of the standing committees.

That is, I think, the largest issue of principle which it will be for the Select Committee to tackle, and apart from it, it will be mainly a matter of examining the detailed suggestions with the idea of seeing whether they suggest any improvements in the clauses of the Bill."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said:—

"The people of Bengal welcome the Bengal Village Self-government Bill, 1918. I may be permitted to discuss some of the underlying principles enunciated in it, namely, (1) the protection of the village by rural police, and (2) the exercise of municipal administration in rural areas.

The growing popular feeling was that the Bengal Village Chaukidari Act of 1870 did not prove successful by the interference of the police. The provisions of Bengal Act I of 1886 and of Bengal Act I of 1892 disturbed the object and policy of the Chaukidari Act. The present Bill has affirmed the main principle of the Chaukidari Act. It aims at local self-government from the lower stratum and therefore the amalgamation of the panchayat and the union committees has secured considerable improvement of local self-government in villages. But while recognising this principle, I find there is a departure in clauses 23 and 24 of the Bill. The appointments of the village chaukidar and daffadar lie with the District Magistrate although their salaries are to be paid by the village committee Restricted powers are given to the village committee under sub-clause (2) of clause 24 of the Bill as regards the dismissal of chaukidars and daffadars. The punishment to be awarded is authorized to be given by the District Magistrate. He is authorized to appoint a daffadar. This seems to be an inconsistency in the provisions of the Bill. The principle to my mind is that larger powers are to be given to the village committee. I notice that the control of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund is given to the Magistrate in preference to the village committee.

There is another idea prevailing in the scheme of the Act. The Bill provides for the formation of the circle board. To guarantee the success of the work of the village committee these boards are to be constituted. There is a difference of opinion as to the abolition of the local boards and the substitution in their place of the circle boards which are considered unsuitable to the condition of Bengal and are viewed as more expensive.

I suppose the Select Committee will modify the various clauses of the Bill and I shall not enter into details as for example the meaning of the word resident in clause 5 of the Bill.

There is another principle which has been lost sight of in the Bill. I contend that all roads and drains existing at the time of the establishment of a village committee or of a circle board, not being private property and not being maintained by Government or by the District Boards, shall also vest in the village committee the or circle board. The formation of village courts is a marked and distinctive feature in the Bill. These courts are to be established for the convenience of the rural population.

I venture to think that it will not be to the interest of suitors, if legal practitioners are not allowed to appear in these courts, otherwise suitors will be in the hands of touts. Besides, these suitors and the judges are not expected to know much of law and therefore justice demands that pleaders should not be prohibited to conduct such cases which are tried by these Courts. The words in clause 83 of the Bill appointing all or any of the members of the committee to be a village court is open to criticism. There ought to be a bench of two or more judges. The judgment of a single judge is not expected to be more satisfactory than that of many. Besides, the member or members are untrained lawyers. It is satisfactory to note that in this Bill the trial of civil cases by a bench of judges is an indication of the trial by a jury. No doubt the value of suits must be small, but it is gratifying to the people that Government have recognised to a small extent the trial of civil cases by a bench of judges. The success of the scheme depends in the selection of the judges of the court. The same argument mutatis mutandis applies to the formation of the bench for trying criminal cases.

There is one clause in the Bill which demands the consideration of the Member in charge. The necessity of the final framing of the rules by Government after due publication. Rules are framed by Government on the authority given by the Legislature. They have the force of law. The Executive Government frame them and not the Legislature. This practice has been observed for sometime, but, I venture to think, that if they are drafted by Government and legal force is given to them, it is just and proper, at any rate, that Government will be pleased to accept public criticism on the publication of these rules.

The Village Self-Government Bill shows a desire that the administration of local affairs ought to be in the hands of the people. Any one who reads the Bill carefully will be convinced of the fact that village committees ought to be independent units in the administration of local affairs. They may prosper if there be less interference by the District Magistrates and if the several clauses of the Bill divest the interference by the Magistrate."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I am unable to agree with the previous speaker and the Hon'ble Member of Government. It seems to me that the better course would have been to wait for some time than to proceed with the Bill at present. The main idea of the Bill is to improve the village sanitation, the village drainage and conservancy with power for taxation if necessary under the supervision of the local officers who will be under the supervision of the District Magistrate and the Commissioner; and when these new bodies contemplated in the Bill will come into existence the existing local Boards and Union Committees, wherever they are in existence, would be abolished. For the last quarter of a century, ever since 1885 I believe, the District Board administration was under the supervision of the District Magistrate and the Commissioner; it is only recently and in a few instances that non-official chairmen have been appointed. I could not understand why Union Committees were not established all over the country and why real improvement could not be effected in this direction. Funds for the purpose have only to be taken out of the district fund which is at the disposal and the management of the District Board, and with some taxation that fund shall have to be augmented and utilised for effecting this improvement. In the Local Self-government Act of 1885 there is a provision, I believe it is section 118, which gives such power for assessing any taxes in the Union Committees. Unfortunately, however, only local Boards were established in many places and not Union Committees. The real work is to be done by Union Committees. The local Boards being only the supervising authority, it is not possible for the local Board to pay proper attention to the needs of the several thanas in their jurisdiction If anything is to be done it is to be done by the Union Committee, but unfortunately that could not be done. My Lord, it may be asked why at a time when larger questions are as Union Committees were not established being considered as to how far popular control should be established upon local bodies such a proposal has been put forward. As I was trying to show, all these improvements could be carried out by the District Board and Union Committees, and special officers could be appointed in the District Board to supervise and train villagers in that direction. If that could not be done under the supervision of the District Magistrate and the Commissioner for so long a period, where is the guarantee that it would be done now? If the funds are to be taken from the District Board, why should they be deprived of the power of supervision? These are things which it seems to me can be best considered in the Reformed Council. I do not know how long it will take to establish it, but at any rate, it seems to me there is no hurry about the present Bill. The Bill has been circulated, and opinions have been received. There is difference of opinion as to the special provisions that have been introduced by the Member in charge. As to the Chaukidari Act, the Act of 1870 was more useful; the Act of 1892 created difficulty and some of the powers given in the Act of 1870 were taken away by the Act of 1892. Now, there are two bodies side by side; one is the village punchayet and another the Union Committees in some places, and the Local Boards in another. There is not much power in the hands of the panchayets and in the present Bill, also I do not find that it is proposed to give them much power. As to the judicial work, I am not sure how far it will be a real benefit to the people, or whether it will be at all possible for the proposed village court to come to a decision on points of res judicata and so forth without the help of trained lawyers, or whether it will be only the village touts who will get the dvantage. Of course there are some safeguards that the people, if they are not satisfied, will go to the district headquarters or subdivisional headquarters for the purpose. However, I am not concerned with these and such other details at present; my idea is, and I respectfully submit for Your Excellency's serious consideration, whether it would not be better to postpone the consideration of the Bill for the present and let us see how far over the local bodies popular control would be established, and in what better way that can be done.

With these remarks, I oppose the reference of this Bill to Select Committee."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHERESWAR RAY said :—

"My Lord, I shall make only two suggestions in connection with the Bill now before the House. First, I suggest that a maximum rate of assessment should be fixed by law. Section 39 empowers the Village Committee to assess according to circumstances and the property within the village of the person liable to assessment. This gives an extremely wide power to the Committee and might prove dangerous in cases of strong party feelings in the village. Maximum rates of Chaukidari Tax and Road and Public Works Cesses are fixed by statute and I would strongly urge that some such rate should be fixed for the Village Fund requirements.

The other point that I would like to suggest for the consideration of the Select Committee is that petty rent suits, not exceeding Rs. 25 in value, should be included within the jurisdiction of village courts, with the proviso that on application to the Munsiff, by the defendant, they should be transferred to his own file. This will be of immense advantage both to the ryots and the zemindars. It is a general complaint of the ryots that they are unnecessarily harassed by repeated and vexatious rent suits. They say that if they have to attend far off courts, in addition to their personal inconvenience in a strange town, their work at home also suffers considerably by their absence; and oftentimes these suits are instituted, they allege, in order to make them submit to illegal exactions of the zemindar. Admitting for the sake of argument, that their allegations are true, it would be considerably to their advantage if the petty rent suits are tried in their own village. As for the zemindars, it is an outstanding complaint that petty rent suits, thanks to to the legal formalities and enforced exactions of court people, are not at all a paying affair from a financial point of view. Thus, if the tenants of small holdings, resist the payment of rents, as they generally do if there are joint landlords, the latter find it extremely difficult to realise their dues. It is therefore to the advantage of zemindars as well, if petty rent suits are tried by village courts. I therefore, urge that provision should be made to make these suits triable by village courts.

There is one further point to which I should draw Your Excellency's attention. It is regarding the composition of the Select Committee. The zemindars are vitally interested in this legislation. The burden of local taxation will fall heavily on the zemindars and there are also other matters which affect our interests. But I am sorry to observe that not a single representative of our community in this Council has been taken on the Committee. The same remarks apply to the Select Committee on the Primary Education Bill. I do not know whether it is a studied neglect of our representatives. But I think I ought to make my humble submission to Your Excellency regarding the matter.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

My Lord, of the three Hon'ble Members who have spoken on this motion, the speeches of two deal mainly with matters of detail arising out of the Bill, and I can only assure the Hon'ble Members that these details will be duly examined by the Select Committee. With reference to the remark of the last speaker regarding the constitution of the Select Committee, I can assure him that there was absolutely no intention whatever on the part of the Government not to consult the zemindars in a matter of this kind. As a matter of fact, in selecting names for the Select Committee we first took those of some members representative of District Boards, as the subject of District Boards enters so largely into the Bill, and following upon that, we tried to make the Select Committee representative of official and non-official interests and of the two great communities of Hindus and Muhammadans I do not think it can be said that there are many points in the Bill which so distinctly refer to zemindars that they cannot be adequately dealt with unless the special representatives of the latter sit on the Select Committee—moreover there is always the right of moving amendments in Council—and some members of the Select Committee are zemindars themselves, although not representing special zemindari constituencies.

The only point of principle that has been raised is that taken by the Hon'ble Babu Kisori Mohan Chaudhuri, who has, as I understand him, suggests that we should postpone the Bill on the ground that its introduction at the present moment is inopportune. I am afraid I cannot agree with the reasons which he has advanced. Even historically this is not a new subject. The desirability of encouraging and advancing village self-government, even taking modern times, certainly goes back to the days of the Police Commission. It was advocated in the Decentralisation Commission's Report, and it was also urged in 1913 by the District Administration Committee. It is constantly referred to as the burden of many newspaper articles and it is frequently mentioned in the speeches of public men as one of the crying needs of the province. It cannot be said that we have suddenly hit upon a novel idea and are going to rush it through with indecent speed. On the contrary, this Bill might well have been introduced by the late Government of Lord Carmichael, and it would have been a matter of satisfaction to the present Government if the Bill had been passed through by our predecessors in whose time it originated in the report of the District Administration Committee. Secondly, apart from the fact that it is not a new subject, it is particularly opportune at the present moment, as it seems to me, to pursue it. The air is just now full of proposals and suggestions for extensive alterations in the superstructure of Government. It is a matter of common agreement that for the successful working of that superstructure we must look to the soundness of the foundations, and it is also a matter of common agreement that those foundations are to be found in the villages, and in small bodies composed of the villagers themselves doing work in the immediate neighbourhood of their homes. The point is dwelt upon in the report of the Secretary of State and the Viceroy, and I do not wish to elaborate it, but it appears to me to be particularly appropriate, that, simultaneously with this large advance which is coming in higher spheres, we should endeavour to enlarge and improve what after all is the imediate local foundation of Government in this country, the administration of the village itself. Therefore, Sir, I can not advise the Council to accept the view which has been put forward by the Hon'ble Member—a view which reading the opinions received on this Bill and the views as expressed on platforms and in the press, is one which is held, if at all, by a small minority, even if it be not by a minority of one.

The motion was then put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL JUVENILE SMOKING BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1918.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 15.

RESOLUTIONS

(under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest).

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur moved the following resolution :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Government do take steps for the prevention of the pollution of the water of the Bhagarathi (especially near the Municipal areas which are not provided with the supply of filtered water) by trade waste waters, mineral oils, other washings, and trade refuse from neighbouring mills, factories, workshops and distilleries, etc., in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Howrah and Hooghly."

He said :—

"My Lord, the water of the Bhagarathi is nowadays polluted to a larger extent than before by trade waste waters, mineral oils, and other washings by cleaning the different parts of the machinery and trade refuse from the neighbouring mills, factories, workshops, etc., which are evidently on the increase. In 1879-80 there were in India 22 jute mills at work with 4,964 looms and 70,840 spindles only. But now (1915-16) there are jute mills in Bengal as shown below :—

Jute Mills.

Districts.	No. of mills.	No. of looms.	No. of spindles.
24-Parganas ...	42	24,032	478,875
Hooghly ...	12	6,693	141,236
Howrah ...	12	8,518	178,730
Total ...	66	39,243	798,841

Besides there are on the river side 11 cotton mills, 2 paper mills, 2 distilleries and various other kinds of large industrial establishments in the above-mentioned three districts.

The subject of the disposal of trade waste demands serious attention of Your Excellency's Council, The unfiltered water of the Bhagirathi taken very near the edge, is the drinking supply of many millions of the population in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Hooghly and Howrah. Only a very small number of municipal towns in these districts is provided with filtered water, but in the majority of municipal towns, viz., North Dum-Dum, Boranagore, Kemarhatty, Panihatty, Barackpore, North and South Barrackpore, Titagarh, Garulia, Bhatpara, Naihatty Halisahar in the district of 24-Parganas, Rishra-Konnagore, Baidyabatty, Bhadreswar and Kotrung in the district of Hooghly and Bally in the district of Howrah, there has not as yet been any arrangement for the supply of filtered water to the people.

The question connected with the sanitary condition of the water of the Bhagirathi of the present day in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Hooghly and Howrah has as a matter of fact become a very complicated problem on account of the presence of the sewage of effluents from the manufacturing processes of the neighbouring mills, factories, etc.

The principal kinds of trade refuse and washings of the different parts of the machinery met with in these places in ordinary practice are derived from following heads :—

(1) Waste waters resulting from the cleansing and other preparatory processes connected with jute and cotton fibres,
(2) Paper making,
(3) Distilleries, and
(4) Various chemical works, etc.

1. Jute cotton—Raw cotton as it reaches the spinner contains about 5 per cent. of inpurities. which, if not removed would impair the whiteness of manufactured goods and would interfere with subsequent dyeing and printing operation? These impurities, according, to Dr. E. Schunck, comprise :—

(1) A cotton wax.
(2) A fatty acid which appears to be either margaric or a mixture of palmitic and stearic acids.
(3) Nitrogenous colouring matters.
(4) Pectic acid, which forms the greater bulk of the impurities.
(5) Albuminous matter.

The bleaching of raw jute whether in the yarn or the piece is essentially the same as the process used for cotton. It is however longer and more tedious and the various processes, boiling, chemicking and souring must be repeated several times before a satisfactory result is obtained. The raw jute contains a greater proportion of inpurities than raw cotton.

Dr. H. M. Wilson, M.D., B.SC., and Dr. H. T. Calvert, M.SC., P.H.D. E.I.C. (the former being the Chief Inspector, West Riding, of the Yorkshire Rivers Board and the latter Chief Chemical Assistant, West Riding, of Yorkshire Rivers Board), Authors of a Text Book on Trade Waste Waters ; Their Nature and Disposal. Published by C. Grifin & Co. Ltd., London, state " that septic tank treatment of liquids containing organic matter can never by itself suffice to produce effective purification and the opinion is now generally held that it does not serve to bring them into the best condition for subsequent biological treatment, as they are also wholly robbed of dissolved oxygen and contain sulphuretted hydrogen. Septic tank treatment is seldom to be recommended for trade waste waters..... "

2. Paper making—Esparto grass is used for the highest class of printing papers. For writing paper, rags are used, whilst for news-papers wood-pulp is largely used. The quantity of water used is generally greatest at mills where rags and esparto are used. The waste liquors produced in the manufacture of paper from esparto grass are very often found polluted. The liquid from the boiling process is usually mixed with the liquor obtained from the fist washing of pulp. In the manufacture of brown-paper, the dirty nature of the materials creates very strong polluting liquids. Owing to the large amount of caustic soda used, in nearly all the processes of paper making the effluents from paper mills are almost invariably exceedingly alkaline, and therefore very injurious to fish life and streams in general. The adequate treatment of the strong ' kier ' liquors is very difficult and up to now there seems to be no efficient and economical way of dealing with them.

3. Distilleries.—The waste liquid derived from distilleries is mostly water which is always polluted and it speedily decomposes, lactic and butyric acids being formed. The presence of distillery waste in any quantity is apt to cause considerable nuisance. Distillery waste has been successfully treated on land and also in percolating filters, the usual course being to precipitate with lime as a preliminary process. The great point appears to be to deal with the liquid. before it becomes acid.

4. Various chemical works.—The refuse from chemical works is generally poisonous and polluting.

Mineral oils.—Various kinds of mineral oils are often used in cleaning machinery in mills, factories and workshops. These oils are sometimes visible on the surface of the water of the Bhagirathi and pollute the river to a great extent.

In the majority of cases, the solutions of the problem have been found signally wanting when actually put to the test. There is no best method of the disposal of the trade waste and mineral oils used in cleaning machinery, into the river, the unfiltered water of which is the drinking supply of many millions and which can be universally adopted regardless of local conditions in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Hooghly and Howrah.

To mention all the various trade processes in detail and the different waste produced by each, would require a much longer time than the limit of time at my disposal in moving this important resolution concerning the welfare of many thousands of the population. Under the circumstances, I do not intend even here to mention very briefly the mass of most valuable information which exists in the reports of the various committees formulated by civilised Governments in Europe and in America, and Royal Commissions which have been appointed in England from time to time, giving the best views of the period on the subject.

It would be quite impossible within the short limit of time at my disposal to-day to deal with all the points connected with the trade waste waters, mineral oils mainly used in cleaning the machinery, other washing and trade refuse which now pollute the water of the Bhagirathi.

Trades are carried on where there is generally no means of access to sewers and consequently pollution of the Bhagirathi generally occurs.

Trade wastes may consist of solids or liquids. As a general rule, however, the bulk of trade waste is in liquid form consisting of water used for trade purposes, and for carrying various impurities both in solution and suspension.

The fact must not be lost sight of" that solids in the form of heaps of chemical refuse may, through the agency of rain water, become a most serious source of pollution, either continuous or intermittent.

The Government of India in a recent resolution on sanitation concludes that "the Governor General in Council appeals with confidence to all who have interest in the well-being of India to join with him and the local Governments in a sustained endeavour to give effect to His Imperial Majesty's most gracious wish that the homes of his Indian subjects may be brightened and their labour sweetened by the spread of knowledge with all that follows in its train, a higher level of thought, of comfort and of health."

With these words, I beg to move this important Resolution on sanitation in which Your Excellency takes a keen interest. And I hope and trust that this Resolution may be accepted by all the members—official and non-official European and Indian Members of your Excellency's Council.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"My Lord, I whole-heartedly associate myself with the resolution which has been moved by my hon'ble friend, though I am not prepared to travel over the ground of the scientific researches to which my learned friend has referred. It is an admitted fact that the River Hooghly, from Calcutta upwards, to a distance of over 20 miles, as far as the tide goes, is a receptacle of all sorts of pollution ; and it has to be admitted also that in spite of the few waterworks that may have been established in some of the riparian municipalities, a large number of the population of the towns and villages on both sides of the River Hooghly who have scruples to use filtered water, do actually use the river water both for drinking as well as culinary purposes. If Government feel that it is justified in suspending Municipalities for defects of waterworks, I think it cannot ignore its own responsibilities of giving as much protection as is possible to the river-water of the Hooghly from Calcutta upwards. With these observations I support this resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, the resolution is somewhat wide in its scope, for it refers to the discharge into the Hooghly of trade waste and refuse from all kinds of industrial undertakings, whether big or small, and whatever the nature of the material they deal with; and the Hon'ble Member seems to think that all trade waste is noxious. Legislation would be necessary to give full effect to the resolution; for in Bengal there is no such measure as the Rivers Pollution Prevention Act, which is in force in Great Britain. Government cannot at this stage undertake to introduce legislation of this character, as there are not sufficient data to show how far legislation is necessary, and what form it should take. The Sanitary Commissioner has made an enquiry and finds that while some of the industrial works on the Hooghly discharge trade waste into its water, others do not. Some have installed recovery plant to prevent waste or loss of material, others have not. The Sanitary Commissioner's enquiry, however' is only a preliminary investigation. It is not exhaustive, and Government have at present not got full information as to all the discharges that come into the Hooghly and as to their hygienic effects. Dr. Fowler stated in a report on rivers that 'rivers may be polluted with trade effluents that will give all manner of strange chemical analysis, but these will not materially increase the number of pathogenic organisms. The question of river pollution is not a simple and easy one It is also not concerned merely with trade waste but extends to other things, for instance, the dumping into the river of municipal refuse and street sweepings by the authorities of riparian municipalities, etc. Before undertaking legislation it is necessary to have a full enquiry to show exactly how matters stand, what nuisances should be provided for and in what way. Otherwise there are certain to be omissions which would defeat the object of legislation. Again, it may not be necessary to prohibit some matter from being discharged into the river; other discharges may be permissible if subject to proper safeguards and so on. Government are also bound to see that any action which may be taken, while providing proper safeguards for the public health, does not imperil the industries, large or small, on which the prosperity of Calcutta and the riparian towns so largely depends. While, therefore, Government is unable to accept the resolution as it stands, it is ready to institute a full enquiry in order to ascertain whether legislation, and if so what kind of legislation, is necessary; and I trust the Hon'ble Mover will be satisfied with this assurance."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, as far as I understand the words of Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, Government intend to make a full enquiry and then, if necessary, to introduce legislation. It is very gratifying to get this information. There cannot be any doubt, Sir, that it is very uncomfortable for one who lives on the river side and the people who go to bathe in the river to see trade-refuse and other filthy things floating on the river. Thousands and thousands of applications have been made to many persons and authorities but they have been of no avail. Therefore it is highly necessary that step should be taken by Government in this connection and I approach Your Excellency's Government with that object and that object alone. Your Excellency will consider that time will be necessary to make an enquiry on the subject and legislation, if introduced, will take further time. What shall be done in the meantime is a problem which Your Excellency will have to consider. If I do understand that the people who are complaining of this nuisance are perfectly right in putting their complaint before their authorities, it is a question for consideration whether immediate steps should be taken or not. My Lord, I am not in a position to suggest to Your Excellency's Council what these steps will be, but it is for Your Excellency's Council to consider that if legislation is necessary upon the materials and facts which have been supplied to the Council, it is also necessary that immediate steps should be taken in this connection. It is a growing complaint and I cannot emphasise my idea better than this—that Government ought to take immediate steps to put a stop to the commission of this nuisaance. We can trace, Sir. the place where the nuissance is committed and if we do that then certainly some kind of injunction, some kind of steps—effective steps—should be taken immediately. Your Excellency will consider that, after a good deal of consideration, after studying the various reports of the authorities on the subjects and after personal inspection of the locality, I have come to Your Excellency's Council, complaining of the very fact which is the daily complaint of those who live on the riverside. This is all that I can say.

The motion was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 16.

The Hon'ble Khan Sahib Aman Ali moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Government High English School be established at Cox's Bazar in the district of Chittagong.

He said :—

"My Lord, Cox's Bazar is a subdivision of Chittagong. Its population is about 7 lacs ; its income from Khas Mahal only is about 7 lacs. It has come under British sway nearly 200 years ago. It is a matter of regret that up to now it has no Government or aided school there. It is not half a century that the Hill Tracts in Chittagong has come under the British rule. It has got a Government Middle English School some 20 years back at Rangamati. The inhabitants of Cox's Bazar consist of mugs, lower class Hindus and uneducated Muhammadans. It being situated far away at the east extremity of this Presidency in the south-east is left uncared for in the matter of education, though it has been given a munsif's court, a subdivision office, a Khas Mehal office and a Sub-registry office, and several police thanas; though there is a good number of pleaders, muktears, revenue agents and amlas to meet the requirements of the several offices of the court, but among them, Your Excellency will be surprised to learn, not even one of them belongs to this unfortunate subdivision. The reason is not far to seek. It is in want of English education. I believe this fact alone will commend itself for the establishment of a Government school there.

This subdivision had once the good fortune to have the advent of the Director of Public Instruction with the Inspector of Muhammadan schools, and a deputation headed by the Subdivisional Officer waited upon him, and the Director of Public Instruction was pleased to tell them that if a High English school be established there it would be a Government High English school. It is a talk of some 6 years back—no indication of establishing a High English school is yet visible. Last year Mr. Biss, Assistant Director of Muhammadan Education, went there and gave them hope that a High English school would be given. Some 60 boys belonging to this sub-division reading in Chittagong flocked there, but unfortunately the Director of Public Instruction did not fulfil their expectation and they had to revert to Chittagong again. According to the report of the Buddhist Association more than 100 students read in Chittagong ; most of them read in several schools in class VII and upwards. Complaints from Amlas of several offices and even from Hakims such as Munsifs, Sub-divisional Officers, Khas Tahsildars and Sub-Registrars are heard that they cannot give their children education at Cox's Bazar, there being no High English school. Similar complaints are heard from the people of the legal profession and from Amlas. I trust complaints like these are not unworthy to be heard. I asked the present Director of Public Instruction to visit that place. but I think that he could not find time perhaps owing to pressure of work.

My Lord, the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam had given this sub-division a Government Middle English school and had given hope of raising it to the status of a High English school. With the disappearance of that Government that expectation has disappeared like several other hopes.

My Lord, this Council will be struck with surprise that, under this Presidency, which is known to be a most advanced one in British India, there is a sub-division having no High English school. Government have given Government High English schools in several places. I fail to understand why this sub-division which is most backward is not given a High English school. Nature is not unkind to this place ; many European gentlemen far from this place frequent Cox's Bazar for change of climate and to take sea baths to remove skin diseases. In point of climate it is congenial to health. In point of education it is lamentable, it is very backward. It requires the special care of the Government, a Government which is famous for taking care in order to ameliorate the condition of its subjects.

Further delay for improving the condition of this sub-division in the matter of education will bring blasphemy upon the good name of British rule.

The Middle English school is located in Khas Mahal land. It has a boarding house, and the land in possession of the Middle English school is quite sufficient for a High English school. Additional expenditure for the erection of 4 upper classes is necessary, and if the present Government expenditure be doubled all the requirements for a High English school will be quite enough. Now by the grace of God, the financial difficulty has gone with the close of the unfortunate war. With these observations. I beseech Your Excellency's Government on behalf of lacs of Your Excellency's subjects to award a Government High English school to Cox's Bazar by accepting my resolution.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support the resolution which has been moved by my hon'ble friend to the right. I only want to say that if the Government find it difficult, as I believe they will find difficulty, to accept the resolution as it stands to pledge themselves to establish a Government High School at Cox's Bazar, I hope my friend and the people interested in Cox's Bazar and residing therein will be satisfied if the Department of Education only promise to help towards the establishment of aided High School and also encourage the local people with a grant-in-aid. I believe that is a more practical way of dealing with this matter. Considering the situation and the fact that there are no high schools, I think the matter will receive careful consideration at the hands of the Director of Public Instruction."

The Hon'ble MR. WORDSWORTH said :—

"My Lord, the subject of this resolution is one that has received long attention departmentally and particularly at the commencement of this year when a petition was submitted to Government making the same request. The matter was then investigated carefully, by educational officers on the spot, by the superior administrative officers of Government in the district and division and by educational officers who went from Headquarters at Calcutta ; and it was the deliberate decision of Government, after a long and careful enquiry, that no case had been made out for the establishment of a Government High English School in the subdivision. The words of Government were that Government were unable to accede to the request inasmuch as it was not the general policy of Government to establish Government High English Schools in subdivisions. The circumstances of the situation are briefly these. In this big sub-division, Government is a large landlord. The population are diverse in caste, creed and customs, and are backward in education, using the words in the ordinary sense ; they have not made much advance towards what we call secondary education. Government, however, mindful of its position as landlord, and also in accordance with its general policy, has done much and is doing much to encourage education in this subdivision, and I have amongst my papers a long list of the various schemes which Government has worked out and put into operation for the educational welfare of this district. They touch mainly primary and vernacular education and the training of teachers. they include special facilities for the education of Burmese children, and Mohamedan children, Government also ten years ago provincialized, i.e., turned into a Government school, a local Middle English school and so has afforded facilities here for giving education to boys up to the age of 13 or 14. This was intended to be a test of the position and of the needs of the district. This Middle English school has not flourished. It has been a great expense to Government and the expense appears to be increasing as the roll number is steadily diminishing. There is in this experiment nothing that will warrant us in going forward confidently to the establishment of a Government High English School, for in this matter of the establishment of Government High English Schools, Government has a practice and a policy. Government High Schools are regularly maintained at district head-quarters. It is true that we have in Bengal a few Government schools at subdivisional head-quarters, but there are special reasons for them. Those in Western Bengal are mainly survivals from a very early date of English education in Bengal when schools were established near Calcutta. In Eastern Bengal we have some Government schools at subdivisional head-quarters as a legacy from the late Eastern Bengal and Assam which took over temporarily and turned into Government schools certain schools at subdivisional head-quarters which there was reason to suspect were being used for purposes other than educational. This is our practice and it is based upon a policy on which the most recent authoritative statement is this. The Government of India in a resolution of 21st February 1913, stated the policy in these words : 'Subject to the necessities of variation in deference to local conditions their policy in regard to secondary education required among other things the establishment of Government High English Schools in such localities as might on a survey of local conditions and with due regard to educational effort and expense be proved to require them."

It was by this test that the needs of the Cox's Bazar subdivision were considered this year, when Government decided that no case had been made out for the establishment of this school.

The appeal to the Government is an appeal partly to Government's duty as a Government, partly to Government's duty as a landowner, and partly to Government's compassion. I have amongst my papers letters written from these different points of view, and the appeal to Government's compassion is, I believe, a confession that the local public do not believe that a high school in the Cox's Bazar subdivision can be a successful high school judged by ordinary standards. Usually when there is a real need for education in a district or locality not served by a Government school, the local public transform and put this need into effect; they establish a high school which as soon as it can prove that it is likely to be successful establishes a claim to Government's interest and assistance. This has not been done in Cox's Bazar. I believe one or two sporadic attempts have been made to form a High English school, but they have not flourished long enough to attract the attention of Government and the appeal now is that we should establish a Government High English School there because the local public are diffident about moving on their own initiative. Government therefore has considered that the need in not proved, and while I am not able to say what may happen in the future, and while I cannot recommend the Council to accept this resolution, I do ask the Council to believe that we are not insensible to the difficulties of a place like Cox's Bazar, or to our obligations as an Education Department."

The Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI said :—

"My Lord, the Director of Public Instruction has been kind enough to admit that Government is the landlord of that subdivision, and is the ruler of it also. There is no denial of that fact. Government realises several lacs of rupees annually from that khas mahal as a zemindar and there are besides other sources of income. Several thousands of people live in that subdivision. But what steps have the Government taken for the good of the people of that division within the last hundred years? We are fully aware that Government is in full sympathy with the educational needs of the people. Government has recently taken over Rangamati and has already established the Chakma High School there at a heavy cost. Government has given the people a chance there, without knowing whether it is going to be successful or not, and yet no steps have been taken for the improvement of the Cox's Bazar Subdivision which is inhabitated mostly by Maghs and some low class Hindus. The Director of Public Instruction has admitted that for special reasons in certain sub-divisions Government themselves established High English Schools. This sub-division should, I think, also be treated in the same way. There are many public offices in this sub-division and the local people cannot be appointed because they are not educated sufficiently in English. I have been told in answer to a question of mine that the initial expenditure would be Rs. 3,000 on a High English School. If we consider the income Government derives from that sub-division, then, I think, that a High English School can be easily established and supported there. The school can be situated on khas mahal land and there will be no necessity for acquisition of land. The school which is already there has a few classes and a few more classes can be added thereto. Then if Government see that the people do not appreciate the school, the matter can be dropped at once. If Government start one class just now, they will see that it will be filled up with students who have to live in Chittagong now. Cox's Bazar is a very healthy place, and the people pay a sufficient amount on rates and taxes, and Government as a zemindar have got a duty to perform by the people and they should establish a High English School in this sub-division."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

17. The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council—

(1) that a sifting inquiry be made by a committee, consisting of experts and non-official gentlemen, to ascertain—

(a) the causes which led to the recent unprecedented flood over a large area in the districts of Rajshahi, Bogra, and Dinajpur ; and

(b) the conditions of the Atrai, the Gadai, and the Baranoi rivers and the waterways connected with them, and, in particular, if the recent lowering of the railway bridges by about 3 feet in or near the affected localities has caused serious obstruction to the natural waterways of the country and has made the recurrence of such a flood possible ; and

(2) that such remedial measures be adopted as may be recommended by that committee.

He said :—

My Lord, it will perhaps be needless for me to dilate at length on the ravages caused by the recent flood in parts of the districts of Rajshahi, Bogra, Pabna and Dinajpur because details have been published in the newspapers, from which the Hon'ble Members must have already come to know of the nature and extent of the same. I can only say this that the suffering has been very great and more so because the people of the affected area are not habituated to such floods. I, for one, do not remember such a flood ever having taken place in this part of the Rajshahi Division within my life-time. Therefore, my Lord, what I want is a prevention of the recurrence of such floods in future for, as we all know, prevention is much better than cure. Of course the Government has done much to relieve the sufferers after the flood came and it will be sheer ingratitude on my part not to express to them and especially to the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming, who went to the locality for a personal inspection, my sincere thanks on behalf of the people of the Rajshahi Division, and I shall also be failing in my duty if in this connection I omit to mention the splendid services rendered in this respect by Mr. Cassells, the District Magistrate of Rajshahi, but for whose prompt action the suffering of the people of the Naogaon subdivision would perhaps have been double, the District Magistrate of Bogra and other Government officers and non-official bodies such as the Ramkrishna Mission and other relief committees local or otherwise whose genuine sympathy and untiring personal labour, at considerable self-sacrifice, for the people, have evoked great admiration and respect. But, my Lord, when the suffering caused by the flood is so great, something ought to be done, if that is possible and within our power, to prevent the annual visits of such devastating accidents and I want a committee of experts and non-officials to enquire into the causes of this flood and suggest remedial measures.

It has been suggested that heavy downpour continuously for 48 hours was the only cause. But, my Lord, to my ears this seems rather strange because the natural drainage in that part of the country has always proved adequate on account of the existence of several rivers passing through the Chalan bil and further there is no explanation why the flood was confined to limited areas and did not extend to the whole area through which these rivers pass. My information, on the other hand, is that water logging on account of the Railway bridges over the rivers and other waterways is rather the main cause of this unprecedented flood. There has been an interruption to the natural drainage by the lowering of, and diminution of spans, in the Railway bridges in the newly constructed Broad-gauge Railway lines from Pakshi to Santahar and Ishurdi to Serajgunge.

I have been credibly informed that the two rivers, the Jumna and the Atrai, meet at Suktigachha on the west of the Atrai bridge on the Northern Section of the Eastern Bengal Railway, but the waterways through the Railway line being insufficient, the water level on the west of the line after the heavy rain became 4 or 5 feet higher than that on the eastern side; and this resulted in the sudden flood in parts of the Naogaon Subdivision and Dinajpur drained by those two rivers. Similarly obstructions in the river Nagor by the Santahar-Bogra Railway line caused the flood in Bogra. The Gurnadi which is the confluence of the Jumna and the Atrai meets the river Baranai near Sherkole in the Nator Subdivision and then the river Barole or Gadai near Shaoil to the west of Chalan bil and then these rivers pass through it; but the Chalan bil water being obstructed at Bera Faridpur by the Ishurdi-Serajgunge Railway line caused the heavy flood in the areas covered by Singra and Panchupur police-stations in Rajshahi a few days afterwards. In the Kalikuri bil again the water level on the west of the Serajgunge line was 4 or 5 feet higher than that on the eastern side. This heavy rush ultimately washed away a portion of the railway line and then only the flood began to subside. It is also my information that over 500 feet of the waterways were closed when the broad-gauge line from Pakshi to Santahar was constructed. It is rumoured that the Bogra line has recently been inspected and widening of several bridges advised. Such arrangements are also necessary in the Pakshi to Santahar and Ishurdi to Serajgunge lines. If the facts, as stated by me, are true, then there is, to my mind, a clear case for a sifting enquiry for which I appeal to Your Excellency with as much earnestness as is in me and I fervently hope Your Excellency's Government will see their way to accept my humble request. As the Railway administration is with the Government of India, whatever is to be done is to be done by them. This is another reason why a sifting enquiry is necessary in this case."

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said:—

"My Lord, it requires very few words of mine to support this resolution, in view of the sympathetic interest taken by Government and the prompt and effective measures which were taken by the authorities on the spot, and besides a Member of the Government, the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming, personally went over and inspected the place. We all know how much of this distress has been caused by the recent floods and it will only be a sheer waste of time to repeat all that has been said in the papers and in the recent Government communique on the subject. I need only say that about 80 square miles in the Rajshahi Division and 40 square miles in Bogra were under flood and people were put to much distress by it. This flood is unprecedented in the annals in the history of Rajshahi; nobody knows when they will occur again, and when it does occur, how are we going to combat it? Some attribute these floods to the railway embankment for the new Sara-Serajganj Railway running from Ishurdi to Serajganj, obstructing the free passage of water to the Padma and Jamma, a length of about 50 miles, and it has only one or two openings. It is therefore absolutely necessary that a sifting enquiry should be made, and if it is found that it is due to these railway embankments, more openings should be constructed and other action taken on the advice of experts. I alluded in my budget speech last year to this Sara-Serajganj Railway and I drew attention to the fact that on one side of the embankment, water was found to be lying stagnant and crops were being damaged. My Lord, I support this resolution heartily, and I take this opportunity of thanking the Government officials who were on the spot at the time of the floods, and especially Mr. Cassells, who went waist deep into the water in Nowgong to rescue children one after another."

The Hon'ble MR. HELY-HUTCHINSON said :—

"My Lord, I should like to associate myself with this resolution, though I think that I should not like to dictate to Government what should be the composition of the Committee of enquiry which they appoint. The hon'ble mover of the resolution has said that it should consist of officials and non-officials, but I should leave it to Government to decide what form the Committee should take. The motion under discussion raises the question of railways in a river country. When railways are constructed in this country it is to the interest of the engineers who make a preliminary scheme to see that this scheme gives as much chance of profit as possible, and it is my experience that they are apt to do so at the expense of the flooding of the country and at the expense of waterways, and to a certain extent at the expense of the agriculture of the country generally. I therefore feel very strongly that an enquiry should be made to prove whether this flood is due to the embankment of the Sara-Serajganj Railway or not. If it is, then I think that steps should be taken as soon as possible to provide adequate culverts and sufficient places for the water to go through in times of flood. I beg to associate myself with the resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, the resolution of the Hon'ble Member is to the effect that a sifting enquiry should be made by a Committee consisting of experts and non-official and official gentlemen, first, into the causes of the great flood in certain districts of Northern Bengal; and secondly, regarding certain waterways and certain railway embankments."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"I accept the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Mr. Hely-Hutchinson as to the constitution of the Committee."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Order, order, the Hon'ble Member will have an opportunity of explaining when he replies."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING (continuing) said :—

"He further suggests that some remedial measures should be proposed by such a Committee. I can at once reassure the gentlemen who have spoken on this matter that Government desire an enquiry ; in fact they have been making an enquiry; but the only point on which I draw issue with the Hon'ble Member is whether the Committee that he proposes is the more satisfactory way of dealing with the situation. A Committee is undoubtedly a useful agency when data are available ; but, as I shall shortly show, that is not the case here ; and I think I shall be able to show also to the Hon'ble Gentlemen that Government will be able to follow out the enquiry which he desires by its own agency. I must thank him for his appreciation of the two officers of Govevernment intimately connected with this recent calamity, namely, the District Officers of Bogra and Rajshahi who gave most devoted work on the occasion of the flood and of the fact that Government have shown themselves not insensible to the sufferings of the people of the locality. Nevertheless, I must ask him and others to refrain from exaggeration. Undoubtedly, it was a severe flood, but many of the statements in the press are an over-coloured picture ; and, although undoubtedly the sufferings were considerable, they were only temporary.

In the first place, I wish to deal with the question of the causes of the flood. As it was an exceptional natural calamity, we should look for some exceptional cause. It may be that the railway embankments in question, some of which are comparatively modern, have contributed ; but nevertheless, there is one exceptional cause which can explain the great flooding of particular places quite apart from the railway embankment, and that is the exceptional rainfall. In that part of the country there were floods in 1830, in 1865, and again about 50 years ago ; but for the last 50 years there has been no such untoward rainfall in a very defined and restricted area. I shall make that clear by stating that in one place which bore the brunt of it, the rainfall was four times what it usually has been. Furthermore, this extensive rainfall in a very restricted area, which has not occurred for the last 50 years, happened at a time when both the Brahmaputra and the Ganges were themselves in high flood ; and embankment or no embankment, the gradient was not very steep towards these rivers. That, I may shortly say, is the reason for the great flood ; and the facts being so, it does not require a Committee to find out a reason for the flood

As regards the condition of these waterways principally in the south of Rajshahi district, the unfortunate fact is that Government are not in possession of hydraulic data for the area ; and the reason is obvious. If big floods of this description occur at long intervals of 20, 30 or even 50 years, the necessity of keeping hydraulic data does not arise. However that may be, we have not the data in sufficient quantity and we desire to obtain information. In order to obtain information, we require a staff and time ; and it should be remembered that at the present time the Public Works Department is 40 per cent of its normal cadre. Therefore, I say that the Committee would not be in a position to deal with the matter, even if it were appointed at once, inasmuch as it could only come to conclusions on the basis of material, and that material does not exist at present.

As regards the railway emkankments, that is a matter in regard to which an enquiry has already been instituted, and Government are quite conscious of the countervailing points of view which have been put forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Hely Hutchinson, the point of view of the railway adminstration on the one hand and of the people who reside in the vicinity on the other. The actual facts regarding the allegation which have been made are under investigation ; and until the investigation is completed, a committee would be unable to form any conclusion. Therefore, Sir, I say that we are prepared to give an undertaking that we shall examine the matter as soon as possible when staff is available ; but I am unable to accept the resolution in the form in which it stands. I trust that on that assurance the Hon'ble Mover will not press his resolution.

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My lord, I desire to say a few words on this matter. I am glad to find that Government has already taken some steps to enquire into the matter ; but there are certain points which, it seems to me, require further investigation. The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming has stated that the main causes of the flood are excessive rainfall in a limited area and the fact that the Brahmaputra and the Ganges were full at the time. But I understand from people of the locality that the flood on the offside of the embankment was much less than that on the other side ; that water on the offside subsided much more quickly and that there was no appreciable distress on the offside of the embankment. That is a point which goes to indicate that the embankment had something or other to do with the matter.

My lord, as regards the question of distress, I do not know whether it was exaggerated in the press ; but it must be admitted that the necessities of the matter require that the matter should be attended to as soon as possible. Not only should the matter be attended to but the public ought to be taken into the confidence of Government. If as a matter of fact the railway embankment had nothing to do with it, then it ought to be made possible for the Government to explain that fact to the public. From that point of view, I suggest that a sifting and open enquiry be made by the Government. My lord, my whole object is that in that enquiry the public will be entitled to place before either the Committee or the Government officials who hold the enquiry their point of view. I further suggest that the result of the enquiry be published at an early date. I quite appreciate the difficulties of the Government at the present moment. Government is no doubt shorthanded in regard to officers of the Public Works Department ; but the question is one which does not admit of delay. The Council has heard from the Hon'ble Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan that about 120 square miles suffered, it may be temporarily. In a question like this it may perhaps be necessary that additional officers should be appointed. If officers have to be drafted from other provinces, they should be so drafted. I therefore suggest that Government should make a sifting and an open enquiry and should publish the result of that enquiry and, if necessary, should take adequate steps.

If Your Excellency will permit me, I should like to move an amendment to this resolution to the effect that "a sifting and open enquiry be made by Government as regards sub-clauses (a) and (b) of clause (1) of the resolution. As regards clause (2), I suggest that the result of such enquiry be published, and if necessary adequate steps be taken at an early date."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"It is a question for the Hon'ble Member in charge to decide whether he objects to this amendment being moved."

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My Lord, under the rules, we are required to give 7 days' notice but the list of business was circulated to us only on Thursday last (21st). I was not in town on that day and if I were in town I could have given only 3 days' notice."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I am told that this particular resolution was circulated 11 days before the meeting of Council."

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry that I made an incorrect statement due to a misapprehension. I was referring to the list of business. I now remember that copies of the resolutions were as usual circulated earlier."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"My Lord, I am in some difficulty in replying to a matter of this kind at such short notice. I do not wish to take advantage of the fact that such short notice has been given ; but I should like to have time to consider this proposal for an open enquiry. I am not prepared at the present moment to agree to such an arrangement. The matter primarily concerns the Railway Board and the Government of India. I am not quite sure whether the Hon'ble Member, in making this suggestion, was thinking of some of the arrangements which the local Government have made to meet the unfortunate results of the floods, or whether he was referring to the enquiry proposed as regards the cause of the flood and its connection with the railway embankment. If he was referring to the latter matter, then at the present moment I am not prepared to accept the arrangement that there should be a public enquiry. As I have already stated on behalf of Government, we are quite prepared, when we get men and material,—which I hope will be in a short time,—to continue the enquiry which we have already started."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Under the circumstances, the Hon'ble Member in charge objects to the amendment and I cannot accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, it is not necessary for me to add anything to what has already been said by my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter. Of course, it would have been better if my friend's suggestion could be accepted. I am however glad and thankful to Government that an enquiry has already been instituted in this matter. My only suggestion is that a public enquiry be made, or at any rate the public may be taken into confidence and that the result of such enquiry be made public. As an enquiry is being held, if there are persons who have local knowledge, they may be asked to submit their suggestions ; and I shall be quite satisfied if that is done. I have submitted to Your Excellency the fact—and if it is true it demands consideration—that on the west bank of the railway embankment the level of the water was 4 or 5 feet higher than that on the east. This clearly shows that this was due to obstruction and that is what caused the flood. That is a matter on which special attention may be given and all possible assistance from the public may be taken. Of course as there is an assurance from the Government I do not press this resolution."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the orders of supersession of the Municipalities of Burdwan and Hooghly-Chinsurah be reconsidered and withdrawn.

He said :—

"My Lord, it is with some amount of diffidence that I rise to move this resolution before this Council. The question of the dignity and of the honour of the towns of Burdwan and Hooghly cannot be a matter of greater concern to anybody else more than it is to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the portfolio of Local Self-Government, and it would look that it is a bold step on my part to question an order passed by him. But my Lord, as a non-official Member representing the Burdwan Division in this Council, I felt it my duty to bring forward this motion because the question had caused great excitement not only in the two Municipal towns but throughout the Province, and I felt that I would be shirking my duty if I did not do so. My Lord, I do not hold any brief on behalf of the Municipal Commissioners neither am I a great admirer of the defunct body nor was I one of their supporters; but I must say and I also feel that the drastic measures adopted to punish them have not been justified. I know the faults of the Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan, and I know their failings and shortcomings and also I know that they are not few, but still the extreme measure was not called for. Besides they had some extenuating circumstances in their favour, as the body of Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan had done also some good works at critical times. Their difficulty arose since the days of the floods of 1913 when their roads were swept away, houses were practically levelled to the ground and great damage was done to property and to the town and to municipal works and on account of that there was a large accumulation of arrears and a great change in the condition of rate-payers, which made it very difficult for the Municipal Commissioners to realize their dues; and it is for this reason and other causes that large arrears were allowed to accumulate. As has been explained by the Municipal Commissioners, these are the arrears about which a good deal has been said in the Government resolution. The arrears were also delayed on account of the difficulties of realization of the assessments on holdings and the appeals that had to be disposed of before any taxes could be realized. It has also been said that there was want of control over municipal employees.

In the first place, My Lord, so far as that part is concerned, I cannot agree with the Government resolution that there has been any marked want of control on the part of the municipal executive over the municipal employees. No doubt, there was a case of embezzlement and some other cases of theft, so far as the municipal properties were concerned. But, my Lord, that does not show necessarily that there was want of control. Have not there been cases of embezzlement in Government treasuries as well as in Collectors' offices and District Judges' offices also? Does that mean to show that there was want of control? These things do happen now and then. Even only the other day a Post office clerk embezzled a large amount of money out of the Savings Bank account and he was not detected in this embezzlement till the Accountant-General of Posts and Telegraphs found it out some months after. The man was arrested, prosecuted and sentenced to imprisonment, but nobody ever suggested that because there was such an embezzlement either the Department of the Post Office should be suspended or superseded or the Postmaster-General should be punished on that account. Then, again, my Lord, the Municipal Commissioners have this much in their favour that they have during the period they have served increased a large supply of water to the town of Burdwan. The number of house-connections has been vastly increased; and they were also going to almost complete the elevated reservoir for a better and continuous supply of water to the town of Burdwan. Unfortunately, however, they could not complete it owing to the contractor not being able to supply certain instruments and materials which he wanted in this time of the war. Besides that, my Lord, the difficulty in these days of transit and of getting materials and the rise in the prices have not enabled them to carry out many improvements which they would have otherwise done.

A reference has been made in the resolution itself about the fact that no arrangement had been made for flushing the drains. But, my Lord, I wish to tell this Council that when Government sanctioned the drainage scheme for Burdwan some people of that place said: "Before we start the drains you should arrange for their proper flushing and a system for the supply of unfiltered water to the town." Then the Sanitary Engineer and other advisors of Government said:—'Let the drains be completed first and the question of flushing will be taken up later on'; and for this reason there is no supply of unfiltered water. But, at the same time, it must be said that the drains have not been allowed to remain uncleansed, and every attempt was made by the defunct Municipality to do all that should have been done.

Above all, my Lord, my objection is not so much about Municipal Commissioners because we ourselves have a good deal of complaint about them. But my objection is that we, the ratepayers of Burdwan, had done absolutely nothing to justify the punishment meted out to us. The Municipality was established in Burdwan nearly 33 years ago and it was, I am told, the first Municipality which enjoyed the rights of election and since then the citizens of Burdwan have exercised their franchise with credit and advantage to themselves and to the satisfaction of Government officials. Till now nothing can be said against us; and, I may inform this Council and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department, that it was only nine months back that the ratepayers of Burdwan found it necessary and desirable to start a Ratepayers' Association to see for themselves, to supervise and at the same time help the Municipal administration and also to see that the necessities of the ratepayers were carefully looked into. What was the significance of the establishment of this Association after 32 years, if it was not that the ratepayers perceived that there was some apathy or neglect on the part of the Municipal Commissioners to do their work properly, and as soon as they found slackness on the part of the Municipal Commissioners, their masters, the ratepayers of Burdwan established their association to put a check on their work and conduct and they proved themselves to be hard taskmasters. I might also inform the Council that the ratepayers appointed ward committees to look into the matter and to advise the association on the working of the municipal questions. There were some Commissioners who did not give satisfaction and, I believe, those Commissioners included both the Commissioners appointed by Government, as well as those elected by ratepayers. The ratepayers have been punished for the faults of those Commissioners; but Government has not punished those whom they appointed as Commissioners of that Municipality. Then we were anxiously looking forward for these Commissioners should to be brought before the Tribunal of the ratepayers at an early date to receive the verdict on their work, and, I think, the verdict of the ratepayers would fully justify the confidence that has been reposed in them. But that opportunity was denied. The present body of Municipal Commissioners, who have been superseded, had served the full term of their office and they ought to have gone out by the 16th of December last but they were allowed to remain as fresh elections were to be held, and it was notified towards the end of September that the general election of the Commissioners would be held on the 8th November 1918. Unfortunately this privilege was denied to us by the order of supersession passed on the 1st October and we were not given an opportunity of exercising the right that we had of choosing our representatives and of passing our judgment on the work of these Municipal Commissioners. I see no justification, my Lord, even admitting that the Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan and their executive were guilty of gross neglect and misconduct, for disenfranchising the whole body of the ratepayers because they had the foolishness or stupidity to elect these men. If there had been cases in which Government officials were found guilty of gross neglect, nobody would ever challenge that Government were guilty for the conduct of these men. Here justice demanded that the Municipal Commissioners should have been punished and not the ratepayers of Burdwan.

"With reference to the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, I think, my Lord, that I speak the sense of my non-official friends when I say that a great wrong has been done to a worthy body of public men and public workers. Nothing has been said either in Hooghly or elsewhere about the public spirit, the zeal and the energy displayed by the Executive and the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. In the Government resolution much has been said about the water-works, about meters, about the supply of coal and about the mis-spent expenditure of water-works money and about the waste of water. But it must be remembered, My Lord, that it is due to the energy, zeal and enthusiasm shown by the present body of Municipal Commissioners and especially their worthy Chairman that the present water-works came into existence. It was his exertions and endeavours which made it possible for the Municipality of Hooghly-Chinsurah to have the advantage and luxury of the supply of filtered water. The late Chairman of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality was the leading spirit of the whole movement which brought about the establishment of water-works. No doubt the Municipal Commissioners and the Chairman received a good deal of help from Government and a great deal of sympathy and assistance too, but the idea originated with them and they worked hard for it, and the late Chairman himself contributed a princely sum for the establishment of water-works. Is it reasonable to expect that a man who worked so hard for the establishment of water-works and to whom the question was so dear, will do anything which will cause the mismanagement of the same fund or bring the whole administration into discredit? It has been reported, My Lord, that there was some difference of opinion between the Municipal Commissioners and the Sanitary Engineer at the very start and it was through the intervention of the then Collector of Hooghly, Mr. Prentice, that matters were set right. But, my Lord, since then, there have been some differences of opinion between the Sanitary Engineer to the Government and the Municipal Commissioners about many things. The principal charge against them is that they have persistently neglected to have a storage of coal for six months' consumption. The Municipal Commissioners say that they wrote to several firms, both Indian and European for the supply of coal, but they were told that they could not get that supply. My Lord, even then what was the harm if they had a month's supply? The water-works never stopped for want of coal supply; nor was there any imminent danger on that score.

The greatest offence of the Municipal executive was that they refused to put in meters in those houses where there was water-connection. My Lord, I am told—and I think a statement has been publicly made in the Press and elsewhere—that the Government asked the Municipal Commissioners to put up meters and that they agreed to do so. A challenge was however drawn up by the ratepayers that they were not bound to do it and that if the Commissioners wanted to put up meters, they must pay for it themselves. The Commissioners being thus in a dilemma did the only thing they could possibly do—to approach the Legal Remembrancer through the Collector for an opinion as to whether they could or could not realise the money from the ratepayers for the installation of these meters. They had not at any rate received the reply from the Legal Remembrancer when the order of supersession was passed. There can be no doubt that they wanted to put up meters but the only thing they wanted to do was to satisfy themselves that they would not be legally liable for the cost of the same. I am told that there are two cases pending for judgment in the High Court. regarding the setting up of meters in private houses, when they were not sure that they could realise the money from the rate-payers. As regards the Municipality paying it themselves, their funds would not permit it. I am told that they also appealed to Government for a loan for the purpose, if the Government insisted in having those meters set up, but the prayer was not acceded to. Then again, why should the question of not putting up meters affect the Municipalitity. Has there been any considerable wastage of filtered water in Municipal towns? The average consumption of water in Hooghly is not much more than it is in other Municipalities of a similar nature. It has been stated that the roads are not good and the streets not properly lighted. But my lord, the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality is in a very unfortunate position in this respect. They have got a large area to administer, and a very large area of roads to maintain, and these roads pass through jungles and mango groves; they realise a very small amount in taxes and they have to maintain very long roads, and for this purpose their roads cannot be kept in a condition they would like to put it. But I want to know whether the condition of roads in Burdwan and Hooghly are in any way worse than those of other Municipalities, whether under non-official or official chairmen. Of course, they connot campare with the roads of the southern portion of Calcutta or the new Capital of Dacca, Ramna, but speaking of other towns, I think they are not worse than other Municipalities. My Lord, so far as my countrymen are concerned, we have not been convinced that there was any case made out for the supersession of these Municipalities, and in the case of the Hooghly Municipality, the Commissioners when they found that the Government was pressing them hard to do things they could not reasonably perform, I may say that as trustees to the rate-payers, they did the best thing they could and they resigned in a body and the only Commissioner now left is the Civil Surgeon of Hooghly. If the Government thought that they misspent the rate-payers' money or mismanaged the rate-payers affairs, the proper course would have been to sit on judgment on those Commissioners, and to pass their verdict on their conduct. It was not fair to disenfranchise the ratepayers for the crime of the Commissioners.

In the case of Burdwan there may be some justification for punishing the Commissioners, but there was absolutely none for the disenfranchisement of the citizens of Burdwan, and especially when it was only recently that they had begun to show a greater interest and more activity in municipal affairs and in matters of municipal elections. My Lord, the citizens of Hooghly and Burdwan say that if they had an opportunity of drafting resolutions, they could make out a better and more convincing and stronger case for the abolition of some of the departments under Your Excellency's charge, and I think my lord, that considering the circumstances and considering the fact that in these days we are looking forward to greater liberty in the matter of local self-governing bodies, I think it is very unfortunate that advantage has been taken of one or two mistakes to supersede two of the most important municipalities in this Presidency. Up till now, there has been only one case of supersession of a municipality and it was that of Santipur many years ago, and that municipality was superseded because the Commissioners persistently refused to carry out Government's orders regarding the supervision of conservancy. But in this case when the Municipal Commissioners of Hooghly and Chinsurah found that they were unable to carry out Government orders, they resigned making room for a fresh set of Municipal Commissioners to see if they could carry out those orders. The rate-payers were not given an opportunity of passing judgment on the conduct of the Municipal Commissioners, and in justice to the Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan, I must say that bad as they were, they were never called upon to offer an explanation of the charges that were brought against them, and they were never even apprised of the fact that a measure like this was in contemplation, and they were taken aback—the citizens much more so than the Commissioners themselves.

With these words I beg to move my resolution and I hope Your Excellency's Government will see their way to accept it, or at any rate to see that the citizens of Hooghly and Chinsurah are allowed the privilege of choosing a new set of representatives for the working of their local affairs.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"My Lord, I have gone very carefully through the papers connected with the case of the Burdwan and Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipalities as far as they were available to me. I am not quite sure that the order against Burdwan was altogether unmerited, and it would have been very desirable on the part of the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution to divide the two cases, and to ask the vote of this House first on Burdwan and then on Hooghly-ChinsuraM unicipality. However, I am free to say that I am not fully satisfied that the Commissioners of the Burdwan Municipality did not or rather had not failed in their duty, strictly speaking. Whether there were actual cases of embezzlement and of theft as my hon'ble friend said, I do not understand what more is required to condemn the Commissioners of a municipality where theft can take place and embezzlement can be possible. Of course the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem is perfectly right in saying that for the offence of the Municipal Commissioners, it is the rate-payers who have been really punished. To that extent I fully agree with him, and the proper course for the Government would have been, not to supersede the Municipality, but to have watched a few weeks, and then to have another election which was coming on. But, my Lord, I am constrained to say that as regards Hooghly-Chinsurah, I have gone carefully through the papers, and I am sincerely of opinion that the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality have been more sinned against than sinning. Two indictments have been brought against them, viz., shortness of the supply of coal and secondly of insufficiency of meters. With regard to coal, it was said that they had only one month's supply, whereas there was a large order from the Sanitary Engineer for six months' supply. My Lord, I know of cases of jails, which are departments of Government, where the whole concern of brick manufacture failed at the time for want of an adequate supply of coal. That was a very critical situation, which we all know, and which ought to have been taken into consideration in the order of the Sanitary Engineer. My Lord, on the 9th of October, the supersession was passed by Government and it would be interesting to know how many months' supply of coal has been collected in Hooghly during the time the District Magistrate has been in charge of this municipality. I do not think that he has collected six months' supply of coal, although times are now altered, and the war is now practically ended. Then, with regard to meters, I understand from the papers that have been supplied to me that a number of meters had been purchased by the Municipal Commissioners, but the ratepayers objected to purchase them, and there was a question pending as to the legality of putting up meters by the municipality and trying to realise the actual cost from the rate-payers. That question was not also settled, and I would like to know, as I have already said in the case of coal, it would be very interesting to know how many meters have been fixed by the District Magistrate of Hooghly since the 9th October up to date. The thing is I cannot for a moment divest myself of the conviction that the order of Government in the case of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality was a hasty order. More inquiry should have been made and more opportunities should have been given to the Commissioners to comply with the wishes of the Sanitary Engineer, and it is still more deplorable that simply because the Sanitary Engineer had his own fad, viz. that you must have a supply of six months' coal, and because they failed to do so, they should have been superseded. It is a very drastic measure and it augurs not at all well for other municipalities in the country. If the commissioners of Hooghly-Chinsurah after having themselves initiated this great improvement in the town and having spent so much for the installation of water filters, have come to grief simply because they were unable to stock six months' coal, I doubt whether it would not be a positive discouragement to any other municipality to come forward to inaugurate similar improvements in their town. They had established this water work in 1914, as I understand, and within four years and under such trying circumstances as were created by the war, Government did not pause to consider whether such a drastic step should or should not have been taken with regard to the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. I fully believe there is greatness in owning one's mistake; there is no greatness in persisting in error and I hope and trust that Government will rise to the fullest height of the occasion and admit their mistake, and then restore the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality to its former position and allow them sufficient time and opportunity to deal with the difficult situation. Whether official prestige will suffer or increase in the estimation of the public, it will of course be a matter for the Government and the public to decide. If I am to give my own opinion my free conviction is, as I have already said, that the Municipal Commissioners have been more sinned against than sinning, and the Government would rather rise in the estimation of the public if the error which it has committed in regard to Hooghly-Chinsura, were sooner than later rectified.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, at this hour I do not like to take up much of the time of the Council. All I can say is that the decision with regard to the late Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality has not satisfied the public, and as far as we have been able to gather, they are not seriously to blame, and I suggest the explanation which has been submitted may be accepted, and that Government would reconsider its decision, and the punishment that has been meted out to this municipality may be withdrawn. As regards the Burdwan Municipality it is very difficult for us to know all the facts, but this much I can say that we sympathise with the rate-payers. There may be some shortcomings on the part of the Municipal Commissioners, but why were the rate-payers deprived of the privilege of electing a new body of Commissioners to set matters right we fail to understand. Whatever may be the real facts, at least they have a just ground of complaint and we hope that in these two cases the Government will reconsider the situation and restore their privileges.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, the question raised in this Resolution is of such paramount importance to the growth and development of self-government in this country that I feel I cannot record a mere silent note when this matter is being discussed in the Council. I therefore propose to say a few words in support of the resolution, but having regard to the lateness of the hour, I promise to be very brief in my remarks. My Lord, I cannot help beginning by saying that it is a matter of very great regret that at a time when the whole world is emerging towards freedom and progress it should have been left to the Government of Bengal to sound a retreat by adopting a policy which I very much regret to say is somewhat inconsistent with those enlightened principles which have hitherto formed the key-note of British administration in this country. I beg to assure your Excellency that my feelings are very strong in the matter as I feel that the decision that has been arrived at, if pushed to its logical length, means the deathblow of the progress of self-government and the development of self-governing institutions in general and I consider it herefore a matter of great regret that this decision should have been taken at a time when for all nationalities and for all races the right of self-government has just been so triumphantly vindicated by the shedding of the best blood in the world.

My Lord, the resolution relating to the two municipalities although worded in one sentence and although permitted to be discussed together, will be, as I understand, open to voting separately. I do not wish to go over the ground already covered by the Hon'ble Member or the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, but I wish to make one or two remarks as regards some particular points that arise for discussion and for consideration. I may say at once that the position I take up is this, to use a legal phraseology, that although in these cases the evidence justifies a verdict of guilty against the accused the extreme punishment was certainly not called for. I thought I noticed a sort of diffidence in both my Hon'ble Friend Maulvi Abul Kasem and Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar when referring to the case of Burdwan as if, so far as the order with reference to that municipality is concerned, their hearts were not moving with their tongues, or in other words, they were full of eloquent words so far as the condemnation of the decision is concerned, but that they were not quite satisfied that the order was not justified. What I submit is that whatever the evidence against these two municipalities may be, as I have already submitted, some punishment other than that already meted out to these municipalities should have amply met the requirements of justice. It is not therefore necessary for us to apportion the measure of guilt or blame to the Commissioners and the ratepayers or to differentiate between the exact nature of the offence committed by either of the Municipalities concerned. Reading the Government Resolution on the subject I find there are two main charges standing out prominently amongst the various charges that have been levelled against these two Municipalities. The first charge is that these Municipalities are practically on the verge of bankruptcy, that the Municipal Commissioners have shown the most extraordinary slackness in realizing taxes, and that works of public utility have had to be postponed for lack of funds. My Lord, I think it is a matter of almost every day experience with those who have studied the working of Municipalities in any Indian town that these Municipalities are extremely poor so far as finances are concerned and in the vast majority of cases, they have got an area to administer for the administration of which the funds at their disposal happen to be absolutely inadequate. One reason for this is that the people who are taxed to supply the finances to the Municipalities are extremely poor. I think I do not exaggerate when I say that, speaking generally, in the vast majority of cases, a very overwhelming number of the majority of ratepayers cannot pay the taxes that are imposed although these taxes are really very low. The people are too poor. My Lord, we read in the Montagu-Chemsford Report that the people in this country generally are poorer far below the standards of Europe. Examples have been given showing how poor really the average Indian is and I think it is a matter well-known to your Excellency's Government that the average Indian who has got to pay his Municipal taxes really finds it difficult to pay those taxes in time. The result is that the money that is raised by Municipalities by taxation is absolutely inadequate. In these circumstances the proper duty for the Government is not to pass extreme measures like the one under discussion but to come forward with generous grants from provincial revenues. In reading the Resolution of the Government of India on Local Self-Government I find these two observations which I would certainly think puts the whole case in a nutshell. There is a growing demand, says the Resolution, on every side for improvements. Speaking of Municipalities it says, it is not possible for all Municipalities to finance large schemes of water-supply and drainage. Then the Resolution goes on to say that the Government of India have also accepted the further recommendation of the Commission—refering to the Decentralization Commission—that assistance should be given by Government to poorer Municipalities which, without it, would be unable to carry on the normal administration required of them. My lord, historians tell us that amongst the ancient Arabs there was a horrible custom of infanticide which was as revolting to the finer instincts of human nature as could possibly be. We are told that when children were born in a family and their number was increasing, the Arabs used to decide how many children should remain and for the rest the decision was that they should be killed in order to relieve the family. This may be a short and safe method of dealing with an uncomfortable situation but it is hardly a pattern for a civilized Government to follow. Because a municipality is poor, because it cannot get on with its work and because Government is not ready to offer financial help—therefore according to the principles laid down by Government the municipality must be superseded! Is it necessary, is it fair, is it just, it is consistent with all the principles on which civilized Government is based, that the municipality should be throttled and the custom of the pre-Ishmalite Arabs should be adopted? I submit, to a question like this, there can be but one answer.

The second charge against these municipalities is that there was a prevailing corruption and that the administration of those municipalities has been disgraced by cases of theft, embezzlement, etc. My lord, as my Hon'ble friend has already remarked—where is the department under Government which will be free from such charges? The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray is going to give us today a lengthy statement so far as corruption in public offices is concerned and we expect, if the matter is taken up at this late hour, to listen to a tale of bribery in public offices. What about that fancy department of Government—which should be nameless for the present—which is always being pampered and which has become a blot in the fair fame of the British Administration in this country? Can it be suggested that because this corruption existed, the head of the department should be held responsible and punished with extreme penalty for faults which he has not the power of controlling? My lord, I have not had the honour nor the privilege of knowing the conditions of things in Europe, but I do think that if an inquiry is made, it will be found that bribery and corruption do exist in European municipalities also. But would anybody suggest that because these defects do exist therefore the one punishment to which the municipalities can be subjected is that of immediate strangulation? I submit that even accepting the case, other punishment could have been deemed adequate to the requirement of the situation.

Then my lord, my Hon'ble friend the Mover has made a reference to the fact that the punishment has been inflicted not on the Municipal Commissioners because they had already served out their term, but to the rate-payors, and that in the case of the Burdwan Municipality it was hardly necessary, because the Municipal Commissioners there had been mismanaging the work of the Municipality in such a way that they had already lost the confidence of the ratepayers and in the election which was to have been held in November it was quite on the cards that they would not be given another opportunity of coming into office and mismanaging the affairs of the Municipality. That right has been rudely taken away from them for practically no fault of their own.

"My Lord, I do not wish to take up further time of this Council. If one reads the report of the Mesopotamian Commission I think he would come to the conclusion that a heavier indictment was made against the Government of India than that made by the Government of Bengal against these Municipalities."

(At this stage, the Hon'ble Member having reached the the time-limit, had to conclude his remarks).

The Hon'ble Mr. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, in reply to the resolution I may say, at the outset, that the view of Government in passing orders of supersession was that, considering the long continued mismanagement, the persistent neglect and incapacity of both municipalities, it had no option, if it was to be true both to its trust and to its position as the supreme controlling authority over local bodies, but to supersede them. It is an essential part of local self-government that Government should reserve to itself, and unhesitatingly exercise, powers of external intervention in case of grave and gross maladministration. Self-government has its responsibilities as well as its rights, and it is the duty of Government to see that municipalities discharge their responsibilities. The Hon'ble Mr. Fazlul Haq has said that the Bengal Government have sinned against the principles of self-government and their development. I may quote from the resolution of the Government of India on local self-government from which he himself has quoted. The Government of India there say : "It is certainly necessary to maintain ultimate powers of intervention which are in no way peculiar to India, and which carry out the view that the control of Government over local bodies should be exercised from without rather than from within." At the same time, Government is extremely chary of exercising its power to supersede incompetent municipalities. As was pointed out by one Hon'ble Member, there has been only one previous case of supersession during the 34 years the Bengal Municipal Act has been in force. Apart from other considerations, it means a heavy addition of work to an already overworked District Officer, and I can assure the Council that Government would not add to the burden he bears except under the compulsion of grave necessity. If further proof of the unwillingness of Government to supersede is needed, I may point to the long time that elapsed before Government took this step—how patient it was with both Municipalities in spite of their persistent neglect of advice, instruction and warning. In both cases again it was careful to supersede not for a long time but only for one year, and the state of both municipalities is so bad that although the District Magistrate will undoubtedly reform the administration, he will find it a hard and difficult task to bring the administration up to the standard which Government would desire to see established before the year expires and the Municipal Commissioners resume management.

"Government, however reluctantly, felt that it was their bounden duty to discharge the trust vested in them. It is not a case of one or two or of a few mistakes as stated by the Hon'ble mover. There was long continued mismanagement in both municipalities. In Burdwan, year after year, the same gloomy tale of faction, inefficiency, waste of public money—in fact, general mismanagement and maladministration—had to be told. The Collector, the Commissioner and the Government had stigmatized the laxity of administration throughout the time the Municipal Commissioners had held office, but no attention was paid. There was no attempt at reform: things went from bad to worse. There were undoubtedly some Municipal Commissioners who were anxious for reform, but either their energy or their power was insufficient and they failed to effect any improvement. The influence at work, the prevailing spirit, is sufficiently clear from the fact that when a special enquiry was held this year by a Deputy Magistrate under the District Magistrate's orders, it was impeded by efforts to suppress the facts and to alter or destroy incriminating documents.

"In Hooghly-Chinsura, the Municipal Commissioners failed to fulfil their primary duty of managing their affairs so as to pay their way. The District Magistrate had the unpleasant task of taking over a Municipality with arrears of Rs. 32,000 and a cash balance of only Rs. 850. Collections had been neglected, there were arrears of taxes aggregating Rs. 12,000: no warrants had been issued for the first quarter of the year, and as the period of limitation is 3 months after the demand is presented, they cannot now be issued. All that can be done is to hope that the defaulting rate-payers may be persuaded to pay up or forced to do so by the slow and tedious process of civil suits. Bills were unpaid for over two years and more: the unpaid bills for coal alone amount to Rs. 5,000. Much has been made of the difficulty about getting coal, but it is fairly obvious that contractors must fight shy of supplying people who do not pay their bills.

"Much has also been made of the general difficulty of ways and means. I do not propose to go into details about this. But the broad issues may be summarized in two proverbs: One is, you must cut your coat according to your cloth, which, in this case, means that if you want a pure water-supply and other civil amenities you must tax yourselves properly and sufficiently to get them and keep them up. If you do not, you must go without them. The other is, when there's a will there's a way; and the Municipal Commissioners of Hooghly-Chinsurah showed no willingness to put their house in order.

"So far to the contrary—so far did the fatal habit of procrastination prevail—that a month before supersession, at a time when the Commissioner had insisted on their facing the growing gravity of their financial position, at a time when their unpaid bills amounted to over Rs. 30,000 and their cash balance to a little over Rs. 200, they deliberately resolved to postpone the consideration of the question. And a month later, when Government superseded them, they had only Rs. 850 in hand to pay bills amounting to over Rs. 30,000.

"As regards the question of meters, the Government Resolution speaks for itself. Briefly the facts are: Nearly three years ago Government published rules under the Act prescribing meters for house-connections, the object of which is to prevent the interests of poor people, who have to get water from street hydrants, from being sacrificed to their richer neighbours who have private house-connections and can afford to pay for an excess quantity of water. So far from observing these statutory rules, the Commissioners had within seven months after the issue of these rules given nearly 300 house-connections without meters. Even after Government issued orders insisting on the rules being observed, the Commissioners procrastinated, and while they procrastinated, prices rose and the supply of meters on the market grew less. I need not recapitulate the correspondence. Matters came to a head at the beginning of this year (January 1918) when the Municipal Commissioners were told that they would be superseded unless they took effective action. The Commissioners then followed the instructions of Government by buying meters but took no steps to get them fixed. By September this year only 55 out of 400 connections were metered. Of these, 40 were on Government buildings, and there were only 15 on private connections. It was at this time—and this is a point to which the Hon'ble Mover has referred—nearly 3 years after Government orders were issued that the rules must be carried out—that the Commissioners went into legal questions and stated a case for opinion. All this time the consumption of water was rising and the cost of the water-works increasing without proper payment being made by the well- to-do for private connections.

"As to the supply of coal for the water-works, I may merely point out that for 2½ years the officers of Government had been trying to get the Municipal Commissioners to realize their duty and make proper business-like arrangements which would not only prevent a breakdown, but also be economical. There was, however, a breakdown, and there was a serious outbreak of cholera which the Civil Surgeon attributed to the failure to keep up the supply of filtered water from the water works and that again to the neglect to get sufficient coal. The Sanitary Board itself addressed the municipality a grave warning: but the warning produced no effect, and in the last month before supersession the management of the water-works was as bad as ever.

"In spite of this, Government decided to allow the municipality a last chance and the Hon'ble Member-in-charge of the Municipal Department gave the Chairman and Vice-Chairman an interview, in which they were informed that the Commissioners might save themselves from supersession if they took steps to do all that was necessary. So far from endeavouring to do anything 17 Commissioners resigned. It is difficult to resist the suspicion that their action was designed to prevent supersession, their idea being that if they resigned, Government could not supersede them or would at any rate be embarrassed or have its hand forced. If this view is correct, their action bears some similarity to that of culprits to whom a merciful Judge offers the chance of reformation instead of sentence and who think that they can avoid sentence by absconding. The idea that they hoped to prevent supersession has some support from the articles contributed to the newspapers which use almost identically the same words. They say: 'It is clear that the action taken by the Government in superseding gentlemen who were not in existence as Commissioners is quite illegal, improper and ultra vires.' 'I do not wish to enter into legal niceties. I may merely say that when Municipal Commissioners are superseded they are superseded not as individual persons but in their corporate capacity; and I can assure the Council that the question was considered by Government before their orders were passed and that Government acted on the highest legal authority.

"It has been asked, and this has been the chief point raised in the debate, why should not Government have left things as they were till a fresh election was held. In the case of Hooghly, a peculiar situation had been created by the resignation of the 17 Commissioners. Having resigned, there would have had to be a bye-election for each vacancy among the elected Commissioners. A new Municipal Board would have had to be formed which would hold office till the general election was due, and the Commissioners who had so long mismanaged the Municipality would have managed to get the opportunity of carrying the bye-elections and continuing their mismanagement. In the meantime the town would have suffered, and this was a contingency which Government could not tolerate.

"In the case of Burdwan, there was good reason to believe that there would not be a straight election. A ratepayers' association had, it is true, been formed to voice public grievances, as pointed out by the hon'ble mover; but it was of comparatively recent birth and public opinion was not strong enough to counteract the influences at work. Those who are familiar with municipalities know that there are various ways in which a party in power can maintain its position—for instance, by enhancement or reduction of the valuation on holdings, condoning licenses for trades, granting or withholding facilities of water-supply, instituting or omitting to institute prosecutions for breach of bye-laws, suffering decrees to be time-barred, and the like. These practices are known to have gone on, and it is significant that there were over Rs. 30,000 of arrears of taxes outstanding just before the election. And if the Commissioners had been allowed to remain in office, it was practically certain that there would not have been a free and fair election."

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHANDRA GHOSE BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I would only refer to one or two facts in connection with the charge brought against the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, i.e., the shortage of the coal supply for the water-works. As I gather the facts, in the Bengal mofussil municipalities, where water-works are in existence and in question, the Government Sanitary Engineer rules the situation. His instructions are to be carried out by the municipality and if there is a failure on the part of the Commissioners to carry out his instructions, then the Government condemns the Commissioners. I understand that the instruction of the Sanitary Engineer was that there should be in stock a six months' supply of coal for the water-works. These instructions were not carried out and they had just sufficient coal for one or two months. As there was a disobedience on the part of the Commissioners to the orders of the Sanitary Engineer, Government took it very seriously and chose to supersede the municipality.

I happen, my Lord, to be connected with a municipality and I have the honour to represent the Corporation of Calcutta on this Council The resources of the Calcutta Corporation are very large and the resources of our coal-suppliers are also very large. We are going to have a meeting of the Corporation tomorrow in which we have to consider—how to deal with our coal supply. The coal is supplied by a firm of great repute and standing—I shall not name the firm as it is not necessary. They are unable to supply coal of the required quality and quantity as per contract and they say that unless the relations between the parties are re-adjusted they will stop the supply. The executive, who are responsible for the facts being placed at tomorrow's meeting, say that the supply which their firm is making is sufficient for two a three days and that is the way in which supplies have been made for some time past. Of course, every one knows that there is a coal difficulty and there is also railway difficulty, but in the case of Calcutta we do not feel that difficulty to any extent, because the Chairman of the Corporation makes it his business to ease the situation by communicating with the proper authority ; the difficulty is felt by the coal supplier for reasons I need not mention. There is the fact, however, that we have in our pumping station coal for two or three days' consumption and that has been going on for some time. It is fortunate that we are not controlled by the Government Sanitary Engineer in this matter. If it had been so, probably we would have been hauled up before Government for our laches. I believe the shortage of coal supply is the principal charge, but not the only charge against the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. I think that the shortage in the supply of coal is due to the circumstances created by the war."

The PRESIDENT, said :—

"There are a number of gentlemen who wish to take part in this debate. I regret to say that I have an engagement myself at 6 o'clock of a public character. Under these circumstances, I propose to adjourn the meeting now until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning when we will take the remainder of the discussion of this motion and of the other motions which stand on the paper."

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned till Wednesday the 27th November at 11 A.M. in Government House, Calcutta.

[REFERRED TO IN ANSWER TO QUESTION NO. III (UNSTARRED) OF THE 3RD SEPTEMBER 1918.]

Paper referred to in item 3 of the List of Business for the meeting of the Council held on the 26th November, 1918, containing information regarding the Nawab of Dacca's steam launch at Barisal. The information was called for by the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI in Question No. III (unstarred) asked at the meeting of the Council held on the 3rd September, 1918.

By the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI :—

Is it a fact that a steam launch is maintained at Barisal Ghat for the estate purpose? How much does it cost annually? For how many days from 1907 to the 31st March 1918, was she out from the Barisal Ghat for the estate purposes?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

Yes. The average annual cost is Rs. 2,351. No record has been kept of the number of days on which the launch was used for estate purposes."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18—contd.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"We will continue discussion on item No. 18."

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My Lord, I listened with great attention to the discussion on this item yesterday, and I for one think that in the interests of Local Self-Government, if the interests of the situation demand it, if there has been gross maladministration, then the Government would be perfectly justified in suspending the municipality as it has done. But, My Lord, although I venture to think that the order of suspension perhaps was justified—I say perhaps because I can only proceed upon the Government resolution on the subject—beyond certain observations I heard yesterday, I had no opportunity of examining the facts, and not having that opportunity I prefer to follow the facts as stated in the Government resolution. Taking that as my standpoint, I desire at the same time to bring to the notice of Your Excellency's Government and of this Council, certain points which struck me on reading the Bengal Municipal Act.

In the first place, section 65 of that Act undoubtedly authorizes the Government to suspend any municipality if the contingency referred to in that section occur, but it also authorizes the Government to direct that the supersession should be the period to be specified in the order. If that section stood by itself, there would be nothing to prevent the Government from superseding a municipality for two or five or even ten years if the interest of the situation demand it, but, My Lord, there is another section, section 21. That section lays down the term of office of a Municipal Commissioner. Under that section every Commissioner shall vacate his office at the end of three years from the date of his appointment or election as such Commissioner. Now, My Lord, I take it the position is this. The ratepayers elect certain Commissioners, and those Commissioners for the time being are the representatives of the ratepayers. Section 65 speaks about the suspension of Commissioners, that is, the representatives of the ratepayers. I understand, My Lord, that in the case of the Burdwan Municipality, election was due in September, and I understand, further, from certain observations of the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem that, as a matter of fact, the election was to take place in November. Assuming that the Government was perfectly justified in suspending the municipalities. I venture to think that the order of suspension for one year was beyond the spirit of section 65. I do not propose to discuss the point as a lawyer, nor do I propose to discuss the point on mere technicalities, but looking broadly at it, I would like to know what is the object of the Government. I have not the slightest doubt that the object of the Government is to improve the administration of local self-government. If that be the object of Government, that object is perfectly vindicated by this order of suspension, and that object will be equally vindicated after the lesson that these municipalities have had, if an early order were passed to the effect that there should be a fresh election in January or February. That is my humble suggestion which I lay before Your Excellency's Government, and my position with regard to the matter is that while I do not see eye to eye with the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem that the order of suspension was bad, at the same time I do not feel justified in accepting the position of the Government that the suspension for one year was good.

"There is only another point on which I would like to address the Council very shortly. It may be said that unless the suspension be for one year, the district officer will have no chance of really putting the administration of these two unfortunate municipalities on a proper basis. To this, my answer is that at any rate, speaking for myself, a trained administrator will always administer more efficiently than any local self-governing body, however anxious they may be. But, at the same time, for several reasons, it is an accepted proposition that local self-governing bodies should be allowed to do their best. They may lose in point of efficiency, but there are other advantages in allowing local self-governing bodies to administer their functions in the best possible way. Regard being had to that position, it may be said that if you look to the question of mere efficiency, perhaps administration by a trained administrator would be better for all times. If, for other reasons, we want to give a real chance to local self-governing bodies, then I should think that these municipalities have had their lesson, and I should think the new Commissioners should be allowed to do their best. From the point of view from which I look at the question I think that will give them a chance of really trying to do away with the past bad administration."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"My Lord, I do not propose to go over the ground already covered by the previous speakers to this resolution. The charge against the two now defunct municipalities is, I take it, one of gross inefficiency, coupled in one case with corruption, and in the other heightened by a reckless disregard of consequences to public health that might easily have followed.

"Unfortunately, My Lord, inefficiency or failure to rise to the height of one's responsibility, is not confined to the municipalities of Bengal. Corruption, jobbery, and oppression were not very uncommon attributes of municipal administration in the land of our rulers, prior to the Municipal Corporations Act of 1835, after years and years of its inception. But, so far as I am aware, these circumstances were never made the pretext for stifling local self-government or setting back the hands of the clock. There are, no doubt, provisions in England for compelling inefficient or unwilling local bodies to do their duty. But there is one fundamental difference in the case. In England. it is one popular and self-governing body controlling another, the central authority itself being responsible to and composed of the representatives of the people. And, to be frank, here in India there has grown up through years past a barrier of mutual distrust—a sort of lurking suspicion and antagonism—between the self-governing bodies and the central authority The controlling authority appears more in the light of the Grand Moghul—a hectoring, dictatorial, fastidious personality—nothing of that friendly task-master which the English local bodies have in the central authority as represented by the Local Government Board. It is a position which does not benefit either Government or the local bodies. I concede that the control over these bodies is always exercised by Government with the best of intentions. But. unfortunately, Government do not very often get any credit for their bona fides in these matters—the result being that neither the local bodies themselves, nor the people at large, are satisfied with any exercise of extraordinary powers on the part of Government. I need not remind Your Lordship that it is necessary not only that justice should be done, but that the people should be made to feel that justice and nothing but justice is actually done.

"My Lord, I plead for a greater patience with our self-governing institutions which have yet to attain maturity. As I said, inefficiency is not their exclusive characteristic. The record of our provincial administration itself is not an unbroken and glorious stretch of success and efficiency. Without raking up the past, I would just refer to the cloth question with which we are all familiar. What a sad story of fatal inaction and bungling—that has cost the lives of so many of our poor brothers and sisters—not to mention terrible sufferings of the people in general. Here it was not a case of problematical loss of human life, as in the case of Hooghly-Chinsurah shortage of coal over which Government have shown so much concern—but actual death of men and women who were driven to seek it at their own hands as a deliverance from nudity and dishonour. Since the 4th September, 1917, when attention was first drawn to the cloth problem by me in this chamber, Government succeeded in finding very many excuses on various occasions for not interfering with a situation which was certainly remediable to a great extent. And when the psychological moment had slipped by, Government awoke from their stupor.

"My Lord, one should not judge others by too exacting a standard, lest he himself is judged as strictly!"

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I want to say only a few words with reference to this resolution. As Chairman of a mufassal municipality, I know the difficulties of Municipal Commissioners and of Municipal Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen, especially when the municipality is not a very solvent one. I know the difficulties they experience in making two ends meet. With reference to the Burdwan Municipality it is alleged that defalcations had been going on for years, and that there was nobody to check those defalcations. That may be a fact against the municipality, but I know defalcations have taken place in District Boards under official Chairmen and large sums of money—lakhs and lakhs of rupees—have been defalcated from Government treasuries without the official head knowing anything about it. With reference to the Burdwan Municipality, it has been urged by some of my hon'ble friends that the ratepayers should not suffer on account of the neglect of duty on the part of the Commissioners and the municipal executive. I think that is a very powerful argument in support of the resolution, especially when you know that the 8th November was fixed as the date of election. If the ratepayers had persisted in electing the same Commissioners, Government probably would have been quite justified in suspending the municipality or in taking such action as they thought proper under the circumstances. We hear that a Ratepayers' Association has been formed there, and such an association is generally formed when the ratepayers are dissatisfied with the working of the present staff of the municipality. An opportunity ought to have been given to the ratepayers of Burdwan to elect new Commissioners and new executive officers to guide the affairs of the municipality.

"Then with reference to the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. There are two charges against it. I mean two serious charges, one is shortage of coal, and the other is indiscriminate house connections without meters. Well, I may say without any breach of confidence that, being a member of the Sanitary Board, we brought this matter to the notice of Government, but it was further from our wish that Government should take such drastic steps as to suspend the municipality for neglecting to keep coal for six months or for this indiscriminate house connection. There is one fact which may not be known to many of us, but which is known to the Hon'ble Mr. Payne and the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, and it is this, that when Howrah was under an official Chairman, there were indiscriminate house connections, and the result was that the people of Howrah got water only about four or five hours every day, never more than that. Well, that was the result of indiscriminate house connections during the time of the official Chairmen. Did the Government take any steps to suspend the Howrah Municipality when it was under the official Chairman because the public of Howrah did not get a sufficient supply of water? It is only now, under a non-official Chairman, that steps have been taken to fix meters whenever there has been a new house connection.

"Then, as regards this shortage of coal. Government wanted that six months' coal ought to be stored; there were difficulties in getting this six months' supply, as explained to Your Lordship. As regards meters, it is well known that the price of meters has gone up very much, probably more than twice the original price. And because a poor municipality like the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality could not purchase meters worth Rs. 40,000, which is probably the net annual income of the municipality, therefore they have been suspended. I ask one question. Your Lordship must have heard, or must be aware, of the breakdown of the Kidderpore bridge. I should like to ask whether this is not a greater scandal than the breakdown of the Burdwan or the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipalities. Here you have a bridge, an important bridge over which thousands and thousands of people cross, over which tramcars run and probably about 10,000 carriages, horses, and motor-cars run every day; well, one evening, about 4 o'clock, the Tramway Company received notice that from the next morning the tramcars should cease running over the bridge. What was Government doing all along? Is it for the first time that they came to know that the bridge was not in a proper condition and was not safe? It was a Government department, the Public Works Department, who should have brought this to the notice of Government, but it was the engineer of the Calcutta Improvement Trust who brought this matter to the notice of Government. What was the Government of Bengal doing all along with its large establishment? Then, I may tell Your Lordship that for the last 7 or 8 years I myself have been telling the heads of the Public Works Department who are in charge of this bridge that a new bridge ought to be built; the Tramway Company have been telling the Government the same thing, and I myself saw Mr. Green, who was a Secretary to the Government, and then I found from an answer given to a question which I asked in this Council yesterday....."

The PRESIDENT said : "Order, order. I must point out to the Hon'ble Member that he is getting a little bit wide of the question under discussion. The question under discussion is the supersession of the municipalities of Hooghly-Chinsurah and Burdwan. I have no objection to the Hon'ble Member referring to the Kidderpore bridge in passing, but I think that I must call him to order if he goes into that question at any great length."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY continuing said :—

"Government, with its large resources, are not in a position to say when the Kidderpore bridge will be put in order, and a poor municipality like the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, with its small income, is required to spend Rs. 40,000 on the purchase of meters. These are facts which ought to have been taken into consideration before superseding this municipality. It is thus that the death sentence has been passed. Government ought to have given proper warning to these municipalities before suspending them. I think the best way of getting out of the difficulty would be to withdraw the order of suspension and allow these municipalities to elect new Commissioners and a new executive. With these remarks, I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, the municipalities which have been superseded are two of the most important of my constituencies and of my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Dutt. I have naturally taken a very keen interest in the orders of supersession. These orders coming in quick succession within an interval of a week have created very great consternation in the province, and one section of the Press has not missed the opportunity of basing upon the facts of these two successive supersessions a strong case against constitutional reforms. The statutory powers under which Your Excellency's Government superseded the two municipalities are contained in section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act. Your Excellency and the Council will forgive me even at this late stage of the debate if I venture to refer to the provisions of that section. That section empowers Your Excellency's Government to supersede Commissioners who are not competent to perform or persistently make default in the performance of duties imposed on them by or under the Act or otherwise by law, or exceed or abuse their powers. These powers are based on the law. I might remind the Council that side by side with this extreme penalty there is a provision in section 64 of the Act which empowers Your Excellency's Government in case of a default of Commissioners in certain particulars, or in respect of certain works, to take over the management of that work, on condition that the cost of management comes out of the municipal fund.

"My Lord, I am aware of the reasons which Your Excellency's Government have given in writing for the supersession of these two municipalities. I am aware, My Lord, of the fact that in the case of the Burdwan Municipality there were serious malpractices or abuses of power within the meaning of section 65 of the Act, for it was pointed out that, when an enquiry was made into certain alleged cases of defalcation, papers were suppressed in many cases on the plea that they could not be traced, neither the Chairman nor the Vice-Chairman showed alacrity in assisting the investigation, and the Municipal Commissioners would not disclose facts that might reflect discredit on their administration. There is the further fact pointed out that the collections were very very badly in arrears, and, as the order says, the two grounds upon which this particular municipality has been superseded were, first, incompetency as provided in section 65 and then abuse of power; the incompetency being a general one involving incapacity to collect arrears and inefficiency involving waste of public money. I am bound to say that if all these facts are well founded—and we must take it that Government proceeded upon proper materials—it is perhaps a case where Government would have the power to supersede the municipality under section 65. But one thing, My Lord, is obvious. The supersession of the municipality involved disenfranchisement of the people of an important town, and unless Your Excellency's Government were convinced that there was such an identity between the Commissioners for the time being and the whole body of ratepayers in the town that even if a fresh election was directed the result of that election would be the reappointment of all the Commissioners, it would be, I submit, although Government has the statutory power, not a case where that power should be exercised. We all know that section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act and the corresponding section of the Local Self-Government Act make provisions for extreme cases which should only be exercised if there is no other alternative, and the question is whether Government could not have remedied or improved the affairs which were certainly passing from bad to worse by ordering a fresh election. We have been informed that the fresh election was due in the month of November.

"My Lord, with regard to the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality the matter, I think, stands upon a different footing. There the grounds upon which supersession is directed are, as I find, grounds of incompetency and persistent default in the performance of duties. The specific cases which are set out to support the indictment under these two heads—incompetency and persistent default in the performance of duties—are these. I am sorry I may have to go over the same ground which has been traversed so many times by all the speakers in the Council Chamber this morning and last evening. But one of the first points which were made was that the municipality, in spite of persistent directions, defaulted in securing a supply of six months' coal in advance. Well, My Lord, whether the municipality was failing to do a statutory duty imposed upon it because it failed to carry out the order of keeping six months' stock of coal in advance, is a question which is not free from doubt. There is no law which requires that every municipality should keep six months' coal in advance. One municipality, with the management of which I am entrusted, at the present moment keeps, as Mr. Payne knows very well, two months' stock of coal in advance and during the stress of the four and a half years through which we have passed, the Howrah Municipality has met with absolutely no difficulty in respect of the supply of coal, simply because it keeps only one or two months' coal in advance. The peremptory order to keep six months' coal in advance was an order which, I make bold to say, is justified by no precedent and is justified by no absolute necessity. With the Sanitary Engineer to the Government of Bengal and with the Sanitary Commissioner to the Government of Bengal we have often our quarrels, and I myself have often quarrelled with them. But I am not convinced that under the instructions of the Sanitary Engineer to the Government of Bengal a mufassal municipality could be directed under the statute to keep six months' coal in advance. It might have been—and I have no doubt it was—a wise advice in view of the difficulties of the times and perhaps the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality should have, if they were able to do so, tried to give effect to the advice; but the failure to keep six months' coal in advance is not a breach of statutory duty nor such as would justify a suspension under section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

"Then, there are other matters, My Lord, for example the alum. Well, I am convinced that something is absolutely necessary to purify water, be it alum or aluminum ferric, and I was really surprised to learn that my friend, the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, did not pass stringent orders for the supply of a sufficient quantity of alum for the purification of water with the result, we are told, that the water showed in July last intense fœcal deposits, due to insufficient filtration, as a result of which the water was not better than the raw river water. Here, again, there is no breach of statutory duty. The water, at any rate, was not worse than river water, but I am sorry that the result was not satisfactory, and I admit that it was very unsatisfactory. We were then told, My Lord, in the resolution that the municipality failed to perform its duties by not raising the water-rate to an adequate extent. Well, the Act provides for the levy of 7½ per cent as the maximum. In the Howrah Municipality, we impose 6 per cent, and I believe the municipality of Hooghly-Chinsurah imposes a rate of 6½ per cent. Well, if that is so, it can hardly be said that the rate which was imposed in the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality was not an adequate rate. I am not aware of municipalities where water-rates are higher than 6½ per cent. I am sorry, further, that the meter question presented to them so much difficulty. In the Howrah Municipality we enforce Government rules in spite of the protests of ratepayers, but we are in a very different position. The meter rules came into force in February 1915. Long before that Howrah had a very large number of house connections and the law does not allow retrospective effect being given to the rules in order to require old house-owners enjoying house connections without meters to furnish them now at their own cost. In the case of an old municipality like Howrah, the rule is enforced only in the case of applications for new connections, and we have persistently refused such applications without meters, meters being furnished at the cost of the ratepayers.

"In the case of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, however, the inauguration of the water-works and the introduction of the rules were simultaneous, resulting in this, that if the rule was strictly enforced no house-owner could have any meter connection from the time of the commencement of the works unless he either paid for the meter or furnished a meter for himself. Well, whether the Municipal Commissioners should have risen up to the occasion and enforced the rules without waiting for Law Courts to decide whether the rules were ultra vires is a matter which I would leave to them. My Lord, my opinion is that the municipality should have enforced the meter rules; that is, however, a matter of opinion."

[At this stage the Hon'ble Member, having reached the time-limit, had to conclude his remarks.]

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT said :—

"My Lord, in supporting this resolution I must, in the first place, make my position perfectly clear. I have carefully read both the resolutions—one regarding Burdwan and the other regarding Hooghly-Chinsurah; and I must say that the case of Burdwan stands entirely on a different footing. The resolution clearly states the circumstances which bring the case of Burdwan under section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act. But, with regard to Hooghly, I myself entertain very grave doubts whether the Government could have taken action under section 65 of the Act. If the Government found that the municipality had been persistently neglecting its duties with regard to a particular matter, section 64 of the Act gave ample powers to the Government to take action under that section. However that may be, what I really felt was that at the time when we had been considering the Reform Proposals and when, with regard to Burdwan, the election was fixed to take place on the 9th November, was it desirable to take the action which was taken in this matter, taking for granted that the Municipality had been guilty of malpractices and of abuse of powers? What the people in the Burdwan Division—and, if I may say so, in the whole of Bengal—have really felt, is: was this drastic measure necessary when the difficulties could possibly have been avoided by a fresh election?

"Then, My Lord, as I have already stated, the supersession of the two municipalities, one coming after the other, certainly created a mischievous impression—I may say, personally speaking, a wrong impression—but it is my duty not to conceal the impression which was being freely talked about not only in Bengal, but all over India, that this action on the part of the Government has been taken with a view to show that the people of Bengal specially are not fit for responsible government. I candidly say that it was far from the intention of Government. However, people say so. A long telegram had also been sent by Reuter to England to that effect. Therefore, the best solution—if I may be permitted to suggest—is to withdraw this order and to order fresh elections. That would satisfy, no doubt, the Government on the one hand and the people on the other."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, I am sure that we shall be at one when I say how deeply we regret the absence from our deliberations of the Hon'ble Member in charge of this department, the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan. We shall be at one in regretting still more the unfortunate cause of that absence, and I am sure that we shall all wish that the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur will be restored to complete health at a very early date.

"Well, in the absence of the Hon'ble Member of the Government who is in charge of the department, concerned with this motion, it devolves upon me to say a few words in explanation of the action which the Government has taken. First of all, let me dispose of the charge against us—if I may say so a very childish charge—referred to by the last speaker that we had taken this action for the express purpose of casting discredit upon the people of this country and for demonstrating their inability to manage their own affairs. Surely, it may be fairly argued that if that had been our object we should have been very much more likely to have achieved it by allowing the two Municipal Boards to continue in office. No, gentlemen, whatever else the Bengal Government may be, they are not a Machiavellian Government. I would respectfully ask the Hon'ble Members of this Council to look at us. Do we look like three Machiavellis? Do we look the sort of people who would sit round in secret conclave, hatching, with bated breath, far-fetched schemes for discrediting the people amongst whom we live and over whom we exercise authority? No, I feel sure that we are in reality precisely what we look—as to two of us, straightforward and simple Scotsmen; and as to the other, a straightforward and simple Englishman. And if I may say so, this charge is a little ungracious in the case of the present Bengal Government. Have we not, during the comparatively short period of our existence, done more than any previous administration in Bengal to advance the cause of local self-government? Only yesterday we reached an important stage of a Bill, framed and advanced by us for the purpose of laying firm the foundations of self-government in the villages of this Presidency. Does that look as if we wish to discredit the ability of the people of this Presidency to manage their own affairs? And then, again, who was it who gave to certain of the District Boards in this Presidency, for the first time in their history, the right of electing their own non-official Chairmen? Why, it is this Government which, we are now told, is bent childishly and vindictively on superseding municipalities for the express purpose of discrediting the very policy which they themselves are pursuing. Surely, the charge is ridiculous upon the face of it. The action which was taken by this Government was taken with extreme regret; it was taken in the interests of the people and the ratepayers of the two localities primarily concerned; and if, indeed, it be a fact that the failure of the Commissioners in these two cases satisfactorily and efficiently to manage their affairs has had the result of creating in the minds of anyone a suspicion that the people of Bengal are not fit to discharge these duties, then I say that it is not so much to the fact of their supersession that that impression has become due, but to the wide advertisement which has been given to their failure in the Press and still further, I am afraid, by the debate which the Hon'ble Member inaugurated in this Council yesterday. I do not know whether the Commissioners concerned will be grateful to the Hon'ble Member for having given this further advertisement to their unfortunate failure satisfactorily to discharge their duties; but I should be disposed to doubt whether they would. At any rate, from that point of view I myself frankly confess to feeling some regret that this discussion has been forced upon us. I do not propose to travel in detail over the ground which was admirably trodden by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley yesterday and which has been traversed by many other speakers in the course of this debate; but there are one or two points which have been raised by the speakers, to which I feel bound to make some reference.

"For example the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has given it as his opinion that our action in this matter had been ill-considered and hasty.

I can assure the Hon'ble Member that whatever else our action may have been, it most assuredly was not hasty. The facts are indisputable. And what are the facts? The facts are these: that ever since March 1915, a period now extending over from three to four years, a whole series of authorities have represented to Government the faults and the omissions of duty which they put down to the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. Let me say a word in passing with regard to a remark made by an Hon'ble Member yesterday. Government realise and appreciate, as much as does any other member of this Council, the great service which the late Chairman of the municipality rendered by the zeal, the enthusiasm and the patience with which he laboured to secure for that municipality an adequate system of water-supply; we appreciate his public service in that respect. But I would respectfully suggest that, while we enormously appreciate all that he has done in securing to the municipality an adequate system of water-works, that does not absolve us at the same time from deploring the administration which has resulted in the fruits of his labours being rendered sterile. I have referred to the fact that these complaints have been made during a period of some 3½ years. It was suggested by one speaker yesterday that the Sanitary Engineer had a personal grudge of some kind against the Municipal Commissioners and that he had succeeded in persuading Government to take this action in order to satisfy his own feelings of vindictiveness. Surely, that is a somewhat unworthy suggestion, and in any case it can be shown easily to be without foundation. The complaints which have been made and the warnings which had been issued to the municipality were not by one man only, but by no less than eight different authorities. We have had complaints from the District Magistrate, from the Commissioner of the Division, from the Sanitary Engineer, from the Assistant Sanitary Engineer, from the Government Inspector of Water-works, from the Civil Surgeon, from the Local Examiner of Accounts, and last but not least from the Sanitary Board itself. In submitting a report to Government which was made by the Sanitary Board, the Secretary to the Board writes as follows, and I would ask Hon'ble Members to give serious attention to these words:—

'The Sanitary Board decided at their last meeting that it was necessary for them to bring to the special notice of Government this instance where the neglect of their most elementary duties by the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality has resulted in serious loss of life. A serious outbreak of cholera recently occurred at Hooghly-Chinsurah, which was due, as pointed out by the Civil Surgeon, to the inadequate supply of water. The shortage of supply was the result of the failure of the municipality to maintain a sufficient stock of coal at the water-works. The Sanitary Board and the Sanitary Engineer have on several occasions pointed out to the Municipal Commissioners the danger of keeping such a small quantity of coal in stock, and in February last the Sanitary Board advised them to keep a six months' supply in reserve.'

"When the Hon'ble Member who presides with such conspicuous ability over the affairs of the Howrah Municipality raises the question of the necessity of keeping six months' supply of coal, I may point out that that is a recommendation not of the Government but of the Sanitary Board. Well, it is possible that four or five months' stock of coal might be deemed adequate. But I may point out that in the case of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality the supply was reduced to one or two days; indeed they had to burn firewood on one or two occasions in order to keep the water-works going at all, because there was no coal available.

"But although the greatest amount of stress has been laid upon the inability of the Municipal Commissioners to manage the water-works, that is by no means the only respect in which they have failed in the discharge of their duties.

"In the note of the audit of the Municipal accounts which was dated 13th November, 1917, the Examiner of Local Accounts observed that the taxation accounts were in a deplorable condition, and in his annual report for 1917-18, dated 1st September last, the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, after referring to the fact that the Municipal Commissioners had appointed neither a Health Officer nor a Sanitary Inspector as required by the statutory rules of Government, went on to say as follows: 'There has been a lack of supervision over the Municipal staff with the result that serious irregularities and embezzlements have occurred, heavy arrears of taxes have accumulated, large outstanding liabilities have not been met, and the closing balances have been unduly reduced The outstanding liabilities are considerable and the financial position is very unsatisfactory. This is partly due to the imposition of an inadequate water-rate, the income from which is insufficient to meet the charges for water-supply.' As a matter of fact, a further examination of the accounts by the Commissioner showed that the actual cash balances on the 31st August was only Rs. 225-8, while the amount due on account of unpaid bills which had actually been received by the Commissioners aggregated Rs 24,368. It was also estimated that in addition to the bills that had been received, there were further outstanding liabilities amounting to an additional Rs. 5,000, so that in all the municipality was in debt to the extent of approximately Rs. 30,000. Well, that was the position when on the 6th September last the Government Inspector of Water-works made a further inspection, and sent in a report to Government which showed that all previous warnings had been quite useless and that no notice whatever had been taken of the repeated and accumulated warnings of 3½ years and it was under these circumstances that on the 8th September I requested the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan—as I was very anxious, if possible, that the municipality should get one further chance—to invite the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the municipality to meet him and to inform them that greatly though we should deplore the necessity of taking over the administration ourselves, yet in view of all the past history which lay before us, we should feel compelled to do so unless the Municipal Commissioners found themselves in a position to comply with certain requests which we made to them by a certain date. Well, that in brief is the position so far as Hooghly-Chinsurah is concerned.

"I noticed that the Hon'ble Member who moved this motion described the action of Government yesterday as punitive action. He spoke perpetually of the punishment which Government were inflicting not only upon the Commissioners but upon the ratepayers and the public. If I may say so, that illustrates the extraordinary difference in the point of view from which the Hon'ble Member approaches this matter, and from which I do. I never regarded this action as a punishment inflicted by Government like a school master inflicting a punishment upon a recalcitrant school boy. Nothing of the sort. I realized that since repeated warnings had failed to effect an improvement and since as a result of continued maladministration of their affairs the Commissioners found themselves on the verge of bankruptcy, the best service which Government could render to the municipality and to the ratepayers was to take over, for such period only as to enable them to pull the affairs of the municipality together, the administration. I do not regard it as a punishment. I regard it as a service rendered by Government to the public.

"The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar said yesterday that he wondered very much what improvement had been effected by the Government since they had taken charge. Well, the Government have had charge of this municipality's affairs for a very short time, but I am happy to say, according to the latest report which has reached me, that a very gratifying measure of success has already rewarded the efforts of the District Magistrate in putting the affairs of the municipality into shape. I would like to take this opportunity of publicly expressing my appreciation of the whole-hearted way in which the District Magistrate, Mr. Mookerjee, who has just left Hooghly and who is now succeeded by another very able officer, Mr. Moberley, threw himself into the task, the very thankless task of pulling the affairs of the municipality together. Let me tell you briefly what the report says: It says that when he took over the administration of the municipality he found Rs. 32,000 due to the Board from the ratepayers. Some thousands of this sum had been outstanding for various periods running back as far as 1909-10, which again disproves the suggestion of the Hon'ble Member that we have been acting in haste. Between Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 11,000, over one-third of the total sum outstanding, has already been collected by the Magistrate. In view of the fact that many of these sums have been outstanding for periods of 4, 6, 7 and 8 years and many of them must necessarily be wholly irrecoverable, I think the Magistrate must be congratulated upon the fact that within this very short period of a few weeks he has already been successful in collecting one-third of the total outstanding liabilities of the ratepayers. Then again, so far as the water-works are concerned, since the Commissioners were superseded, about 280 tons of coal have already been secured for the water-works and there is now already more than four months' supply in stock. In view of that I find it a little bit difficult to understand the plea of the Municipal Commissioners that they were unable to obtain coal. When the Magistrate took over charge, the cash balance was Rs. 850 only. The collections which he has made and which I have already spoken of, have enabled him to pay off nearly Rs. 10,600 worth of liabilities, while he has a cash balance in hand of some Rs. 2,300. Nevertheless there are still very considerable outstanding liabilities which it will be essential for us to endeavour to discharge during the coming months, and I fear, therefore, that it may be some time before it will be possible for us to place the affairs of the municipality upon a completely firm foundation once more. We shall do our best.

"Well, then, so far as the municipality of Burdwan is concerned, if I may say so, there seemed to me to be an extraordinary unanimity of opinion amongst Hon'ble Members that the Municipal Commissioners in this case were unworthy of the trust imposed in them. I do not know whether it was the intention of the Hon'ble Member who moved this motion to in any way defend them; I do not think it was. If it was his intention, then he has succeeded only in damning them with faint praise. As in the case of the Hooghly Commissioners, warning after warning has been unsuccessful in bringing about any improvement in their conduct of affairs. When I had occasion personally about a year ago to look into the affairs of this municipality I was so impressed with the astonishing laxity of control over the whole administration that I felt called upon to go the length of issuing a personal warning to them. Speaking in Burdwan on the 9th January, I felt called upon to use these words: After I had referred to the outstanding liabilities and the unfortunate financial position of the municipality, I said:— 'On enquiry as to the cause of this unfortunate state of affairs, I am told that the proper procedure of issuing warrants each quarter has not been followed by you, and that last year very few warrants were issued after the first quarter. From this fact, and from other reports which I have received, I am forced to the conclusion that the affairs of the municipality have not been conducted with the efficiency which the ratepayers are entitled to expect. Where I have found so many grounds for praise'—I would mention here that the grounds which I found for praise were in connection with the administration of the District Board not the Municipal Board—'it is distasteful to me to have to impute blame and I content myself therefore with expressing an earnest hope that future reports of the working of your municipality will be of a more reassuring nature than those which I have received hitherto.' Unfortunately my warning passed unheeded, and on the 10th August last the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division reported as follows:— 'The collection of taxes in the year 1917-18 were worse than in any previous year. The uncollected balances at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 38,855 or more than a third of the whole current demand.' Later on in the same report, he says 'the serious irregularities and embezzlements which had been disclosed are due to the failure of the Chairman, and Vice-Chairman to exercise any supervision over the municipal staff.' May I here enter a respectful protest against what appeared to me to be a certain indifference with which the Hon'ble Member who moved this motion spoke of irregularities in this connection? He said that in fact they were the ordinary things which we must expect not only in the case of municipalities and District Boards, but in Government Departments, and, in fact, in every department of public life. Well, I very strongly dissent from an attitude of this kind; we have got to do everything that lies in our power to show our horror and detestation and our astonishment at the occurrence of irregularities of this kind; and I would respectfully suggest to the Hon'ble Member, though I am sure he did not mean to create this impression, that it will not help us to spread that attitude throughout the whole range of our public bodies if they read in the reports of the debates held in this Council speeches in which these matters are spoken of as no doubt unfortunate, but still as matters which are more or less as inevitable as the rising of the sun. What we want to do is to do away with that attitude and that idea. What we want to create in the public life in this Presidency is the feeling that these things must not occur, and if they do occur, they must be stamped out with all the vigour which it is possible to apply to them. So far as this particular aspect of the case is concerned, in connection with the Burdwan Municipality, I have been so impressed with the seriousness of it, that I consider it necessary to order an enquiry into the matter; a Committee is about to be appointed which will consist of an experienced accounts officer deputed by the Accountant-General and an experienced Magistrate to enquire into and investigate these matters, and pending a report of that Committee, I do not propose to dwell at any great length upon that aspect of the maladministration which has taken place in Burdwan.

"Now, I have explained frankly and I hope clearly, the reason why Government have taken this action. Far from our regarding our action as likely to discredit the capacity of the people for managing their own affairs, it seems to us that when we did find obvious and glaring cases of maladministration covering a long period of time, it would be to the advantage of the cause of self-government if we showed that we should not overlook matters of this kind. And in conclusion I would venture respectfully to make this suggestion to the Hon'ble Members of this Council. No one is more zealous for the honour and reputation of this Council than I am. Let Hon'ble Members realise that when they are asked to cast their vote upon a question of this kind, they are being asked to exercise a grave responsibility. Let every Hon'ble Member consider for himself what will be the effect of the vote which he casts. Is it not obvious in view of the record of these two municipalities that every vote cast for this resolution will be interpreted by those who are looking eagerly at the present time at the working of the Legislative Councils in this country as a vote given in condonation of inefficient public administration. It can be regarded as nothing else by an impartial observer. I can sympathise with Hon'ble Members when they have to come to a decision as to how they are to cast their vote. I know the sympathy which they must feel with the Municipal Commissioners who have for a short time only been relieved of their responsibilities, but they must remember that those who are looking on, who are assessing and estimating the capacity of the members of the Councils in this country to discharge onerous and wider duties will not be impressed by any vote which is given upon sentimental grounds. Hon'ble Members in this Council have the opportunity now to show that they are capable of rising above personal feelings and above sentiment; they have the opportunity now of showing that they are capable of casting their vote not in accordance with personal feelings or sentiment, but in accordance with reason and in the best interests of the public. Let me impress upon them once more, and these shall be my last words, that these supersessions are not punishments. This action has been taken only under stress of what appeared to the Government to be grave necessity. The primary object of the action is so to pull the affairs of these mismanaged municipalities together that when the time comes for the ratepayers to elect new representatives, these representatives will not be hampered by finding themselves placed in charge of bankrupt concerns, but will be given a fair and fresh start which will enable them to display a proof of their public spirit and their capacity adequately to manage their own affairs."

"My Lord, after the speech delivered by Your Excellency it will be rather bold on my part to press this resolution before this Council, but I want to offer a word of explanation.

"In the first place, with reference to the Burdwan Municipality, I began by saying yesterday, and I repeat it to-day, that I did not stand here as an apologist for the defunct Municipal Commissioners. I venture to say that I do not even attempt to give them a whitewash. I told this Council that I shared the opinion of the Government that they had failed in their duty. It was, my Lord, after the 9th of January last—if I am correct, only in the third week of January—that the ratepayers formed that association and in a notice which they issued calling a public meeting of the ratepayers, they said that the meeting was called to form an association as a check upon the neglect of duty of the Municipal Commissioners.

"My object in introducing this debate in this Council was not to whitewash the Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan, but to inform Your Excellency's Government in this Council that the ratepayers were quite alive to the fact that their representatives in the Corporation had failed to do their duty, and that they were very anxious to pass a judgment on their conduct, and in the course of this speech, if I referred to some of the good works done by the Commissioners, it was to show that I did not come here simply to abuse them or run them down. I am glad to know, my Lord, that a Committee is to be appointed to look into the whole matter, and that will of course clear up many things in connection with the municipal affairs of Burdwan that want clearing up.

"There was one remark made by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley yesterday, that a fresh election was not allowed because it was apprehended that it would not be a straight election. I know more than anybody else that in the election three years ago there were some grave irregularities. I know that some of my friends submitted a petition to the District Magistrate, Mr. Marr, who was then in charge of the district, stating the irregularities and he sympathetically considered the question, but said that under the Municipal Act he had no authority to interfere. I then brought his written order to the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Sir Shamsul Huda; he also said that the Municipal Act was defective, and remarked that the next time the Act was under amendment, this matter would be taken into consideration. In Your Excellency's speech to which we have just listened, you have said that for three years they have been guilty of these lapses. I admit that it has been so, but during these three years, the ratepayers had no opportunity of judging their conduct or passing their verdict on their work because when once elected the ratepayers cannot unseat them, and it is only after three years that they can pass their judgment and if I asked for the withdrawal of these orders, I did so because I wanted the ratepayers to express their views on the conduct of the Municipal Commissioners and the executive officers of the now defunct Burdwan Municipality.

"My Lord, the Commissioners complain and in speaking on this resolution I feel it my duty to explain that in the case of Burdwan, of course, warnings were given but no explanation was asked for; as in the case of Hooghly they were not told to do certain things within a certain period on the threat of supersession. However, as regards the supply of coal in the case of Hooghly, much has been said and I do not like to dilate upon this matter further. Besides, I have not much personal experience of this matter beyond those facts which I have placed before this Council.

"As regards the ratepayers, I can only say that this supersession of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality has caused great excitement among the ratepayers of Hooghly. They held a public meeting and expressed themselves in unequivocal terms and the meeting was presided over by a gentleman who never interested himself with public affairs or at any rate who never appeared on the public platform. He himself remarked that it was the gravity of the situation and the necessity of the case that made him come out of his seclusion and preside over a public meeting; and that public meeting expressed its appreciation of the services rendered by the late Chairman of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. I am also gratified to find that Your Excellency has appreciated the services which have been rendered by the late Chairman. I still express the hope that the Government will reconsider the resolutions that have been passed, and that a smaller period of suspension will be fixed and that the ratepayers of Burdwan and Hooghly will be asked to elect their representatives much sooner than the period fixed by the Government resolutions.

"My Lord, in view of the grave importance of the questions involved and of the fact that my non-official colleagues have taken a lively interest in this matter, I would ask Your Excellency's permission to allow me a little more time—say five minutes—to consult my non-official friends as to whether I should withdraw or press the resolution."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I am afraid that it would be very irregular to adjourn the debate for a purpose of his kind. The Hon'ble Member has had enough time—the whole of Tuesday and this morning—to consult his friends, and I am sorry that I cannot allow an adjournment for him to consider the matter further".

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"May I have Your Excellency's permission to put the resolution in two parts before this Council ?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I am prepared to meet the Hon'ble Member in his desire that the motion be put in two halves. I will put the motion regarding Burdwan first."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, in view of the fact that a committee is going to be appointed I beg to withdraw the resolution regarding Burdwan."

The following portion of the resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn, namely :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the orders of supersession of the municipality of Burdwan be reconsidered and withdrawn."

The following portion of the resolution was then put to the vote, namely:—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the orders of supersession of the Municipality of Hooghly-Chinsurah be reconsidered and withdrawn."

A division was then taken with the following result :—

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I may perhaps add a word in further explanation of the position As I said in the course of my remarks, our object is to give the new Municipal Boards when they come into existence a clean sheet to start with. That being so, if I find from the reports which I receive that the Government officers have been enabled to pull things round in a shorter period than one year, then I should be prepared to consider the question of ordering election sooner. (Applause.) But from the present reports that I have received I cannot say that I feel very sanguine that it will be possible to do that in less than one year."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 19.

The following resolution which, stood in the name of the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the members of the Provincial Executive Service acting as personal assistants to the Commissioners of Divisions and to the Inspector-General of Registration be granted a special allowance.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 20.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that an inquiry be made by the Government into the nature and extent of the alleged prevalence of corrupt practices amongst the ministerial staff of the mufassal courts, and that necessary action be taken to improve the existing state of affairs.

He said :—

"My Lord, the Secretary to the Council has put in the word "alleged" in my resolution. English is not my mother tongue and I speak subject to correction, that this word carries with it a challenge that my statement must be substantiated. I did not think that the fact of the existence of corrupt practices amongst the ministerial staff required any proof. As it is, it is a self-evident truth and nothing but the truth. However, if the introduction of the word is meant as a challenge, let me quote a few extracts from some of the many letters which I have received from all parts of Bengal, written by people most competent to express an opinion on the subject :—

British Indian Association :—

'Fully sympathise with your object which is indeed a laudable one.'

East Bengal Landholder's Association :—

'The magnitude and extent of hardships to which the litigant public are often subjected, baffle all description. The committee lend their whole-hearted support to your proposal which should engage the immediate serious attention of the Government.'

North Bengal Zamindars' Association :—

'A very nauseating, not to say dismal, state of things will present itself before the public eye.'

Dinajpur Landholders' Association :—

'The association fully supports your resolution.'

Murshidabad Association :—

'Your resolution has full sympathy and support of the Association.'

Anjuman-i-Islamia :—

'This Anjuman has full sympathy with the object of your resolution. The sufferings of the public are inestimable.'

Provincial Muhammadan Association :—

'Strongly supports the resolution.'

The Hon'ble Maharaja Bahadur of Cossimbazar, Member of the Imperial Legislative Council :—

'Something should be done to put them down as soon as possible.'

Burdwan Bar Association :—

'The evil has taken possession of all the districts of Bengal, and it is now high time that vigorous efforts should be made to root it out.'

Malda Bar Association :—

'The prevalence of corrupt practices amongst the ministerial staff has become notoriously prejudicial to the parties in civil and criminal courts and seriously affects the public. Steps should be taken to effectively check it.'

Berhampore Bar Association :—

"Inquiry should be made by the Government into the nature and extent of the prevalence of corrupt practices among the ministerial staff."

Pabna Bar Association :—

'Corrupt practices are prevalent amongst the ministerial staff. . . . The Association is willing to make suggestions if the Government be pleased to make an inquiry and take steps to remedy the evil.'

Noakhali Bar Association :—

'Emphatically denounce the corrupt practices that obtain amongst the ministerial staff in mufassal courts.'

Khulna Bar Association :—

'Relieve the poor mufassal litigants from the widespread malpractices of the generality of the ministerial staff of mufassal courts.'

Tippera Bar Association :—

'Court officers take illegal gratifications from litigants. . . . . We approve of your moving the resolution.'

Bankura Bar Association :—

'It is needless to say that the practices are rampant.'

Fatikchari Bar Association (Chittagong) :—

'We cannot help blushing with shame and utter disgust when we see the atmosphere so surcharged with the bacilli of this demoralising malady. . . . . if evidence of general repute be of any avail as in cases under sections 109 and 110 of Code of Criminal Procedure . . . . . 90 per cent. of the ministerial staff will be lodged within the high walls of the jails.'

Keshoregunj Bar Association (Mymensingh) :—

'It is a patent fact that, with only microscopic exceptions, corrupt practices have for a long time been prevailing amongst the ministerial staff . . . . Every effort should be made as early as possible to remove them, as they are increasing daily in undue proportions and assuming gigantic shape.'

Jhenida Bar Association (Jessore) :—

'Strongly protests against the prevalence of corrupt practices amongst the ministerial staff . . . . . and urges that immediate and effective steps should be taken by the Government for their suppression.'

Bolepur Bar Association (Birbhum) :—

'There is no doubt that the members of the ministerial staff are corrupt to the backbone and their conscience has become entirely callous.'

Kasba Bar Association (Tippera) :—

'The evil practice is of such long standing and magnitude that it is strange that it has escaped the notice of the Government.'

Satkania Bar Association (Chittagong) :—

'Corrupt practices amongst the ministerial staff have really become a serious menace to the litigants. . . . an effective redress is essentially necessary.'

Feni Bar Association (Noakhali) :—

'The corruptions of the ministerial staff must be put a stop to by all means.'

Basirhat Bar Association (24-Parganas) :—

'We are fully aware of the malpractices which have been going on for a long time . . . . and view with alarm the extent to which these corrupt practices have spread.'

Kurigram Bar Association (Rangpur) :—

'If the Government remain indifferent in the matter, corrupt practices will be gradually increased and the litigant public would be put to much inconvenience and difficulty.'

Nator Bar Association (Rajshahi) :—

'We are smarting under the grievances with no prospect of any redress. . . Things are going from bad to worse.'

"To this I might add my personal testimony. My Lord, fresh from the University, I was sent direct to my father's zamindari, and I carried with me all the high ideals of a young graduate and a sportsman. I remember very well that within a few days of my arrival there I was asked to pass a pleader's bill in which we had submitted to the grossest possible illegal exactions of court officials, beginning from the Sheristadar down to the petty peons. Exactions were made right and left, for filing the plaint, for entering hajira of witnesses, for serving summonses, for drawing up a decree, for returning the papers filed, for cashing the cheque, and I do not know for what not. I can hardly tell you, Sir, what my feelings then were. I could not believe that such things were possible in a British Court of Justice. But our old Dewan pointed out that there was no other alternative but to submit to these extortions. I paid no heed to his words and stopped all such payments. But the result was disastrous. The Dewan was right, and I was overruled by superior authority. Ever after this, through all these years, I have tried my best, in all possible ways, to oppose these exactions, but I have been very seldom successful.

"I hope that these statements would satisfy even the most exacting Judge.

"I do not know whether the Member in charge proposes to argue the point by quoting statistics of formal complaints and actual convictions. I took some pains to get at these figures, but I find that their number is not very high. I do not know whether it is intended to make capital out of this. But I submit that these statistics do not prove anything in matters like these. For obvious reasons, when a man submits to the illegal demands of the court people, he dare not make a formal complaint. Law does not spare the man who pays illegal gratifications. Again in cases where no such gratification is actually paid, no strong case lies against the person who demands a gratification and, moreover, it is very difficult to prove such a mere demand. But let me say without any fear of contradiction that many such cases of unfair demands and illegal extortions are informally brought to the notice of the presiding officers who generally finish them off with a verbal warning to the ministerial officer concerned, a warning which enters through his one ear to get out of the other then and there. My Lord, I have been told by some officials that the best way to cope with the evil would be not to give any illegal gratifications at all. They, in fact, blame us more than their ministerial staff for the prevalence of corrupt practices amongst the latter. To cherish a good opinion of one's own people is a well-known human failing and I do not blame the officials for their attitude. But I must say that their advice regarding withholding illegal payments has no meaning in practice. We would call a man either a fool or eccentric if he were to allow his case, involving important rights and interests, to be lost simply on account of his conscientious objections to submit to illegal but inevitable exactions of the creatures of the court.

"To try to improve the morals of the ministerial staff of mufassal courts, who are corrupt to the backbone, by asking the litigants not to pay them anything even at the risk of incurring great personal loss is, I should say, the Chinese way of facing a difficulty. The ways of the English are quite different. To be afraid of taking up a good work because it is difficult, is alien to British instincts. I know the work before us is very difficult but I also know that I am appealing to the British Government for redress. I earnestly hope that no attempt will be made by the member in charge to oppose this motion but a helping hand would be stretched out to us to tackle the question in true British spirit. I do not say that matters would be set right at once, but much good would result by an inquiry into the nature and extent of the prevalence of corrupt practices. It would undoubtedly help us to devise means for securing an effective check to these pernicious practices. I consider an official inquiry essential, as it is impossible for a layman to suggest the right course of action. So far as my experience goes, I find that a certain procedure followed in courts greatly help the ministerial staff to carry on their trade of illegal exactions with impunity. To give one example, I might say that all plaints are filed before the sheristadar who without assigning any reason for it in writing is authorised not to admit any plaint which, in his opinion, does not conform to legal technicalities. Under cover of this extraordinary power, he can refuse to admit any plaint for which a filing fee is not paid into his pocket. Now if it be laid down that any refusal to admit a plaint should be reported to the presiding officer and the orders should be passed under his signature, I think an effective check could be put to exactions of this nature. I could give many instances of this kind, but the best course would be to institute an official inquiry into the matter, because official knowledge and experience would be extremely valuable for the purpose of making practical suggestions in such matters. My Lord, I have left to the Government to decide what should be the mode of the inquiry. I would, however, suggest that a special officer of some experience might be deputed to make a sifting inquiry. Much, of course, will depend on the selection of the right man. He must be sympathetic and painstaking and imbued with a desire to get at the root of the matter solely with a view to bring about an improvement in the existing state of affairs. The nature of the inquiry ought to be informal. Witnesses should not be scared away by threats of prosecution for paying illegal gratifications or the like. I do not want him to report against individual members of the staff; this would complicate matters. What I want is that he should make such feasible suggestions as would enable the Government to effect a change for the better at once without incurring heavy expenditure for the purpose. In this connection I might say that some people are of opinion that the pay of the ministerial staff should be increased. But I do not agree with them. Clerks in the Postal and Registration Departments do as much responsible work and are recurited from the same class of people, with same qualifications as the clerks in the mufassal courts, and though they do not get higher pay, yet the Postal Department is one of the best managed and the least corrupt of the Government Departments and the Registration Department, too, is comparatively pure. The real thing is that it is the system that is rotten in our mufassal courts and this requires a thorough overhauling.

"My Lord, I feel a little delicacy in having to speak something against this motion. The resolution before us may be called a 'purity resolution', and anyone having regard to purity and sanctity would naturally feel some reluctance in standing against a resolution of this kind. But I may be permitted to say to the hon'ble mover of this resolution that anyone who is older than 32 years of age has got a different experience of our courts from what has been given expression to by my hon'ble friend. It seems to be undeniable that the morale of our ministerial services has considerably improved during the last 30 years. My friend has given this Council a harrowing description supplied by a member of Bar Associations in different parts of Bengal which all go to show that there is prevalence of corruption and corrupt practices.

"My Lord, I have been practising in one of the heaviest mufassal bars for the last 45 years, and I think I owe it to myself to bear testimony to the fact that what I have seen of them when I entered the profession and what I now see of them is perfectly different ; they are now considerably improved. and my hon'ble friend's remark seems to be rather sweeping ; he says that this corrupt practice prevails from the highest to the lowest—from the Sheristadar down to the lowest ministerial officer. But I have experience of a man who drawing the poor pay of a muharrir of a record-room in a collectorate on Rs. 30 a month has never touched a single pice by way of illegal gratification, and this is not a solitary instance ; many of the ministerial staff at the present day are above reproach ; they live from hand to mouth but still they do not yield to temptation. I do not deny that there are some black sheep even now and they ought to be eradicated. But, My Lord, to ask for an inquiry in a matter of this description would be something like mounting a long-range gun to kill a swarm of gnats. They are ill-paid and they live from hand to mouth. There are corruptions and malpractices even in higher spheres of life, and if we have to begin the operation we have to begin from above, and not from below. I do not for one moment contend that they should not be above reproach but to make them above reproach you ought to make their salaries sufficient to enable them not to yield to temptation. I would have thought that my friend would have brought forward a resolution to increase the pay of ministerial officers, but of course he has told us that he is not in favour of that and he wants that these people might be even starved and still expected to create a Utopia for us. I do not consider that this resolution is at all desirable ; no doubt, there are some officers who invariably take illegal gratifications although they are not in straitened circumstances, but still I do not think that their number is so large as to justify an inquiry. There is a standing order of Government that heads of departments ought to see that there are no malpractices in their courts and offices I know of some officers and some Judges and Collectors who do take care to see whether there is this malpractice or not. A reminder given to them now and then is quite enough. A lengthy process of inquiry into a matter like this seems to me to be quite out of proportion to the evil complained of."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I do not oppose the motion altogether as I see that the Hon'ble Member has been approached by many Bar Associations and other respectable bodies, but at the same time I sympathise with the ministerial staff as regards their very inadequate pay. If anything is to be done—and something should be done—their position should be considered. It should also be considered whether their pay is sufficient to maintain themselves and their families ; if it is not sufficient then I think something should be done to raise their pay. They have hardly any time to supplement their income by doing extra work. I do not oppose the motion, but what I want is that something should be done for these ministerial officers. If an inquiry is going to be held, I hope that their position will also be taken into consideration by the Committee."

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, when I read the notice of motion of the Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekareswar Ray it reminded me of the terms of the Government resolution relating to the formation of the late Rowlatt Committee. Most of us knew of the existence of seditious conspiracy, but the Government chose to appoint a Committee to inquire as to whether such a thing, whether such a seditious conspiracy, existed or not. Well, in that view, the terms of the present resolution of the Hon'ble Member may be supported, i. e., if you are going to take measures to check malpractices amongst the ministerial staff of the mufassal courts then you must commence with an inquiry. I do not think that the inquiry will do much good because nobody will come forward to tell the Committee that he has been receiving bribes or giving bribes. Therefore the inquiry will be on the reports of people who have the impression that such malpractices obtain amongst the ministerial staff of the mufassal courts. That is the only way the inquiry can be conducted. My Lord, I was once connected with a court not far from Government House for a pretty long time. I have lost touch with them for about 10 years and, therefore, before making up my mind to take any part in this discussion on this resolution, I thought it better to obtain up-to-date information about the working of the ministerial staff of these courts. After inquiry I was confirmed in the view which I entertained at the time, that at the present time the heads of departments are free from corruption. I suppose that is also the case in the distant mufassal courts. As regards the staff which come in the lower ranks there is corruption, and that corruption is a thing which can be checked.

"My hon'ble friend on my right has sotto voce referred to the Calcutta Small Cause Court. In my opinion the resolution does not cover that court, and I suppose the hon'ble mover is not aware of the state of things in the Calcutta Small Cause Court. There also is corruption amongst the lower ranks. The law is clear in these cases, it requires no amendment. You can punish the giver and the taker of a bribe, but the difficulty is that these things are done in secret and it is only the giver and the taker who can be witnesses, and as they would be liable to punishment under the law neither of them would be keen in giving evidence. If the law requires amendment it would be in the direction of doing something to take away the penalty from one of the parties, but upon that point I cannot express any positive opinion at the present moment. The present attitude of the presiding officers of these courts, I speak subject to correction, is that unless a thing comes directly to their knowledge they seldom go out of their way to take special efforts to check bribery. When a case of bribery comes to their knowledge, if there is insufficient evidence, they do their duty by dismissing the man whom they suspect, but this has not been a great deterrent. Unless you employ special detective officers of the police you cannot ferret out these cases of bribery in the law courts. The remedy lies not simply in punishing the wicked, not simply in punishing the corrupt ministerial officers, or the process-server, who is a great culprit. They have their excuses. The process-server has been only receiving Rs. 6 a month in pre-war times, and during the period of the war he has been paid Rs. 7 or Rs. 7-8, and this rate has been temporarily increased to Rs. 10 now. Committees have been formed who have recommended the increase in the salaries of ministerial officers ; the last Committee sat a few years ago with the Hon'ble Justice Holmwood as its president. This Committee did not suggest any real increase of salaries, but revised the rates of increment ; there has been no substantial increase, and unless you increase salaries in accordance with the responsibility you place on these people, this state of things will continue. I do not agree with the Hon'ble Member who refers to the Postal Department, a most popular department, as an example. In this country there is no corruption in this department, nor in the Registration Department. But their responsibilities are not the same. That accounts for the absence of corruption in these departments and the prevalence of corruption in the law courts. You cannot exactly argue from the absence of corruption in the Postal Department, where the postal peon can tamper with latters without delivering them to the addressee, as the system of supervision in the Postal Department is such that you can easily detect and dismiss the peon at once. That is not the case in the law courts and I would, therefore, suggest that you make an inquiry—it is high time that an inquiry should be made, and something done to check malpractices. Salaries in the lower ranks should also be revised and raised according to the responsibility given to these men and the powers vested in them. The worst offender is the process-server. Something should be done in the same way as has been done in the Police Department. It is a scandal that a suitor has to submit to being fleeced by these people attached to the lower courts before he can get some sort of justice. Something has been said, and I regret that it has been so said by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, that corruption prevails in higher posts and higher quarters, and that these humble people with small salaries should not be judged too harshly. I am very sorry that the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has chosen to give expression to such remarks. I am a student of these things, and I certainly think that the higher services—I mean the Subordinate Judicial and Subordinate Executive as also the Civil Service—are free from corruption in this country."

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar interrupting said :—"The Hon'ble Member is not correct in his statement. I never mentioned the Civil Service or the Judicial Service at all."

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—"I am glad to hear that. With these observations I do support the motion of my friend the Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I am long past the age of 32, and have yet to wait a long time before I can reach the venerable age of my friend the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar and, therefore, I am still in a position to support the motion of my friend the Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray. I support this motion, My Lord, because it is an admitted fact, although positive proof cannot be easily given at a moment's notice, that there is a general complaint throughout the Presidency that the exaction in law courts has become intolerable. My Lord, I do not know whether the scandal was greater some 20 or 25 years before, and whether it is less now, but I don't think there should be any opposition to an inquiry. I am sorry this motion has been confined only to mufassal courts. I am not sure whether I shall be in order and, if Your Excellency will permit me to change the word 'mufassal' into 'law courts', it may extend the scope of the inquiry. If Government accept this motion it may embrace both Calcutta and mufassal courts."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member must give notice of amendments when he wishes to move them."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I was doubtful, My Lord, whether this would be permitted, and I craved Your Excellency's permission; if that permission were given the inquiry would extend to all courts, and not only to courts in the mufassal. I admit frankly that there are a large number of members of the ministerial staff who are honourable men, whether highly paid or not, and who are free from the corrupt practices which have been referred to. But, My Lord, from my experience of law courts, I consider that an inquiry is necessary. My Lord, as regards departmental heads, I have nothing to say. They are all honourable men and they, I believe, try their best to put down this evil, but I am afraid that, nothwithstanding their desire to do so, and the existence of a standing Government order to which the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has referred, no effective check has been placed on these exactions.

Then, My Lord, my hon'ble friend to my right, the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur, has mentioned the process-servers on a salary of Rs. 6 a month. It is true that they are ill-paid men, but there are other ministerial officers who are also ill-paid. If a thorough inquiry is made it will be found that many of them both in Calcutta and the mufassal have fallen victims to temptation. Of course, there are ministerial officers who are above temptation. However, I think that something should be done to put an effective check to the evil practice referred to.

Then, as regards the increase of the pay of these officers, I am sorry I cannot agree with the Hon'ble Mover, nor do I think that he can expect the Council to share his views, that the salary of these officers need not be increased. I do think that the salary of these ministerial officers requires improvement ; they have got to live, and many of them do not earn a living wage and, therefore, they easily fall victims to temptation. If an inquiry is taken up, the Government will also take up the question of the revision of the salary of these officers. I have nothing more to say, but I hope the Government would make an inquiry into the matter and take necessary steps to put down the evil."

The Hon'ble MR. DUVAL said :—

"I fear the taking of illegal exactions in this country is undoubtedly one of very long standing, but it is by no means confined to some Government clerks and servants. To do what they can to prevent such exactions in mufassal offices the policy of Government has been to try and pay its officers a fair wage, and not to entertain unpaid agency. That system of unpaid agency has been abolished in recent years, and so has the system which was prevalent 20 years ago of having, in addition to unpaid assistants, a large number of officers who used to be paid by commission fees. I fear, however, that outside Government offices it is not the invariable rule to pay servants. In civil courts many pleaders employ clerks whom they do not pay, but leave it to the litigant to pay them something when they employ them, nor do I think that landlords pay their servants highly enough to prevent them seeking to add to their pay by petty exactions.

"Government believes that in its officers the evil is decreasing ; but it can never wholly disappear except with the help of public opinion.

"As to the question of an inquiry, I would point out that full inquiries into the salaries of ministerial officers were made about 10 years ago, and the pay of lower grade clerks increased. Only a few months ago process peons too had their pay increased. When cases of such exactions come to the notice of District Officers and Judges the matter is always investigated, and the offender severely dealt with if found guilty. Unfortunately, however, many of the charges made come to the District Officers anonymously in the shape of letters which cannot be investigated, and there is often difficulty in getting persons to come forward to prove allegations made. Government servants cannot any more be convicted on pure hearsay or suspicion. Government is, therefore, not prepared to hold a general inquiry at the present, but must continue to depend on its District Officers and Judges to deal with each charge on its merits as it is made."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHAREŚWAR RAY said :—

My Lord, I admit that I am only 32 years of age, perhaps the youngest Member of this Council, but when the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar says that my youth stands in the way of properly appreciating the real state of affairs, My Lord, I certainly differ from him. I am rather of opinion that age brings with it a tolerant attitude because of its incapacity, owing to various causes, to move with the times. My Lord, a Bengali poet has sung about the crowning glory of youth "যৌবনে দাও রাজ টীকা" and I am a firm believer in its truth : it is youth which has won the war.

Even some Bar Associations of Faridpur district from which my friend hails have written to me about the prevalence of these practices. I do not admit that matters have improved. I tell the house from my personal knowledge that the filing fee in some of the courts has been doubled owing to the war. My Lord, I do not make the charge against all officers; there are many honourable exceptions. As for asking the presiding officers to keep an eye on the conduct of their ministerial staff, My Lord, I beg to point out that they are so overworked that it is not possible for them to keep an efficient check on their clerks. I personally know many officials who try hard to keep their courts pure, but they are helpless on account of some defects in the procedure. I am sure the Hon'ble Mr. Duval will bear me out, he has made himself famous on account of the concern he has shown for the morals of his court officials. Unless an inquiry is made, how is the Government to know what actions are necessary?"

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, although the ground on behalf of Government has been covered by what the hon'ble Mr. Duval has said, yet in the regrettable absence of my Hon'ble colleague the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, to whom the reply to this resolution would normally have fallen I might perhaps say a few words in the hope of making it clearer why we do not support an inquiry of the kind outlined by the Hon'ble Mover. It is not that we do not know that, unfortunately, corruption prevails in many Government offices, and it is not that we do not deplore the fact and do not desire by every means possible to root out these evil practices; but it is because we think that the expedient suggested of sending round a special officer to all districts will not have the desired effect. Local officers are aware of the facts and are already trying to check the evil. I know only of four main lines of check. One is to endeavour to improve the class of men recruited for Government services; that Government already does and is doing, and we are constantly trying to raise the standard of education among our officers. The second is to enhance the rate of their pay so as to put them beyond the temptation of taking bribes. As we all know, as funds permit, we are gradually doing this. The third is to adopt an organisation which brings those ministerial officers as far as possible under the supervision of reliable superior officers and does not place it their hands to take the initiative in executive matters. That also is an object which we strive to attain. The fourth is, when malpractices are brought to notice, to try energetically to root them out. When I was a Joint Magistrate and junior Collector it was my lot to be posted to a district in Bihar which had a very bad reputation in this matter. I was then young and energetic, and spent much of my time in seeking to check these evils. I punished a great many, from the sheristadar downwards, at the cost of a great deal of personal effort, and I believe I effected some improvement. That is the experience of most Government officers who are sitting here, but my point is that the remedy devolves upon the local officers and must rest with them. The deputation of one special officer will not help much.

"On the non-official side, there are two matters particularly in which help can be afforded. One is the strengthening of public sentiment and opinion, so as to ostracise and pillory these underlings in our courts who have the reputation of being bribe-takers and corrupt. The second is to come forward and to bring to the notice of superiors instances in which the public have suffered at the hands of subordinate officers. I think I can fairly assure the Council that the average superior officer is perfectly willing to energetically investigate any reasonable charge that is brought to his notice; and I think the Hon'ble Mover has underestimated the value of giving such information and the possibility of doing it. It means, no doubt, a certain amount of trouble to the person who suffers to go and complain to a superior officer, and he may feel that, rather than be so burdened, he would willingly pay eight annas or a rupee. That is a natural feeling. But unless people who do suffer will take the trouble to prosecute their charges and bring them home to those who are guilty, it is very difficult for Government officers to intervene.

"Sir, our position is that we do not deny the evil; we all wish to see it rooted up, but we do not think that the deputation of a special officer will really help us in achieving that object."

The resolution was then put and lost.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned to Thursday, the 19th December, 1918, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL IRRIGATION REVENUE REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1917-18.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 9TH DECEMBER 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 4795*I*.

READ—

The Annual Irrigation Revenue Report for the year 1917-18.

The Major Irrigation Works in Bengal are the Midnapore and Hijili Tidal Canals. The works are in operation. The Minor Works for navigation are the Calcutta and Eastern Canals, the Madaripur Bhil Channel, a portion of the Orissa Coast Canal, the Nadia Rivers and the Gaighatta and Baxi Khal. The only irrigation work of this class is the Eden Canal. Training works on the rivers Ganges, Bhagirathi, Dhaleswari and Buriganga, and anti-malarial works carried out by this department at the cost of Government, are classed under this head.

2. The capital outlay on the Major Works up to the end of March 1918 amounted to Rs. 1,11,11,990. The works constructed for this outlay comprise two weirs across the Cossye River at Midnapore and at Panchkura and 98·75 miles of main and branch canals, of which 69·75 miles provide for both irrigation and navigation, and 29 miles for navigation only; there are, in addition, 254½ miles of distributaries. The Terapakia Pass Khal, Palaboni Khal and the khal leading to the Gewankhali Lock entrance, of which the aggregate length is 20¾ miles, are also maintained for navigation and included as part of the Hijili Tidal Canal. During the year under review no addition was made to the length of the canals or distributaries.

3. The total receipts from the Major Works amounted to Rs. 2,77,964 and the working expenses to Rs. 1,80,601, the net result being a net revenue of Rs. 97,363 against Rs. 90 904 in the preceding year. This result is chiefly due to the curtailment of all but the essential urgent expenditure on repairs on account of the present financial conditions. The general revenues of these canals, which depend considerably upon receipts from navigation, have suffered of late years from railway competition. During the year under review there was, however, some increase in navigation receipts due to the diversion of traffic from the railway to the canals, owing to restriction on rail-borne goods traffic on account of the war.

4. The area irrigated during the year was 86,786 acres as compared with 85,827 acres in 1916-17 and an average of 82,595 acres for the triennium ending March 1917.

5. The capital outlay on canals classed as Minor Works and Navigation was Rs. 3,41,453 during the year, and Rs. 1,37,43,104 to end of the year. The receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 7,89,903 and the working expenses to Rs. 7,08,369. The financial results of the year and the capital expenditure to date are exhibited in the following statement :—

6. The Calcutta and Eastern Canals form a series of navigable channels, mostly natural but partly artificial, by which communication is maintained between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. The receipts from navigation tolls amounted to Rs. 3,46,216 as compared with Rs. 2,98,117 in the preceding year. The capital outlay incurred during the year was expended principally, as in the two previous years, on the improvement of the Gabkhan-Bharani Khal from Chowkighatta to Jhalakati. The work was approaching completion at the end of the year under review.

7. The capital expenditure during the year on the Madaripur Bhil Channel, which connects the Madhumati and Kumar Rivers in the district of Faridpur, was incurred on (1) improvement of the Lower Kumar River including easing bends therein, and (2) constructing an embankment with sluices along the south bank of the channel. A complete revised estimate for the project was submitted to the Government of India : but, as desired by that Government, a completion report of the project is being prepared. The construction estimate has been closed with effect from the 31st March 1917. The total capital outlay (direct charges) to end of the year amounted to Rs. 39,63,430 against the sanctioned estimate of Rs. 34,32,491. The receipts and working expenses (direct and indirect) during the year were, respectively, Rs. 3,51,617 and Rs. 88,559 as against Rs. 3,38,547 and Rs. 69,513 in the year 1916-17. The increase in receipts is chiefly due to the fact that the western entrance of the canal at Manikdah remained free from silt deposit throughout the season as a result of the construction of the bund along the south bank of the canal.

8. The Orissa Coast Canal in conjunction with the Hijili Tidal Canal affords communication between Bengal and Orissa, and previous to the opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway was the only inland route by which supplies of food could be conveyed into Orissa in time of famine. This canal, which is intended for navigation only, now lies partly (i.e., for a length of 45 miles) in this Presidency and partly in the province of Bihar and Orissa. The receipts and working expenses (direct and indirect) for the portion within Bengal were, respectively, Rs. 14,587 and Rs. 31,706 as against Rs. 14,142 and Rs. 18,347 in the year 1916-17. The increased expenditure during 1917-18 is due to special repairs to the Bhaitgarh Lock.

9. The work in the Nadia Rivers consists in the training of the river channels by bandals with the two-fold object of maintaining by the scouring of shoals a sufficient depth of water for boat traffic and at the same time improving the sanitation of the country. The former object is only partially attained, but the work done is of use in the interests of sanitation. The report on the Nadia Rivers by Major F. C. Hirst, I.A., Director of Surveys, Bengal, referred to in the last two years' resolutions, was under consideration during the year by the Committee which was appointed to advise Government upon the steps which should be taken to carry out systematic observations of the changes in the Nadia Rivers and also, if possible, to improve their condition as navigable channels and as feeders for the Lower Hooghly. The Committee have not yet finished their deliberations. The receipts and working expenses of the Nadia Rivers were Rs. 16,677 and Rs. 99,187, respectively, as against Rs. 15,788 and Rs. 1,21,967 in the preceding year. With the growth of railway lines on either bank of the Bhagirathi and the continued inefficiency of these rivers for the purposes of navigation, in addition to reduction in the rates of tollage from 1906, there has been a continuous decline in the receipts from Rs. 2 lakhs in the year 1890-91 to less than a tenth of that sum in 1917-18.

10. The Gaighatta and Baxi Khal is a short channel connecting the rivers Damodar and Rupnarain. No expenditure was incurred during the year on the maintenance of the khal. The collection of tolls on boat traffic has been leased out for two years from 1st April 1917 to 31st March 1919 at a rental of Rs. 3,400 per annum.

11. The Eden Canal was originally constructed for sanitary reasons, but it is now used to some extent for irrigation. It was worked during the year at a profit of Rs. 9,557 against a loss of Rs. 16,166 in the preceding year. This better result was due to a decrease in working expenses, though the area irrigated was 2,460 acres less than in the preceding year, due to copious rainfall throughout the kharif season.

12. The work in connection with the improvement of the Bidyadhari River by creating a spill area was in progress during the year. The operations already undertaken have effected some improvement; and it is expected that by the continuation and extension of the operations a further improvement will be effected and the life of the river will probably be prolonged for a number of years.

13. Surveys were continued during the year in connection with projects for mitigating the effects of the Damodar floods, and the following works were started with that object in view :—

(a) the retirement of the Baxi Khal embankment; and (b) the improvement of the Ghosapatty Khal.

13. (i) Training works were as usual carried out in the Dhaleswari and Buriganga Rivers to facilitate navigation and to improve the water-supply of the town of Dacca. The operations, however, were not successful. Some dredging was done near Dacca by the Inland Steamer Companies, Government bearing half the cost.

(ii) Training works were carried out also during the year, through the agency of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, on the river Ganges between Rajmahal and Goalundo.

(iii) To improve navigation as well as the sanitary conditions and water-supply of the town of Rampur-Boalia, training works were carried out on the inner channel of the river Ganges.

(iv) At the mouth of the Bhagirathi river, at its offtake from the Ganges, no dredging operations were done during the year owing to adverse circumstances; endeavours were made to improve the channel by means of bandalling only, so as to improve sanitary conditions by an increased flow in the river. The operations, however, were not successful.

14. General.—As stated in the last year's resolution the most important problems with which the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department in Bengal have to deal are mainly of a sanitary character, or are in connection with navigation or works of protection against floods. The solution of these problems depends to a very great extent on the observations of land levels and the collection of accurate hydraulic data over very large areas.

During the year under review an Executive Engineer was placed on special duty to investigate the drainage conditions of the area lying between the Dhaleswari and the Padma Rivers. The object of the investigation is to ascertain whether and in what way it is possible to improve the sanitary condition of the area between these rivers and navigation facilities in the Dhaleswari, Buriganga and the numerous khals to the south of them, especially in regard to the possibility of opening a short navigable route between the Padma and the Dhaleswari.

Investigations in connection with anti-malarial works into the drainage conditions over large areas in the districts of Jessore, Nadia, Khulna and the 24-Parganas were continued and valuable information obtained.

15. The Irrigation Department during the year was in charge of Mr. F. A. A. Cowley. The thanks of Government are due to him for the efficient conduct of the affairs of the department during the year and to Mr. Addams-Williams, C.I.E., Superintending Engineer on special duty, for his zeal and energy in the conduct of the enquiries into the drainage conditions in this Presidency. The good work of other officers has also been noted by Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy thereof and of its accompaniments be submitted to the Government of India in the Public Works Department and circulated to other Governments and to all departments and officers of this Government as usual.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

[Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under the Cotton Crops in Bengal has represented some 0·3 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.]

The "early" crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in other districts. The "late" crop is unimportant and is mainly grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—As stated in the Second Forecast the weather conditions were generally favourable although some damage was reported from Hill Tippera to the early crop through excessive rainfall in July and August. Subsequently the late crop suffered somewhat from absence of rain and the prospective outturn has, in consequence, been reduced. On the whole, however, a fairly good outturn is expected from both crops.

Area sown.—The total area sown, with the early crop, is reported to be 70,786 acres and that with the late crop 2,203 acres against 69,130 and 2,100 acres, respectively, reported in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of the early crop works out at 25,272 bales this year against 19,104 and 17,786 bales reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year. The outturn of the late crop is estimated at 919 bales this year against 1,068 bales last year.

S. MILLIGAN,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

3. The quantity to be sold monthly will ordinarily be notified before each sale, but Government reserve to themselves the right, at any time, without previous notice to reduce the quantity or alter the class of opium to be offered for sale.

4. The following are the conditions of sale. Government reserve to themselves the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice, and power is reserved to vary the upset price referred to in condition (ii) at any time without such previous notice:—

(i) The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

(ii) The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 3,200 per chest of uncertified opium and will be sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause (xiii) of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

(iii) The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Government, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Government may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as Government shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

(vi) The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or, whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vi).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorising the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained ; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 3,200 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether ten lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said ten.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1.—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.
No. 2.—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 6·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—As reported in the preliminary forecast the weather conditions in the beginning of the season were generally favourable, good rainfall in April and May enabling a full area to be put down under these crops. Subsequently, however, the weather proved unfavourable, the heavy rain and absence of sunshine in June retarding growth to a considerable extent. The rainfall in July was defective throughout Western Bengal. The abnormal rise of rivers during this month and excessive rain in August, considerably damaged the crops in most of the Eastern and Northern districts, Rajshahi, Bogra, Pabna, Mymensingh and the Chittagong Hill Tracts being the worst sufferers. All over the season has thus been an unfavourable one.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year with the various bhadoi crops dealt with in the forecast is estimated at 5,933,300 acres against 5,964,300 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is returned at 5,066,600 acres against 5,076,100 acres of last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District Officers the outturn of the different bhadoi crops works out to 77 per cent. of the normal as against 88 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Autumn rice.—Accepting 77 per cent. as the outturn of autumn rice for this year, the gross outturn for the province, on the basis of a normal yield of 10½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 30,095,600 cwts. against 32,818,500 cwts. reported in the final forecast of last year.

The weather was favourable since the submission of the preliminary forecast. Damage to the extent of 17 per cent. is reported from Basirhat owing to heavy rain. Goods marked (A) to all Destinations ;

Goods marked (B) to All Ports and Destinations Abroad other than Ports and Destinations in British Possessions and Protectorates ;

The dates appended to various prohibitions are those of Orders of Council imposing or amending those prohibitions since the Royal Proclamation of 10th May 1916. Where no date appears it may be assumed that the prohibition stands as it did on the 10th May 1916.

List C.—By order of Council, dated the 1st October 1918, All Goods [other than (1) printed matter and (2) personal effects accompanied by their owners] are prohibited from export to All Destinations in European and Asiatic Russia and in other Foreign Countries in Europe and on the Mediterranean, except France and French Possessions, Italy and Italian Possessions, and Portugal, and to all Ports in any such Foreign Countries. [As regards (1) it should be noted that certain forms of printed matter are prohibited under the prohibition on (B) Paper, etc., page 17. See also page 29, for further information regarding exports to neutral Europe.]

Orders of Council issued subsequently to the date of this list are published in the "Board of Trade Journal," which may be obtained either directly or through any bookseller from the undermentioned branches of H. M. Stationery Office :—

Cardiff : 1, St. Andrew's Crescent ;
Manchester : 37, Peter Street ;
Edinburgh : 23, Forth Street ; or from Messrs. E. Ponsonby, Ltd., 115, Grafton Street, Dublin.

The attention of exporters is drawn to the fact that various articles marked B may, in view of the percentage of copper contained in them, be subject to the Copper Prohibition (List A). (See "Copper.")

Application must therefore be made to the War Trade Department for licences to export goods which fall within the aforementioned copper prohibition on account of the quantity of copper contained therein. Such applications should always indicate clearly the actual quantity of copper and/or copper alloys the goods contain.

This list cancels all similar lists issued by the War Trade Department prior to 21st October 1918.

Paper No. 9.—Letter dated the 7th September, 1918, from the Secretary, Bengal Tenants' Association.

Paper No. 10.—Letter dated the 30th September, 1918, from the Secretary, Mymensingh Association.

Paper No. 11.—Letter dated the 4th October, 1918, from the Honorary Secretary, Central National Muhammadan Association.

Clause 2.

2. We have made it clear that the reference in clause (a) of the proposed new sub-section (2) of section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, is to clause (2) of section 41 of the Cess Act, 1880.

3. In order to meet the objections which have been raised as to the effect of the Bill as introduced on existing written agreements to pay cess in excess of the provisions of the Cess Act, it has been considered desirable to save existing written contracts ; and a new proviso to this effect has been inserted in the proposed new sub-section (2). The existing proviso barring the recovery of excess cess will remain as a second proviso.

4. As section 179 of the Bengal Tenancy Act already protects permanent mukarrari lease-holders in any contract which they make with their tenants on the subject of cess, it was not considered necessary to make in the original draft of the Bill any reference to such cases. As, however, it has been pointed out that there should be a similar protection in the cases of leases executed before the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act, we recommend that there should be a general saving provision dealing with mukarrari leases ; and a provision for this purpose has been inserted as a proposed new sub-section (3) in section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Clause 3.

5. The amendment here proposed is simply consequential.

6. We recommend that the Bill as thus amended be passed.

High price of rice and pulses in Bengal.

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the unusually high price of rice and pulses in the various districts in the Presidency of Bengal?

(b) Is it a fact that the price is on the increase?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, they are taking in this matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) The attention of Government has been drawn to the prices of rice and pulses in the various districts of the Presidency. As there seems to be a general misapprehension regarding the state of such prices, or at all events of rice, Government takes this opportunity of laying on the library table certain comparative statements regarding retail and wholesale prices (so far as available at the time of the preparation of this reply), which will show clearly what that state is. In the case of pulses it will be seen from them that, generally speaking, retail prices rose in the years 1914 and 1915, fell in 1916 and 1917 and have risen again above the level of the prices in 1914 and 1915. In the case of pulses there has undoubtedly been a considerable rise in retail prices.

The price of rice, the staple food crop, has not behaved in the same manner. If anything, wholesale prices in the first fortnight of November are less than those which prevailed during the same period in the five years preceding 1917. Retail prices differ little from those prevailing at the same time in the years 1914, 1915 and 1916. They fell in 1917 and the first half of this year considerably on account of an abundant harvest last season. In July or August they began to rise again to the present level which, though they may be called high, cannot in these circumstances be termed unusual.

(b) The returns of the retail prices of rice for the week ending the 5th December show a slight increase on those in the return for the first week of November, but in some districts the price has remained stationary or has fallen slightly.

(c) The following measures have been taken :—

(1) An arrangement has been come to by which the import of Rangoon rice, both of old and new crops, has been resumed under licenses to be granted by the Director of Civil Supplies of this Province. Dealings by importers in the new rice will only be allowed on condition that certain maximum selling prices are not exceeded. A copy of the terms upon which such import is allowed into Calcutta is laid on the table.

(2) The export of rice by rail from Bengal is prohibited except under orders of the Foodstuffs Commissioner. There are some relatively unimportant exceptions such as the coalfields adjoining the Province. In order to enable the Foodstuffs Commissioner to decide how much rice can safely be exported from Bengal, Government have recently caused special inquiries as to existing stocks to be made throughout the Province.

(3) Pulses can be imported, but in the case of imports from the Punjab, the United Provinces or the Central Provinces, certificates from the Director of Civil Supplies of this Province are required. The question of placing restrictions on the export of pulses is under consideration, but has not yet been decided.

Questions and Answers.

Hon'ble Members will realise for themselves that at the present juncture the distribution of foodstuffs is not a mere provincial matter, but is a matter of importance affecting the whole of India. Therefore such control as may be exercised is not in the interest of any one particular province, but has to be in the interests of all provinces."

Paper referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN to question No. II (starred) asked by the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR at the Council Meeting held on the 19th December, 1918.

Terms upon which import of Rangoon Rice (new crop) will be allowed into Calcutta.

1. Licenses from the Director of Civil Supplies, Bengal, will be required for importation of Rangoon rice into Calcutta.

2. Licenses will not be general but will be valid only for the importation of such quantities as are named in the license.

3. They will not be transferable.

4. The names of the licensees and of their shippers in Rangoon and the quantities licensed will be telegraphed by the Director of Civil Supplies to the Rice Commissioner, Rangoon, and such communications will take the place of the formal export license which shippers of rice from Rangoon have to take out from the Rice Commissioner. Licenses will be valid for shipment in the month for which they are granted.

5. The right of granting or refusing a license to any particular firm or person at his discretion is reserved to the Director of Civil Supplies.

6. Licenses will not be granted by the Director of Civil Supplies except on his being satisfied that the applicant will sell at a price in Calcutta not exceeding the maximum selling price fixed by him.

7. Tonnage in Rangoon will be allotted by the Rice Commissioner to the shippers named by the licensees.

8. The maximum selling price in Calcutta for new crop Rangoon rice (Big Mill Specials) has been fixed at Rs. 5-1-0 per maund C. I. F., $\frac{\text{and}}{\text{or}}$ Rs. 5-6-0 per maund ex godown.

Licenses for Import of Rangoon Rice (old crop).

Licenses for the import of Rangoon rice (old crop) will be granted on the same terms as above, save that there will be no maximum selling price fixed.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

(Answers to which were laid on the table.)

By the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray:—

1.

(a) With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. XIII of the 3rd September last, will the Government be pleased to refer to the University Regulations and state the precise nature of the "information" referred to in clause (b) of the said answer as being "required by the University Regulations"?

University Regulations and uniformity of standards.

Questions and Answers.

(b) With reference to the " uniformity of standards " which the instructions contained in the Director of Public Instruction's letter No. 2253-2259-G., dated the 25th April, 1918, are stated to secure, will the Government be pleased to state whether such uniformity is specially aimed at by the University Regulations themselves, or is a departmental requirement? If the latter, are these instructions issued solely on the responsibility of the Director of Public Instruction?

(c) Is it a fact that these instructions go so far beyond the University Regulations as to require a higher standard to be satisfied by schools than is contemplated by the University authorities?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to regulations 2—5 in Chapter XXI of the University Regulations.

(b) A uniform minimum standard of efficiency is necessarily contemplated by the University Regulations. The instructions which were issued by the Director of Public Instruction departmentally aim at securing this standard and explaining in some detail the requirements necessary to satisfy the University Regulations.

(c) This does not appear to be the case. In these matters the Inspectors of the Education Department merely inspect and report for the Syndicate of the University, and the Director of Public Instruction merely advises the University authority, which is at liberty to accept or reject his recommendations."

Alleged acts of high-handedness by officers and employés of the Hazidanga Indigo Factory.

(a) Are the Government aware of certain acts of oppression and high-handedness alleged to be practised by the officers and employés of the Hazidanga Indigo Factory in the district of Murshidabad upon tenants and labourers living in certain villages owned by the Midnapore Zamindari Company?

(b) Is it a fact that several petitions have been addressed by the said tenants and labourers to the District Magistrate and other authorities calling attention to these allegations and seeking redress thereof?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of such petitions and what action, if any, has been taken thereon?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) Government are aware that certain persons have alleged the practice of some such acts.

(b) Yes.

(c) There were 2 complaints made to the police, 3 petitions to the Chairman, District Board, and 2 petitions to the District Magistrate.

The 2 police cases were dealt with magisterially. One of them forms the subject-matter of another Council question. In the other it was alleged by the complainant that while he was gathering fodder for his cattle, a Factory guard drove him away and took away his sickle. After a judicial inquiry the complaint was dismissed under section 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

Questions and Answers.

Of the petitions, one related to the second police case just mentioned. In the second petition it was alleged that the Factory servants had forcibly seized the petitioners' cattle and imposed fines on them for their release. On inquiry by the Sadar Sub-Divisional Officer these allegations were found to be untrue. A third petition alleged the theft of a horse and the forcible seizure of another horse and cattle by the Factory servants. In the remaining two petitions the allegations were that the Factory compelled the petitioners to take advances for the cultivation of indigo and oats and destroyed their other standing crops, that the petitioners were paid insufficient wages and made to supply milk free of charge and that fines were imposed upon them. No action was taken on the last three petitions as they were not stamped."

Will the Government be pleased to state—

Indigo cultivation by the Midnapore Zamindari Company in the Murshidabad district.

(a) the approximate total area brought under indigo cultivation by the Midnapore Zamindari Company in the district of Murshidabad;

(b) the persons in whose occupation the lands were, and the use to which they were put, previous to the introduction by the said company of indigo cultivation there;

(c) the proportion of the said lands which belonged to the tenants;

(d) the rates at which the company pay compensation to the tenants for having taken away such lands from their occupation; and

(e) the average rate of rent payable by the tenants to their immediate landlords in respect thereof?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

"(a) The final forecast for indigo shows 5,100 acres of indigo cultivation in the district, of which 4,850 acres are probably for the Midnapore Zamindari Company.

(b), (c), (d) and (e) Government have no information in this matter."

The case of Kali Nath Maitra of the Hazidanga Indigo Factory.

(a) Is it a fact that a complaint was lodged by several raiyats against one Kali Nath Maitra, an officer of the Hazidanga Indigo Factory, and others, on a charge of wrongful confinement, and that two associates of the said Kali Nath Maitra were sent up by the police for trial under sections 341 and 376 of the Indian Penal Code, but were acquitted by the Sadar Sub-divisional Officer of Murshidabad?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of sending for the records of the said case and consulting the Legal Remembrancer as to the advisability of preferring an appeal against the said order of acquittal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DUVAL :—

"(a) Yes.
(b) No."

5.

(a) Are the Government aware that a petition has recently been submitted to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, on behalf of the tenants, under-tenants and labourers of certain villages in the district of Murshidabad owned by the Midnapore Zamindari Company, calling attention to certain grievances and making serious allegations against the said company, and inviting an inquiry thereinto?

(b) If so, what steps have been taken, or are proposed to be taken, in the matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) and (b) Government have ascertained from the Commissioner that such a petition was received and that it was sent to the Collector of Murshidabad for report. They have no further information "

6.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) the qualifications of candidates which are taken specially into consideration when making selections for appointments to the Provincial Judicial Service; and (ii) whether holders of a first class degree of B.L. are usually given preference over others in such selections?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of appointments made during each of the last three years, showing—

(i) how many of them were first class B.L.'s; and (ii) how many first class B.L.'s were not given any appointment in each year?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DUVAL :—

" (a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Statutory rules published in notification No. 1784 A. of the 10th March, 1894.

(b) The number of appointments was six in each of the three years 1916—18. The number of first class B L.'s appointed was one and four in the years 1917 and 1918 respectively. No first class B.L was appointed in 1916."

7.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) what progress has been made in regard to the preparation of the Grand Trunk Canal scheme;

(b) what alterations, if any, has it undergone; and

(c) when it is expected to be taken in hand?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) The revised project has been accepted by Government; the estimates will have to be modified in some respects owing to altered conditions.

(b) There have been no alterations in the scheme as designed.

(c) The project will require the sanction of the Secretary of State; it will, it is hoped, be submitted to the Government of India within the current financial year."

8.

Will the Government be pleased to state when it is expected to co-ordinate the two text-book committees in the eastern and western districts of Bengal?

Co-ordination of text-book committees in Eastern and Western Bengal.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" The question of co-ordinating the text-book committees in the eastern and western districts of Bengal will be taken up when a uniform curriculum for the whole Presidency has been completed. It is at present impossible to say when a uniform curriculum will be ready."

By the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the following particulars regarding the mills with septic tank latrine installations in the Presidency of Bengal:—

(b) the name of the nearest railway station, and its distance from the mill;

(e) The information is not available.

(k) Inspections are held at monthly intervals and sometimes oftener.

(l) The most common defects are that turn-stiles get out of order, automatic and pedal flushes require repairs, filter beds become choked and the effluent is not chlorinated to the extent required.

Graded system of pay of the Provincial Civil Service.

(a) Are the Government aware that the payment of salaries under a graded system is regarded as a grievance by the members of the Provincial Civil Service, and that this system has been a cause of great discontent among the officers of this class?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of removing this grievance by introducing the time-scale system in the place of the present graded system as is recommended by the Public Services Commission of 1912?

(c) If the answer to clause (b) is in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to state the approximate date on and from which they intend to give effect to this recommendation of the Public Services Commission?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b)—The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Resolution on this subject, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th November, 1918.

(c) The decision on the recommendations of the Public Services Commission does not rest with the Local Government, and while it is hoped that orders will not be much longer delayed it is impossible to give an approximate date as suggested."

Transfer of a section of certain classes of the Dacca Collegiate School to the Dacca Normal School premises.

(a) Are the Government aware that the Director of Public Instruction has ordered the transfer of one section of each of the classes VI, V and IV of the Dacca Collegiate School to the Dacca Normal School premises in order that these classes may serve the purpose of a practising school to that institution, whose practising school was raised to the status of a High School in 1909 under the name of the Armanitola High School, and that the order is to come into effect on the 2nd January, 1919?

(b) Is it a fact that Guardians' Association, Dacca, made a representation protesting against this step?

(b) Are the Government aware that the fact that this institution is a practising school militates against its popularity?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The Headmaster at present draws Rs. 525. Nearly all the teachers are trained (B.T.'s and L T 's).

(b) No representation has been made on the subject, but it is believed that there is a certain prejudice against practising schools as such "

Want of Government middle English school at Dacca.

Is it a fact that since the conversion of the Normal School practising institution into a high school for the practising purposes of the Training College started in 1910, there has not been a single middle English school, though there are nine high schools, and that there is a real need for at least one Government middle English school in the town of Dacca?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"It is not a fact that there has not been a single middle English school in Dacca during the period referred to. Government are not convinced of the need for the establishment of a Government middle English school in view of the fact that the middle English course is covered by classes in numerous primary and high schools."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta:—

Revivification of the Dacca middle English school.

(a) Is it a fact that the accommodation necessary for a complete middle English practising school in the town of Dacca is available in the Normal School premises, and the only recurring expenditure required is the pay of a staff of six or seven teachers amounting to about Rs. 250 a month?

(b) Is it not a fact that this sum will be nearly met by fee receipts?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why, instead of reviving its middle English practising school, it has decided to transfer some classes of the Dacca Collegiate School to the Normal School premises for the practising purposes of the latter institution?

(d) Are the Government considering the advisability of reviving the middle English school of the Dacca Normal School?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) This is the case, but classes I—III of the Dacca Collegiate School have been accommodated in the Normal School premises for years past and there is not sufficient accommodation there for these classes as well as for a complete middle English practising school. The staff of a middle English school would not cost more than Rs. 250 per month.

(b) Yes, if all the classes were full.

(c) The necessity of having a complete practising school has long been felt. As classes I—III of the Collegiate School were already located in the Normal School and were already used for this purpose, the need was met by adding to them one section each of classes IV—VI of the Collegiate School.

(d) If by this is meant the starting of a complete and separate middle English school, the answer is in the negative. The arrangement under which classes I—III and a section each of classes IV—VI will be located in the Normal School premises will practically amount to constituting a complete middle English school for practising purposes."

Cotton Cloth.

MARKED FALL IN PRICE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Bombay, November 11th.

THE Controller of Cotton Cloth has issued a press communiqué, which says: Since the proliminary conference regarding the control of cotton cloth, held at Bombay on September 18th and 19th, at which it was recommended that the manufacture of standard cloth should commence immediately, there has been a marked fall in the price of cloth throughout the country. This has been due to a variety of causes, such as prospects of peace, fall in the price of raw cotton, and the diminished purchasing power of the people owing to the influenza epidemic and unfavourable agricultural conditions in various parts of the country. A scheme for the manufacture of standard cloth has now been fully worked out, and it can, when necessary, be brought into immediate operation. The Controller and the Advisory Committee will continue to keep a close watch on the situation, especially on the extent to which the fall in prices is reaching mufassal consumers, in order that the manufacture of standard cloth may commence immediately. The situation appears to render such a course desirable.

What steps, if any, have the Government taken in recent years for the extension of cinchona cultivation in the Presidency? Cinchona cultivation in Bengal.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" The only district within the Presidency that possesses the requisite conditions for cinchona cultivation is Darjeeling. Within it the only localities available, forming the two plantations of Munsong and Mungpoo, are being planted as speedily and as extensively as possible. On the Munsong plantation, the larger of the two, the net increase in acreage under cinchona since 1910 up to the end of the present year has been over 1,700 acres, or nearly an average of 200 acres per annum. Only about 500 acres more of plantable land are available, all of which will be planted within the next two years. The Mungpoo plantation will have increased from a net acreage of 370 in 1910 to about 700 at the end of the present financial year. Only about 300 acres more of plantable land are available, which will be planted during 1919-20.

If both plantations are taken together, the area under cinchona will have risen from 1,018 acres in 1910 to over 3,000 acres by the end of this year."

(a) What is the gross income per acre of the forest area of the Presidency? Income of forest area and improvement of forest revenue in Bengal.

(b) What has been done to improve the forest revenue in recent years?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. MCALPIN :—

" (a) The gross income per acre of the forest area of the Presidency amounted to three and a half annas in 1917-1918. Ten years ago the similar average per acre was under two annas. There are however great variations: certain protected forests average less than one anna per acre, whereas some sal forests average two and a half rupees per acre.

(b) To improve the forest revenue the following measures have been adopted :—

(i) Competitive rates have been adopted for the sale of valuable trees like sal and sundari.

(ii) Illicit dealings have been checked by the adoption of stricter methods of control and better organisation for the collection of revenue.

(iii) The periods of rotation in certain working plans have recently been shortened.

(iv) Facilities have been given to certain private mercantile firms to develop certain forest products hitherto untouched.

(v) A departmental saw-mill has been established in one forest division."

" (a) The Dacca Law College and the Dacca School of Engineering are also under the administrative control of the Principal of the Dacca College.

(b) He is an experienced officer of the Education Department."

Charge of the Dacca College and the Dacca School of Engineering.

(a) Is it a fact that, during the temporary absence of the Principal of the Dacca College, a Professor of the Dacca College is in charge not only of the said College, but also of the School of Engineering?

(b) If so, on what principle is he so placed in charge?

(c) Is it a fact that at times this arrangement has led to friction?

(d) Is it also a fact that on one occasion, owing to such friction, the Director of Public Instruction proposed that the Headmaster of the School of Engineering should be placed in charge of the Dacca College during the absence of the Principal? Was there any objection made to the suggestion on behalf of the Dacca College; and, if so, on what grounds?

(e) Is it a fact that this arrangement by which a person wholly unfamiliar with the work of a technical institution is placed in charge over it retards the legitimate development of the institution?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) In November 1916 it was decided that during a vacation the senior officer available should be in charge of the current duties of the three institutions. Should the Principal be temporarily absent during term time, the arrangements to be made would be determined by the circumstances obtaining at the time.

Questions and Answers.

(c) and (d) There was slight friction in the year 1916 and the decision mentioned in the reply to clause (a) of the question was then come to. No objection was made on behalf of the Dacca College.

(e) Government have no reason to believe that this has been the case at Dacca."

(ii) the Principal of the Dacca College; and

(iii) the present incumbent in the Indian Educational Service who would be in charge during the absence of the Principal?

Qualifications, etc., of certain educational officers of Dacca

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (i) The present headmaster studied at the Royal Technical College, Glasgow, and is an associate member of the Institution of Civil Engineers and the Institute of Electrical Engineering with eleven years' practical experience of engineering. He entered Government service in 1910 and is a member of the Indian Educational Service. His present pay is Rs. 900.

42.

(a) What are the interests in common between the Dacca College and the Dacca School of Engineering? Are there any common accounts between them?

(b) What, if any, are the administrative advantages in keeping the two institutions together under the control of the same officer?

Accounts, etc., of the Dacca College and the Dacca School of Engineering.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) As explained in the reply given to question No. LXXVIII asked by the Hon'ble Member at the meeting of the Council held on the 7th August, 1917, the Engineering School is regarded as an institution attached to the Dacca College, as the two institutions are in the same compound. The same playground is also used by both institutions. They do not have common accounts.

(b) Unity of control has advantages as regards discipline, and the present arrangement has also been found of advantage when the school has been in charge of a temporary officer or an officer without previous experience of India."

Heavy duties of the Principal of the Dacca College.

Is it a fact that the Dacca College is a heavy charge for the Principal, and that a proper discharge of his duties with reference to that College would not leave him time enough to devote adequate attention to the interests of a totally distinct institution like the Dacca School of Engineering?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" The Dacca College is a heavy charge for the Principal, but he is only required to exercise a general supervision over the school. The question of separating the two charges is now under consideration."

(b) If so, what is the result of such inquiry?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the report of the Committee which held the inquiry and to the communiqué issued by Government on the 14th October last. Copies of these papers are laid on the Library table."

(b) If so, what steps do the Government propose to take in the matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) and (b) The position has shown a great improvement during the last two months, and the difficulties previously experienced have largely disappeared. Increased supplies of small coin have been issued, and silver is freely issued in the districts for exchange and other purposes Notes are also circulating more easily. There seems to be no need of further action of a general character."

Appointment of a Proctor at Dacca.

(b) Is it a fact that the students of the Dacca College have been removed from the charge of the Proctor? If so, since when, and for what reasons?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of transferring the charge of the students of other institutions also to the respective authorities thereof?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY:—

"(a) In 1910 an officer of the Education Department was deputed by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, at the instance of the heads of educational institutions in Dacca, to inquire into the conditions of residence of students in that town. The conditions were found to be deplorable, owing to want of organization, supervision and inspection. A scheme of reform was accordingly introduced under which an officer was appointed to perform the duties mentioned in the reply to question No LXX at the meeting of the Council held on 7th August, 1917. The average annual expenditure on account of the Proctor's office since its creation has been Rs. 4,341.

(b) The Muhammadan and higher caste Hindu students of the Dacca College who were living in hostels outside the College have been removed to the Old Secretariat Building and placed under the College authorities with effect from the 1st November, 1917. The reason for this was that there was accommodation available in the Old Secretariat Building at Ramna and it was considered desirable that the College students should be in healthier surroundings near the College, the gymnasium and playing-fields.

THE BENGAL JUVENILE SMOKING BILL, 1918.

* Not printed in these proceedings.

The Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1918.

Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy; Sir D. P. Sarbadhikari.

He said: "My lord, there isonly one point arising out of the Report which requires some explanation. The definition of the word 'police officer' in clause 2 of the Bill runs as follows:

'Police officer' means a member of an established police force and includes a constable.

When the Bill was referred to the Select Committee the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan indicated the points which would be placed before the Committee on behalf of Government. He said:—

'The power to seize ..... should be expressly confined to police officers (including constables) in uniform.' We have accordingly confined the power under clause 4 to a police officer in uniform. The addition of these words is undoubtedly an improvement as it minimises opportunities for false personation. However, in a note of dissent appended to the report of the Select Committee it is suggested that the words 'above the rank of head-constable' be substituted for the words 'and includes a constable.'

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moves an amendment to give effect to the suggestion contained in the note of dissent, and I leave it to him to advance the arguments in favour of the amendment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5.

The Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that in sub-clause (b) of clause 2 of the Bill for the words "and includes a constable" the words "above the rank of a head-constable" be substituted.

He said: "I must in the first instance sincerely thank Your Excellency for kindly allowing this amendment to be moved. While we were trying to combat the comparatively harmless results of smoking, those at all events who had recorded their dissent to the provision in question must have been under a stronger narcotic influence. Under some apprehension or other, we had omitted to send in notice of the amendment about which we were so keen. But for Your Excellency kindly admitting this amendment we could not have had the opportunity of stating before the Council our objection to what has been referred to by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. It shows the elasticity of our rules and demonstrates how under given circumstances, the President can and does help members in their difficulties. Therefore, I am extremely grateful to Your Excellency for allowing this amendment to be moved. I do not propose to do much more than what I have tried to bring out in my note of dissent. My lord, when the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan—whom we are glad to have once more in our midst and in better health—stated, on behalf of Government, certain points of view in Council which were urged by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley on behalf of the Government in the Select Committee, we all felt, every one of us, that in regard to a matter like this, all the points of view of Government, that could possibly be agreed to, should be agreed to. It is an experimental measure which, under normal circumstances, would be attended with great difficulty in working, and we ought to have all the assistance and co-operation of the Government that we could possibly have. From that point of view we agreed to accept almost all that the Government urged in Select Committee, as stated by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan. But as regards one matter—the power given to police officers including constables in the Bill—appeared to us to be the weakest point in the situation. I am aware that the difficulty of a suitable agency to work a measure like this is great in any country, and greater than ever here. The Government has wisely reserved to themselves power to select agents, and I am sure that, in consultation with those interested, it will be possible to have gentlemen like teachers of schools, members of municipal bodies, missionaries, members of societies, like the Anti-Smoking Society, of which I have the honour to be the President, and similar organisations that Government may see fit to depute, a small, but good beginning may be made. Government, however, thought fit that police officers down to the lowest grade should also be associated. There are many of us who think that it is not desirable to associate police officers at all in working a measure like this, at least in the first instance. However, Government was very strong on this point and some of us have accepted a compromise which my amendment represents. But when Government wants to go as far down as the constables it is a position that we cannot accept. I do not see my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur here to-day, or Your Excellency would have had another lurid picture of what a street constable would do where a carter or coachman is concerned. But I would not like the constables to have anything to do with our boys. Sometimes it might lead to friction and oppression and the very objects which we have in view will be thwarted. From that point of view, my lord, I urge that the amendment that I have to offer should be accepted. Of course, we all know that in other countries the police have these powers, but we have not had the same state of things here, as I have had occasion to point out in connection with another matter. If we had the London police here, I would give them all the powers in this connection. Recently, there has been a great deal of improvement in the police force, and it would be wrong and ungracious not to acknowledge that, but when we think of deputing constables and head-constables to search boys in the street, I am afraid we shall be further weakening a position that is already weak. I am aware that in asking for this concession, I am really reducing the number of agencies that would be available for a large measure like this, and that by limiting the power to officers above the rank of head-constables, we are reducing the number. Of course, if we go to an ideal place like Darjeeling, people with plenty of time at their disposal like the Chief Secretary would probably be available for searching and confiscating cigarettes that may be useful for Secretariat consumption ; but Darjeeling is not Calcutta, and Calcutta is not Darjeeling, and that system will not work here. We have to be content with police officers down to the grade of sub-inspectors, and such other agency as Your Excellency may depute. I am aware that the number of persons who are available for working this measure would be reduced if my amendment were accepted. Even at that risk I urge that the friction and oppression that we are all apprehensive of, and of which public opinion has spoken so strongly, ought not to be allowed to come in and mar the usefulness of a measure which ought to be great."

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"My lord, this Bill is the first of its kind to be introduced in this part of the country. There cannot be any doubt that there is a very strong opinion against the employment of police constables as provided in the Bill. The police is a powerful agency in the administration of justice and also in checking crime, but if I do properly represent the views of the mufassal people, I can say very strongly that the object of the Bill will be defeated if the police do interfere. The correction of boys should not be in the hands of police officers. There should be proper guarding in this matter, and the procedure to be adopted should be carefully considered. On the one hand, there is the opinion of the people that the police should not be employed for such purpose, on the other hand, it is necessary that some agency is to be introduced for the purpose of checking the offence. I think under the circumstances the amendment speaks for itself, and shows that such police officers should be employed who will be in a position to sympathise with the object of the Bill, and therefore I do heartily support the amendment which is put forward.

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I sympathise with the views of the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. I have not more faith in the constables than he has, I believe, but at the same time I feel that you cannot in enacting a statute agree with Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari in suggesting that you should make a beginning with the sub-inspector as a checking agency to take notice of a breach of the Juvenile Smoking Act. There is considerable difficulty in that ; if you exclude the constables and head-constables you reduce the number of agencies, and you will find breaches of the Act without any notice being taken of them. That will certainly be the result if you employ only sub-inspectors of police to take cognizance of these offences, and the Act will be a 'dead letter. But the objection raised by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari—and he has a large volume of opinion behind him—might be met by allowing the Bill with the proposed definition of the word 'police constable' to be passed, and a departmental order being issued after the passing of the Act, directing constables and head-constables not to take cognizance of offences under the Act at present and for some time. If you find hereafter that it is difficult to work the Act with the agency of police sub-inspectors only, you may thereafter increase the agency by allowing selected constables and head-constables to take cognizance of offences under the Act. I think that would be a wiser course than the one proposed by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari."

The Hon'ble Mr. W. H. Arden-Wood said :—

"My lord, although I believe this Bill seeks to combat a real evil, my difficulty about it has been that it seems to me to be so much in advance of public opinion on the subject, and, that being so, I think it would be wiser, if it be passed, in giving practical application to it not to press it too hard at first. For this reason I am in favour of the amendment which has been proposed by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and I desire to support it."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My lord, on behalf of Government I have to say that we have no objection to the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, and we will accept it, provided it meets with the approval of the Member in charge of the Bill. I would like to take this opportunity to say that Government proposes to preserve an attitude of neutrality when the motion for the passing of the Bill comes up, as they did on the motion for its reference to Select Committee. The Select Committee have met the points I mentioned on behalf of Government and I have now much pleasure in saying that we shall be willing to accept the amendment by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, whom I also thank for his kind reference to me, and I can assure him that I am very glad to be back here again and to be on my legs again."

RESOLUTIONS

(Under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest).

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken without delay to establish a Subordinate Judge's Court at Asansol in the district of Burdwan.

He said: "My lord, I know that by moving this resolution I run a great risk of unpopularity with a large section of my friends and fellow-citizens in Burdwan. After I had come up with this resolution I found that public opinion in the Asansol sub-division and the interests of the people, residing therein or having property in that sub-division, demand that a subordinate judge's court be established at Asansol, and it is in justice to the people who have to resort to the court for settlement of their rights that a subordinate judge's court should be established in that important mining sub-division of Burdwan. The only question we have to consider is the interest of the people of that sub-division and also whether the location of a subordinate judge's court would entail any extra expenditure on the provincial revenues. There are two subordinate judges now sitting at Burdwan, and one of them deals with cases which come up from Asansol, original cases as well as appeals. I understand, my lord, that a memorial has been submitted to Your Excellency's Government by the people of Asansol, praying for the establishment of a court, but I am also told that after an enquiry it has been found that the work of the subordinate judge, if stationed at Asansol, will not be sufficient to keep a wholetime officer, because the subordinate judge at Burdwan, besides doing the work of the Asansol court, has also to hear appeals from other courts in the district, and that the people from other parts of the district will be inconvenienced if they have to come to Asansol for their appeals, and even for one or two original suits. In this connection, I have to submit, my lord, that in the Asansol sub-division there is stationed one munsiff and sometimes an additional munsiff when there is an accumulation of work; but these munsiffs have power only to deal with cases up to the value of Rs. 1,000, and if there is any suit beyond Rs. 1,000 it is decided by the first munsiff at Burdwan, who is empowered to try cases above Rs. 1,000 and below Rs. 2,000. If the subordinate judge's court is established at Asansol, the subordinate judge will not only hear original suits and appeals, but also those money suits and other suits which are now heard by the first munsiff at Burdwan, and, if after this it be found that there is not sufficient work for a subordinate judge—which I believe will be found sufficient and his hands kept full—indeed I am afraid some additional hands will be required at Asansol—even if that be the case, the court may be abolished. I beg to submit for Your Excellency's consideration that some time back there was a munsiff's court at Budh-Budh in the vicinity of Asansol; for the sake of convenience that court has now been removed to Burdwan town and if it is found that the subordinate judge at Asansol has not sufficient work, that court at Burdwan may be transferred to Asansol and that will give him sufficient work. I have been told that the importance and dignity of the town of Burdwan will be greatly diminished if one of the subordinate judges is transferred from the headquarters town to the sub-divisional town. I submit, my lord, that there is very little of importance and dignity left for the town of Burdwan now. It has been also remarked that the bar of Burdwan will be weakened; I submit, my lord, that the courts of justice are established and maintained not in the interests of the members of the bar, but in the interests of the litigant public, and for those who have to resort to courts for justice, and for the settlement of rights. It is evident that the people of the Asansol sub-division who are the people whose interests alone should be considered do demand and desire that a subordinate court should be established in their sub-division, and precedence in this case, my lord, is in my favour. A sub-judge's court has been established at Howrah, and I believe that it is also proposed to establish a sub-judge's court in the headquarters town of Malda and the same argument was raised by the members of the bar at Hooghly and no doubt will be raised in Rampur Boalia. I think that in this matter the interests of the litigant public should have preferential consideration at the hands of the Government and not that of the members of the bar. With reference to this question, my lord, we are very fortunate in the fact that in Asansol both the Indian public and the European residents representing the mining industry are united in their demand and request that a subordinate judge's court should be established there, and I hope and trust that Your Excellency's Government will not only accept this resolution but will try to give effect to it. With these words, I commend this resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I should like to know what the Government have before them in the shape of facts, that it is the desire of the people of the Asansol sub-division in this matter; whether they feel it inconvenient to come to Burdwan to have their cases adjudicated at Burdwan or prefer a court to be located at Asansol, because these things are done for the convenience of the suitors, and if it is a fact that a very large number of people feel inconvenience in having to come to Burdwan, then certainly something should be done to meet their views. But we have not all the facts before us, neither do we know what the views of the High Court are in this matter, or whether they have considered the matter at all, and it would not be proper for me to express an opinion as to the dismemberment or otherwise of the Burdwan court. No doubt if the suitors feel it a grievance to have to go to Burdwan, I think their views should be met, and if they are a large body and sufficient to maintain a court by putting business before it. then by all means have a subordinate judge's court established at Asansol. You have precedents in this matter ; the people of Bihar wanted to have a High Court at Patna, and the Calcutta High Court was dismembered some time ago ; there are also the instances of Howrah and Khulna. Khulna has now got a district judge too and the neighbouring court of Dhanbaid in Bihar has also got a subordinate judge's court. The whole thing depends upon the fact as to whether the people there want a court to be located there, and whether there would be sufficient business for that court. On that point, placed as I am, I cannot express an opinion."

Resolutions.

Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur ; Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur said :—

"I venture to say a few words in connection with this resolution. The transfer of civil courts to Asansol is desirable if the facts justify it. In Burdwan there are now two subordinate judges for the trial of original suits. If the opinion of the local authorities as well as the learned judge who presides at Burdwan be that there is not sufficient work for a subordinate judge at Asansol, then I would suggest that there should be no interference with the present state of things.

My lord, in locating a subordinate judge at Asansol, there are advantages and disadvantages too. In trying original suits, the subordinate judge will have to spend a good portion of his time at Asansol, and the question, therefore, is, will the suitors be conveniened or inconvenienced. There is the argument which is always put before the authorities that if an appeal be preferred against the decision of the judge who decides the original suit, the appeal should be heard in Burdwan, so the suitors will have to run up to Burdwan for the purpose of having their suit decided ; so that this argument was considered by the public, so that the whole question depends not only upon the convenience of the suitors themselves, but upon the convenience of the judge who is to be located there. If he has to run up and down between Burdwan and Asansol, then what is the necessity of having a subordinate judge at Asansol. That is the question which demands the consideration of the Hon'ble Members. But if the sub-division be a rich one, and if the number of cases be large, especially the colliery cases, then certainly it is desirable in the interests of the suitors that a subordinate judge should be located at Asansol. Therefore, my lord, in connection with this question a proper enquiry ought to be made by the High Court or by Government. This is a question of facts, and we, the Members of Council, are not in a position to know what are the real facts on which the Hon'ble Member has based his resolution. I do not wish to say anything further in this connection, but my personal feeling is that it should depend upon the facts which are placed before the Council."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"My lord, I had no intention of saying anything on this resolution, but as some reference has been made to the bar at Malda, I think it my duty to say that this is not a question for pleaders to decide or pass their judgment on. It is really a question between the Government and the people; if the people of Raniganj sub-division think that they should have a subordinate judge there, if only with the power of an assistant sessions judge, that can be done; and if it proves to be a convenience for the Asansol public and the Government have no objection. I do not know what objections the Burdwan pleaders can have to such an arrangement. As for myself, I know that a proposal has been made to locate a subordinate judge's court at Malda, but I am not aware that the members of the Rajshahi bar have raised any objection to it. It may be inconvenient to some of the pleaders, but pleaders who have some influence over the people of Malda may choose to go and settle there, and there cannot be any objection to it. At Malda there is a munsiff with power to try cases up to the value of Rs 2,000 and if he is removed and a subordinate judge is posted there with the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge, then the work of the District Judge will be relieved to a great extent, and it will also prove to be a great convenience to the people of Malda. I suggested to my Malda friends to supply me with facts and figures if they thought necessary."

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My lord, may I rise to a point of order? We are not discussing the question of the appointment of a sub-judge at Malda."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"I beg your pardon. Really, it is not a question for the pleaders to decide, and so far as I know they can have no objection. If the Government decide this could be done, it should be done."

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said :—

"My lord, I do not propose to follow the frame of mind of the hon'ble mover of the resolution, but he is quite correct in saying that there is no unanimity among the public of Burdwan regarding this movement, because I have a telegram in front of me from the Chairman of the District Association and also another from the President of the People's Association strongly opposing the proposal of the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem But I can assure him on behalf of the Government that it is quite refreshing to find one Burdwanite at least taking so much interest in the Asansol sub-division. The question of the memorial has been engaging the attention of the Government and in October last we referred the matter to the High Court and the Court has replied that it will go into the matter and let us know the views of the Hon'ble Judges, and that is how the matter stands now, and I, therefore, think that the Hon'ble mover cannot expect Government either to accept the resolution at the present moment or to give an expression of its opinion. All I can assure the Hon'ble Member is that the proposal will receive the full and careful consideration of the Government on receipt of the views of the High Court."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem said :—

"My lord after the statement made by the Hon'ble Member in charge, I beg Your Excellency's permission to withdraw the resolution as I am assured that it will receive careful and favourable consideration at the hands of the Government. With reference to the remarks of the Hon'ble Rai

Resolutions.

Babu S. N. Ray.

Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, I can only say that nobody ever suggested that a subordinate judge should travel from Asansol to Burdwan. The proposal is to establish a permanent subordinate judge at Asansol. I certainly agree with the Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghose Bahadur that the opinions of the suitors and litigants and the public of Asansol should be properly considered. I am at one with him that the question to be decided on is the consideration of their convenience only."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the circular letter of the Director of Public Instruction to the Inspectors of Schools, Nos. 2253-2259G, dated the 25th April, 1918, relating to the uniformity of standards, be withdrawn.

He said : "Under the University Regulations the higher class English schools have to be recognised by the University before they are allowed to send up students for the matriculation examination. And for this reason these schools are inspected by Inspectors of Schools—the services of these Inspectors being utilised by the Calcutta University authorities. So far as we are aware, the Inspectors of Schools are supposed to act simply as post offices so far as the University is concerned.

I shall quote portions of the Regulations of the Calcutta University so far as the subject of recognition is concerned, as well as the instructions given by the Director of Public Instruction to the Inspectors of Schools, with reference to these regulations. From the University Regulations we find that the University wants information among others as to (a) whether the school is under the management of a regularly constituted committee ; (b) the qualifications, character and experience of the Head Master and the rest of the teaching staff ; (c) whether the buildings in which the school is situated and in which the instruction is carried on are adapted for the purposes of the school, and are in a proper sanitary condition ; (d) whether in the case of pupils who do not reside with their parents or guardians, provision is made for their residence; and (e) whether the remuneration of the teachers is on a reasonable scale etc.

In the circular, however, we find among other matters—

(1) 'That the managing committee should consist of not more than 10 members and be representative of various communities.

(2) That the number of teachers should be sufficient to allow each teacher one free period per day while the Head Master should not teach for more than 20, preferably 18, periods per week and that the Head Master should get Rs. 75 to Rs. 100 and the Assistant Head Master Rs. 65 to Rs. 80 ; that on no consideration should the pay of a teacher in the high English school fall below Rs. 20 per month.

(3) That the buildings must have pucca plinths, be well lighted and ventilated—lighting and ventilation should proceed from the longer side of the room if possible ; boys should on no account sit facing the light ; desks must be provided in all classes at 1 foot 8 inches per boy ; accommodation should be provided at the minimum rate of 10 square feet per boy in every class-room ; there should be one latrine and one mehtar for every 100 boys.

Resolutions.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

(4) That the hostels and messes should provide accommodation at the minimum rate of 60 square feet per boy, that they must be well ventilated and lighted, and have a resident superintendent in each.

(5) That where the fee income is inadequate to maintain an efficient scale of establishment, subscriptions must be definitely guaranteed : an endowment or reserve fund of at least Rs. 5,000 is desirable.'

There is nothing to show that this circular has the approval of the University. I am told what is embodied in the circular is all under the consideration of the Syndicate of the Calcutta University. How did the Director of Public Instruction anticipate the decision of the University and take the initiative on his own account? In answer to a question asked in your lordship's Council on the 3rd September last by my hon'ble friend Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray, as to whether the University was consulted before these instructions were issued, and if not, under what authority they were issued, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley replied that the University was not consulted and that these instructions had been issued by the Director of Public Instruction as it was found necessary to insist that the reports of Inspectors should contain all the information required by the University Regulations and also to secure some uniformity of standards.

We are not aware whether the Director of Public Instruction has authority to issue these instructions. He or the Inspectors of Schools are simply to report as to the state of the school in which they find them. They cannot insist upon the school authorities in carrying out these instructions, for in doing so they would be acting ultra vires. The University Regulations are clear on the point. The University simply wants a statement from the school authorities as regards the constitution of the committee of management, the teaching staff, the accommodation, the income and the expenditure of the school. The University not having authorised the Director of Public Instruction to issue such a circular, the circular cannot be enforced. I do not want to say much about the merits of the circular but the authority of the Director of Public Instruction with reference to the power of recommending schools to the University for affiliation being only a derivative authority from that body and that body not having vested the Director of Public Instruction with any such power, the issuing of such a circular is irregular, and, as I have said, ultra vires. I, therefore, ask my hon'ble friend the Director of Public Instruction to pass orders to withdraw the circular or, if it is considered necessary, to get the necessary sanction of the University for its enforcement."

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar said :—

"My lord, I feel that I am not justified in giving a silent vote in this connection. It appears that the Education Department by this circular is insisting upon the minimum of requirements from schools seeking affiliation, and the notification will have the effect of compulsion without exception. Now as regards the principles and ideals involved in the several items entered in the notification, there is not much difference of opinion between any persons connected with education. I know as a matter of fact that there is very little difference of opinion between the University authorities and the departmental authorities in this connection, but it is as regards the details where differences arose in the past, and differences still exist and differences are likely to arise in the future. Permit me to draw the attention of this House to one detail only, that in No. 3, about the rooms. Now it is laid down here that lighting and ventilation should proceed from the long side of the room, if possible, and that boys should, on no account, sit facing the light. I may be permitted to point out that in this house there are at least seven or eight members who are sitting with their faces towards the light, and His Excellency himself is sitting with his face to the light. Is it always possible to conform to that rule in a school-house? Of course, it would be quite a different thing if the department had insisted upon minimising the possible evil effects of bad lighting as has been done in this room—that is another matter—and whenever an Inspector visited a school he could insist upon it, and he would not recommend a school in which some of the students had to sit facing the light. That is my objection, my lord. I am afraid that all the details entered there could not be conformed with in any and every school. No matter what the schools are, there may be difficulties, and the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction himself knows that he has to recommend very often for exceptions being made in the case of many schools. For instance, a school may be good in one way and defective in another detail. I know the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth would be the last person to reject an application like that, but what would be the result of this notification? It would be compulsion, pure and simple. The case will not reach the authorities and the Inspectors themselves will not have much liberty to exercise their judgment in this connection, and send up cases where there are exceptions. That is what I am afraid of, my lord. I would add another word before I resume my seat. The motto of the University is advancement of learning, and I understand by that motto advancement both extensive and intensive; therefore, the University has always sought to live up to this standard in the schools by giving them a little more time. In that there is no fundamental difference of opinion between the University and the authorities—that these schools may conform to the approved standard. But this notification will at once introduce a compulsory element and here there will be the option of either continuing the school under the conditions laid down in detail in a page of rules or to give up their effort of maintaining the school at all. I feel, therefore, that a little more time may be taken before introducing the element of compulsion in this matter.

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

In that I am against this notification, and I appeal to the Director of Public Instruction to wait a little to prepare the public a little further before taking this step, which means compulsion.

With these words, I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"My lord, I forget the name of the Irish Chief Justice who invariably got confused when he happened to listen to both sides of a case, but I am afraid that will be the case with the Council before I have done, for what I have to say is very different from what the Hon'ble mover has said. The arrangements for the recognition of schools in this province under the Calcutta University are rather complicated to work, but are very simple to understand. We have three classes of high schools: Government schools entirely under the control of the Education Department in all matters except those relating to recognition; aided schools where we purchase the right of influencing the standards and organisation; and aided schools where we have no standing at all except that by an arrangement of courtesy we do a great deal of work there on behalf of the University; but the control of schools, so far as recognition is concerned, i.e., so far as the privilege of preparing boys for University standards is concerned, is entirely a matter for the University, and what we do in this matter is by way of courteous assistance to the University. This courtesy is considerable: it is considerable in money; it is considerable in expenditure of time and effort, for there are, I think, something approaching 800 schools recognised by the University which require annual inspection; and there are new schools seeking recognition which we also inspect on behalf of the University. It is quite right that the regulations for recognition

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

are laid down in the regulations of the University, but these regulations are vague; they are general; we have heard some of them: that a school should be under the management of a properly constituted committee; that the qualifications of the staff are satisfactory; that their remuneration is satisfactory; that their buildings are suitable for the purpose of a school; and so on. These are not rules, they are merely general instructions which must be developed in practice, and the University having dealt with these matters for 10 years or more under the present regulations have now arrived at an approximation to a standard of efficiency which the Education Department on behalf of the University is assisting to secure. This work is considerable. The actual procedure is this: the University request the Director of Public Instruction to arrange for the annual inspection of these schools; the Director instructs Inspectors to report; these Inspectors report to the Director, who forwards their reports to the University with such comments and recommendations as he feels called upon to make. He is at the University's own wish the adviser of the University in these matters, and it is his duty to advise the University as he thinks proper. The annual handling of something like 800 reports is a very serious addition to his normal work; it is a very serious contribution to the heavy work of the University; and he has therefore arranged that these reports shall henceforth be drawn up in one standard form; and that the information which they give in full shall be arranged according to certain standards of criticism. This circular which has been drawn up by the Director is not an instruction to the schools; it is not an instruction to the University; because he has no power to issue instructions outside the department; it is an instruction from the head of a department to his own officers as to the form in which reports submitted to him on certain matters are to be drawn up. This correspondence is forwarded to the University with the Director's own comments. His comments may agree with the recommendations of the Inspectors; or they may disagree, and they frequently disagree, and the Council will readily understand that a recommendation which the Director makes for the improvement of a school, which will receive a continuation of recognition from January, might be quite different if he is writing in the month of November from what it would be if he were writing in the month of May. I think the Director of Public Instruction may be credited with a little reasonableness in matters of this sort. But the circular of instructions itself contains nothing that is contrary to the spirit or the letter of the University Regulations. The University Regulations say that accommodation shall be satisfactory; our Inspectors have been advised that satisfactory accommodation may be taken at 10 square feet per pupil. The University may accept that, or it may not. But there is no inconsistency between the two instructions. The whole control of recognition, and the whole question of accepting these recommendations or not, is one for the Syndicate, and not for the Education Department. I am afraid the Council has been entirely misled by the statement that these instructions are instructions given to the schools through officers who are entirely post offices. I protest against this description; our Inspectors of Schools do this work on behalf of the University; they do it readily and they do it well, and I believe their work for the University deserves greater appreciation than that word suggests. They are experienced officers, they have a great knowledge of educational practice and standards, and when they inspect schools, they perform a double function; they collect information to be transmitted to the University, and they also give a copy of their report to the school as a guide to the school itself. In this way they are doing what the hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarcar would like them to do: good work in educating public opinion and the views of school managers, and generally in helping on the improvement of standards. This circular remains as a purely departmental work, and its withdrawal would not alter the situation except that by adding considerably to the work of the Director

Resolutions.

Babu S. N. Ray; Mr. Wordsworth.

himself and the work of the Syndicate, for 800 reports drawn up in standard form are obviously much easier to deal with than 800 reports drawn up without any standardisation. But if the circular is withdrawn, the Director's position remains unimpaired. He is the University's adviser in this matter, and he advises according to the faith that is in him; if the circular is withdrawn the faith will still remain, and his advice would presumably be what it is now. I do not quite understand the purport of this resolution. I trust I have shown to the Council that it imposes no burden upon schools and no burden on the University. The University's position remains uninfluenced. If the Hon'ble Member has moved this resolution on behalf of the University, I would take the opportunity of pointing out that the University itself has made no objection, and that in these matters the University is very alert and has a wakeful eye for any delinquency on the part of the Director of Public Instruction. The University has accepted it in practice; I believe I am right in saying that it has helped to facilitate work. Nor has it been issued lightly. A sub-committee of the University Syndicate and of the Department of Public Instruction was appointed some time ago to consider some better arrangements for handling this question of the recognition of schools. That sub-committee has not yet finished its work and reported, but what has been embodied in the circular is almost entirely what that sub-committee has already agreed to accept as reasonable. The circular, as I have explained, has been issued as departmental instructions to Inspectors, not as prescriptive instructions to schools on behalf of the University, but I have every reason to hope that when the sub-committee has reported, these instructions will become the prescriptive instructions of the University and will be accepted in the main, even if not in toto, as the authoritative standards by which schools can obtain recognition by the University.

I have to submit to the Council that the circular performs a valuable function and should be allowed to remain in operation."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"My lord, we have just heard from the Director of Public Instruction that there is a sub-committee which is now considering this circular or at least what is embodied in the circular. That clearly shows that my friend has already anticipated the University by issuing this circular. How can you enforce a circular which has not received the sanction of the University? The function of the Director of Public Instruction is derivative. It is derived from the University, and unless the University come to a decision on the point the Director of Public Instruction is not in a position to enforce this circular."

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"May I rise to a point of order? I am afraid the Hon'ble Member misinterprets me; this circular is authoritative for Inspectors of the Education Department only. It is not authoritative for anyone else, and is not enforced on anyone else."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"But this circular is for the purpose of recognition by the University; the circular is used for the purpose of recognition by the University of these schools, and unless the Director of Public Instruction recommends, these schools cannot be affiliated to the University, and the schools cannot send their boys for the matriculation examination."

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth; Babu S. N. Ray; the President, Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"I rise to a point of order. I said the University may accept the recommendation of the Director or not; and it does not follow that if the Director does not recommend a school the school does not receive recognition."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

"I heard the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar distinctly state that unless these schools come up to the standard laid down in the circular they will never be able to come before the University for recognition. Is it a correct statement of facts ?"

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

"No, it is not a correct statement of facts."

The President said :—

"I think it would be better for the Hon'ble Member, if he considers that he has been misinterpreted by the Hon'ble Mover, to reserve his remarks. He will have an opportunity of replying when the Hon'ble Member who moved the motion has finished his speech."

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar said :—

"May I just give a personal explanation, my lord ?"

The President said :—

"The Hon'ble Member has permission to speak if it is only a personal explanation."

The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar said :—

"When I said that a school would not have a chance of laying its case before the University, I meant what was the ordinary practice. Under the regulations certainly the University has power to appoint other Inspectors than those who are in the Education Department, but they have never done so with regard to schools, and the inspecting work is entrusted to a body of men upon whom the University has got the highest confidence but, as a matter of fact, unless a school is recommended by the department it has no chance whatever of laying its case before the Syndicate for affiliation. I challenge to quote any case where the school has come up for recognition during the last five or six years without the recommendation of the department."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray said :—

I think, my lord, that clears the point and clears my position also. So unless there is a recommendation by the Inspectors of Schools, who are no doubt guided by the circular issued by the Director, there is no chance of these schools being affiliated to the University and sending up boys for the matriculation examination. My complaint is that this circular, or what is embodied in the circular, must receive the sanction of the University before you can enforce it. But why anticipate the decision of the Committee, appointed by the University ? That is all I have to say. My hon'ble friend has said that it is out of courtesy the Education Department helps the University—it is a courteous assistance. I fully admit it, but when the work is undertaken it must be done according to the instructions of the University, and not on anything which does not embody the instructions contained in the University rules and regulations."

Mr. Wordsworth.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth said :—

" My lord, I am afraid the matter has become rather complicated, and I have to inform the Council that I do not at all accept the hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar's explanation of the situation. It is in my opinion entirely wrong to say that the recognition of a school is entirely determined by the recommendations of the Director or his Inspectors. It would be very much easier for us, and I believe it would be very much better for education itself, and for the schools, if this were so. Every week we spend a large part of our time at Syndicate meetings discussing the merits of recommendations made by the Director of Public Instruction, and many schools do obtain recognition on terms against which the Director protests. I would therefore ask the Council to understand that the Director is in the position of an advisory officer to the University, whose advice may be accepted or not by the Syndicate, before which everything is put up—the reports of an Inspector containing not only the recommendations laid down in my circular, but also all Information about the school, and also the covering letter of the Director of Public Instruction—all these documents are taken into consideration by the Syndicate when determining whether a school shall be recognised or shall receive continuation of recognition. The standards that the Education Department upholds are, I believe, standards essential if our high school work is not to be allowed to sink into incompetence. I believe there is nothing unreasonable in the standards which I have laid down in the circular as directions to inspectors, but those standards are not standards for the instruction of the University. The University Syndicate can make and does make its own standards and accepts or rejects the recommendations of the Director of Public Instruction as it pleases, but I believe that if these standards were rejected by the University, it would be a great blow to the welfare of our school education."

The resolution was then put and lost.

Adjournment.

The Council was then adjourned to Tuesday, the 21st January, 1919, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

(d) the provision in connection with the requirements of the present war of plant or machinery which will not be required for the purposes of the business after the termination of the war, or

(e) any other special circumstances connected with the nature of the business, the provisions of this Act for the calculation of excess profits duty operate unfairly in his case, the Collector may make such modifications in the provisions of this Act for the purpose of calculating the amount of the duty as seem to him to be necessary to meet the special circumstances, provided that a reduction in the amount of duty payable under the provisions of the Act by more than twenty-five per cent. shall not be made without the previous sanction of the Commissioner.

Application to Chief Revenue-authority.

9. (1) If any person who has applied under section 8 is dissatisfied with the decision of the Collector thereon, he may appeal to the Chief Revenue-authority who shall either itself decide such appeal or, if it is of opinion that questions of general importance are involved, shall refer it to a Board of Referees to be appointed by the Local Government. The Board shall hear and consider any appeal so referred and shall communicate their decision to the Chief Revenue-authority.

Notice to be given that excess profits have been made.

10. Every person chargeable to excess profits duty under this Act shall give notice that he is so chargeable to the Collector before the 30th April 1919, and every liquidator of a company which is being wound up at the commencement of this Act, or is wound up after the commencement of this Act, and which is chargeable to excess profits duty, shall give notice of the fact to the Collector.

Returns for the purposes of the Act.

The Collector may, for the purposes of this Act, require any person whom he believes to be engaged in any business to which this Act applies, or to have been so engaged during the accounting period or in the year 1912 or in any year thereafter, to furnish him within one month after service upon him of a notice to that effect with such particulars in connection with the business as the Collector may require.

Penalty.

12. If a person fails, without reasonable cause or excuse, to furnish or cause to be furnished to the Collector in due time any notice required by section

Assessment.

14. Person liable to be assessed.

15. The provisions of sections 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, 29, and of Chapters IV and V and of sections 42, 45, 46, 47 and 49 to 52 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, shall apply, with such modifications, if any, as may be prescribed, as if those sections referred to excess profits duty instead of income-tax, and every officer or authority exercising powers under these provisions of the said Act may exercise the like powers under this Act in regard to excess profits duty as he or it exercises in regard to income-tax under the said Act:

Application of provisions of Indian Income-tax Act, 1918.

VII of 1918.

Provided that references in the said provisions to the assessee shall be construed as references to a person by whom excess profits duty is payable.

16. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, all information contained in any statement or return made or furnished under the provisions of the said Act, or obtained or collected for the purposes of that Act may be used for the purposes of this Act.

Prohibition of and penalty for fictitious transactions.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section an artificial transaction or operation includes every device of whatever nature adopted for the purposes of presenting the accounts of a business in a misleading form or manner with intent to evade or having the effect of evading the obligations imposed by this Act.

(2) If any person acts in contravention of, or fails to comply with, the provisions of sub-section (1), he shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

18. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

Power to make rules.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the procedure to be followed by Boards of Referees appointed under this Act;

(b) the adaptation to excess profits duty of any of the provisions of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, which are made applicable to that duty by section 15.

SCHEDULE I.

EXCEPTED BUSINESSES.

(See section 3.)

1. Agriculture.

2. Offices or employments.

3. Any profession the profits of which are dependent mainly on the personal qualifications of the person by whom the profession is carried on, and in which no capital expenditure is required or only capital expenditure of an amount small when compared with the profits which the person carrying on the profession makes:

Provided that the business of any person taking commissions in respect of any transactions or services rendered, or any agent of any description (not being a commercial traveller or an agent whose remuneration consists wholly of a fixed and definite sum not dependent on the amount of business done or any other contingency) shall not be included in this exception.

4. Any business which is liable to pay in respect of the accounting period excess profits duty in the United Kingdom.

5. Any business the profits of which in the accounting period did not exceed thirty thousand rupees.

SCHEDULE II.

ASCERTAINMENT OF CAPITAL.

(See section 6.)

1. The amount of the capital of a business shall so far as it does not consist of money, be taken to be—

(a) so far as it consists of assets acquired by purchase, the price at which these assets were acquired, subject to such deduction for depreciation or for unpaid purchase money as may be prescribed,

(b) so far as it consists of assets being debts due to the business, the nominal amount of those debts subject to any reduction which has been allowed or is allowable in respect of those debts under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1918, and

VII of 1918.

(c) so far as it consists of any other assets which have not been acquired by purchase, the value of the assets at the time when they became assets of the business, subject to such deduction for depreciation as may be prescribed:

Provided that nothing in this provision shall prevent accumulated profits (other than those made in the accounting period) employed in the business being treated as capital.

2. Any borrowed money or trade debts shall be deducted in computing the amount of capital for the purposes of this Act.

3. Where any asset has been paid for otherwise than in cash, the cost price of that asset shall be taken to be the value of the consideration at the time the asset was acquired, but where the business has been converted into a company, and more than two-thirds of the shares in the company are held by the person who was the owner of the business, no value shall be attached to those shares, so far as they are represented by good-will or otherwise than by material assets of the company, unless the Collector in special circumstances otherwise directs. Patents and secret processes shall be deemed to be material assets.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ON the 10th of September, 1918, a Resolution was adopted by the Indian Legislative Council declaring that the prolongation of the war justifies India's taking a larger share than she does at present of the cost of the military forces raised or to be raised in this country. It is the object of the present Bill to raise money, by the imposition of an excess profits duty, towards the cost of the measures proposed to give effect to this Resolution.

2. Although no guarantee can be given by the Government on the point, the change which has recently come over the military situation makes it possible that the sum to be raised by the duty will not be required for more than one year, and the duty is, therefore, imposed by the Bill only on the profits of a single year (clauses 2 and 4). The proposed duty will absorb fifty per cent of the excess of the profits made in an accounting period of twelve months over a certain standard called in the Bill the "standard profits" (clause 4). The accounting period consists of the twelve months ending on the 31st March, 1919, unless a different period of twelve months has been taken for the income-tax assessments of that year, when that period is taken; and the profits of the accounting period are those ascertained for income-tax purposes (clause 5). Standard profits are calculated on different bases when the business subject to the duty has been assessed to income-tax in the course of the four financial years, 1913-14, 1914-15, 1916-17, and 1917-18, and when it has not.

3. When a business has been assessed to income-tax in the four years, the standard profits will under the Bill be the average profits as assessed for income-tax purposes, with proportionate increases if the assessment in any of the years covered a period of less than twelve months. When it has not been assessed to income-tax in all the four years, the standard profits will be calculated at ten per cent on the capital of the business at the end of the accounting period (clause 6). With slight modifications, the provisions of the British Excess Profits Duty Acts are followed for the calculation of the capital of the business. (Schedule II).

4. The Bill provides for an adjustment, where capital has been increased or decreased during the accounting period, by deduction from or addition to the profits of that period of an amount equivalent to ten per cent per annum on the increase or decrease of capital (clause 7).

5. Businesses which have not earned in the accounting period more than thirty-thousand rupees will be exempt from the duty (Schedule I), and in no case will a larger sum be taken as the duty than will reduce the profits to thirty-thousand rupees (clause 4, proviso). Otherwise the duty will be imposed upon all businesses except agriculture, offices or employments, professions subject to the limitations in force in the United Kingdom, and businesses which are liable to pay in respect of the accounting period excess profits duty in the United Kingdom (Schedule I).

6. In general, the procedure for the recovery of the duty, for appeals against the Collector's assessments, and similar matters will be that in force under the Income-tax Act (clauses 13 and 15), but there are some special provisions. The Collector is given wide powers to modify assessments when on application to him it is shown that for special reasons the methods laid down for calculating the duty will operate unfairly (clause 8), and persons dissatisfied with his orders on such applications are permitted to appeal to the Chief Revenue-authority, who, if it thinks that the appeal involves questions of general importance, is required to refer it to a Board of Referees appointed by the Local Government, and consisting of three members, of whom at least one must be a non-official acquainted with businesses of the nature of that in respect of which the appeal is made (clause 9). The Collector is also authorised in addition to his powers under the Income-tax Act to call, under penalty for non-compliance, for such particulars in connection with the business as he may require (clauses 11 and 12), to permit payment in instalments (clause 13), and to use in his assessments to the duty information obtained for the purpose of income-tax assessments (clause 16). Persons chargeable to the duty are required under penalty to give the Collector notice of the fact (clauses 10 and 12), and they are forbidden, on pain of a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, to enter into fictitious or artificial transactions with the object of avoiding payment of the duty (clause 17).

Forecast of the winter till (sesamum) crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under* til in Bengal has represented about 4·8 per cent. of the total area under til *in British India.)

Sowings.—Unfavourable weather prevailed throughout the season. The rainfall at the outset was deficient in the western districts and the area was reduced in consequence. In the northern and eastern districts, especially in Rajshahi, Bogra and Tippera, owing to the late subsidence of flood-water the usual area under this crop could not be put down. Subsequently the crop suffered from drought. Prospects are therefore poor.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year is estimated at 49,400 acres against 52,700 acres last year. The decrease in area is, as stated above, due to unfavourable weather at sowing time.

Outturn.—According to estimates of District Officers the outturn of the crop for the Province as a whole works out at 62 per cent. of the normal against 74 per cent. last year. Taking the revised normal yield to be 6⅛ maunds per acre, the gross yield for the Province is estimated at 6,900 tons against 8,800 tons (now revised) last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 5·8 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 20·8 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present forecast deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. In the other two Divisions the cultivation is small. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is reported to be 1,296,800 acres this year against 1,328,200 and 1,333,500 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in September was in defect of the normal in the northern and western districts, but somewhat in excess in the eastern districts. There was, however, plenty of moisture for preparatory tillage which began at the usual time. In most districts sowings began at the usual time, but soil moisture was, on account of the drought in October, much below the normal. The present condition of the rabi crops, while generally fair in the Northern and Eastern Bengal districts, is reported to be poor in the remainder of the Presidency.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1918-19.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—In the first forecast of this crop the season was described as having been a favourable one on the whole up to the time of writing ; and the crop was expected in the absence of any untoward circumstances to approach the normal in yield.

The weather on the whole continued seasonable up to the middle of September in spite of heavy rainfall which caused floods in Eastern and Northern Bengal, damaging the deep-water paddy in the former and the transplanted paddy in the latter areas. The rainfall in the latter half of the month was, however, unsatisfactory, being scanty and badly distributed. The October rains, which are normally abundant and are the mainstay of the crop in Bengal, were practically a total failure the only districts receiving anything like an adequate supply being Jalpaiguri, Bakarganj, Noakhali and Chittagong. November contributed no rain of any account and the season which opened in a promising manner finished badly. The deep-water aman paddy where undamaged by floods has, as might be expected, suffered least ; but the crop is a poor one both on high land and on land transplanted late in the season.

Acreage.—According to the figures returned by the District Officers the total area under winter rice amounts to 15,962,100 acres as compared with 15,546,300 and 15,515,500 acres in the second and final forecasts, respectively, of last year. The increase over last year's estimates has been explained in the first forecast.

Outturn.—From the district returns it will be noted that Bakarganj alone shows a bumper crop, the percentage outturn being estimated at 120. A normal crop is estimated for two districts, viz., Chittagong and Noakhali, while the crop expectations vary from 80 to 95 per cent. in the case of seven districts and 60 to 77 per cent. in eight districts. For the remaining nine districts the estimated outturn ranges from 50 to 59 per cent., Murshidabad and Bogra showing the lowest figures.

On the basis of the above figures the provincial outturn works out at 77 per cent. of the normal against 98 per cent. and 100 per cent. of the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Taking 12½ maunds as the normal yield of clean grain per acre, the gross outturn of the province is estimated at 112,874,900 cwts. against 134,320,000 and 136,789,700 cwts. reported in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

APPENDIX I.

Second Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of 1918-19.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER WINTER RICE.		ESTIMATED OUTTURN AS A PERCENTAGE OF THE NORMAL YIELD PER UNIT OF AREA.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year. (1917-18).	This year. (1918-19).	Last year (1917-18).	This year (1918-19).
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	880,400	893,200	117	83	November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with the last year's forecast is due to more area having been brought under cultivation as a result of the reclamation of the Sundarbans. Some damage to the crop by drought is reported from the Basirhat subdivision. The weather conditions were not very favourable.
Nadia	136,800	123,800	125,600	83	58	First week of November. Normal (Not yet commenced in parts of the district.)	Increase in area is due to a portion of jute lands having been sown with aman paddy. Weather has not been favourable. Some damage has been done for want of rain.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	312,100	315,100	92	50	Not yet commenced.	The decrease in area as compared with the area sown in the first forecast is due to the crop on low lands, being under water owing to incessant rainfall and floods. Weather was favourable at the beginning, but it turned unfavourable owing to the absence of October rains.
Jessore... ...	568,100	463,000	453,400	96	75	Beginning of November. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with last year is due to excessive rainfall in the early part of the season, which submerged low lands. The outturn is anticipated to fall below the normal owing to insufficiency of rainfall during the period of growth.
Khulna ...	745,300	750,000	741,400	108	92	Beginning of November Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with that of the last year is due to untimely heavy rainfall. The weather during the growth was favourable, but a shower was needed in October and early in November. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Burdwan ...	874,800	716,000	709,000	108	75	Not yet commenced	The decrease in area as compared with the area in the first forecast and the preceding year is due to the fact that low lands were under water on account of incessant rainfall and floods. Weather has been favourable at the beginning of the season. Drought at the time of growth accounts for the outturn falling below the normal.
Birbhum ...	604,600	601,500	601,500	100	67	Ditto ...	Weather has been unfavourable. Drought caused considerable damage. Hence the low outturn.
Bankura ...	510,600	520,000	520,000	117	62	Not yet begun ...	The growth of the crop was retarded for want of sufficient rainfall. Drought in September and October also caused considerable damage. Hence the poor outturn.
Midnapore ...	1,579,400	1,637,000	1,648,000	110	60	Second week of November. Early.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to decrease in jute cultivation. Want of rainfall has retarded the growth of the crop. Drought has caused damage to the extent of about 40 per cent. Hence the low outturn.
Hooghly ...	276,700	198,000	196,000	100	59	Not yet commenced	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to want of rainfall at sowing time. Weather has been very unfavourable. Extensive damage was done to the crops by drought.
Howrah ...	125,200	119,300	114,400	87	67	Ditto ...	Weather has not been favourable. No rain fell since the submission of the first forecast. Considerable damage has been caused by drought.
Rajshahi ...	697,000	562,600	620,000	80	57	Ditto ...	The floods at the end of August and drought in October have caused considerable damage.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	749,800	1,019,100	80	63	Ditto ...	The decrease in area as compared with the first forecast is due to the high floods and insufficient rain afterwards. The growth of the crop has been unsatisfactory on account of drought in the latter part of September and during October.
Jalpaiguri ...	551,300	484,000	497,400	100	95	Harvesting not yet commenced.	Weather has been favourable, but unequal distribution of rainfall has caused the outturn to fall somewhat below the normal.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	26,100	25,900	100	83	November. Normal.	The effects of the weather on the crop are fair. The outturn will fall below the normal owing to insufficiency of rain.
Rangpur ...	822,300	585,000	674,000	80	77	End of November. Normal.	Owing to the low price of jute last year and the favourable weather continuing at the sowing time there has been an increase in the area. The weather was generally favourable at the sowing time, but the crop has been damaged by flood slightly. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal owing to flood in July and August and also to drought in October and November 1918.
Bogra ...	303,000	440,500	450,000	80	50	Not yet commenced	There was continued absence of rain after the first part of September. In some parts of the district there was slight rainfall in October, but there was no rain in other parts. A considerable portion of what remained of the crop after damage by flood is withering on account of the drought. Hence the low percentage of estimated outturn.

Patna ...	366,000	803,700	620,000	100	60	15th November. Normal.	There was continuous drought since the submission of the first forecast which injuriously affected the growth of the crop. About 19½ per cent. of the crop was destroyed by the flood in September and 27½ per cent. by the drought in October.
Malda ...	336,300	320,000	300,700	110	67	Latter part of November. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to want of rain at the time of sowing and transplantation. The weather was favourable till September. From October there has been very little rain which seriously interfered with the growth of the crop. In fact paddy has withered in places for want of rain. About half the crop is estimated to be damaged by drought.
Dacca ...	647,900	645,000	649,000	110	93	Beginning of November. Normal.	Weather has been favourable, but want of rain in October stunted the growth of the transplanted winter paddy. High flood caused slight damage to the broadcast variety.
Mymensingh ...	1,123,700	969,700	969,700	100	80	Not yet commenced.	The effects of the weather on the crop was fair. About 30 per cent. damage was reported by the Subdivisional Officer, Kishoreganj, and slight damage is reported from the Netrakona subdivision.
Faridpur ...	770,100	787,900	740,000	100	87	End of October. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to increase in the jute and sugarcane cultivation. The weather has been favourable, but some damage has been done by heavy rain.
Bakarganj ...	1,900,000	1,267,000	1,340,000	105	120	General harvesting not yet commenced. Harvesting of early varieties commenced in November Normal.	The increase in area over that of last year is due to reclamation of some land in the Sundarban areas. The outturn is expected to exceed the normal. The favourable condition of the crop is due to favourable weather at the time of transplanting and plentiful rain later up to the middle of October. Rain was, however, wanted in the early part of November.
Chittagong ...	418,400	436,100	436,100	100	100	End of November. Normal.	The floods in October have damaged the crops to some extent in Hathazari and Fatickchari thanas. The conditions are favourable in other parts of the district.
Tippera ...	724,900	780,000	780,000	100	60	Harvesting not yet generally commenced.	The weather has been unfavourable for want of timely rain. Floods have considerably damaged the broadcast paddy and insufficient rain has been harmful to the transplanted crop. About 40 per cent. has been damaged by floods, insects and insufficient rain.
Noakhali ...	610,000	600,000	600,000	100	100	November. Normal	The rains in October proved very favourable to the crop, especially to the transplanted paddy, though a slight damage was done in some parts of Feni by floods. Nevertheless a normal outturn is expected.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,500	43,000	41,800	75	56	Not yet commenced	The weather has not been favourable. A considerable damage was also done by floods.
Total Bengal	16,663,500	15,515,500	15,962,100	100	77
